ALL VITAMINS ARE NOT ALIKE!

1. Are Vitamin Products guaranteed by the Government?
No. The Government does have regulations concerning all food, drug, and cosmetic products, including vitamin products, but the Government does not guarantee any vitamin product.

2. Are all Vitamin Products of the same quality?
No. Quality is dependent on purity of ingredients, manufacturing skill, and continuous control testing and vitamin assays from raw materials through every stage of manufacture to the finished product. Your assurance of quality is "the honor and integrity of the maker."

3. Does the Government check vitamins?
Yes. Government inspectors check vitamins and other health products. In 1958, according to a summary of trade press reports, over 1/3 of the F.D.A. seizures of health products were of vitamins or "food supplements." These were seized for (a) mislabeling, (b) low potency, (c) false claims, or (d) contamination.

4. Does the Government check all vitamins?
No... obviously that is impossible. You cannot expect the Government to open up every package of vitamins sent through the mail, to check every vitamin sold door-to-door, or to open up and test all vitamin packages in stores.

5. Are all vitamins uniformly stable?
No. Some are acid, some alkaline. When combined in formulas, certain vitamins destroy others, unless the manufacturer has the experience and high degree of skill necessary to properly separate these vitamins, or minerals, and protect them one from the other.

6. Doesn't the Government control or certify vitamin formulas?
No. The Government does not specify ingredients in the formula which is so important to the person who takes the preparation.

7. Are all vitamin products U.S.P.?
No. Some individual vitamins and only one vitamin combination are U.S.P., but not all. Again, your best assurance that you get the vitamins you pay for is the reliability and high standards of the manufacturer.

8. Does a long list of ingredients increase the value of a vitamin product?
No. Some formulas on the market list as many as 43 ingredients including hay. In many cases, more than half of such ingredients have no established value in human nutrition.

9. Are Cheap vitamins really bargains?

We cannot recommend such products. May we suggest before you take a chance with your money... or your health, you get the answers to these questions: What do you know about the reliability of the manufacturer? Is the formula medically approved? Does the formula have enough of the essential and more expensive vitamins, or is it loaded with cheap non-essential ingredients? Would your doctor prescribe it?

10. What is the best guarantee on a vitamin product?

The name on the label. You cannot get a better guarantee than the name of a company who makes the drugs your doctor prescribes for your family. The reliability and reputation of such a company has been established on the dependability of its products.
