

FINED IN COURT
Gene Parker, 41, Beatty, paid in district court Friday two traffic fines that resulted from an accident on Bly Mountain June 3 from which two persons were injured. Parker was fined $25 for failing to drive on the right side of the highway and $20 for having no driver's license. He pleaded guilty to each charge.

BOBBY DARIN

'Pop' Singer, 6-Piece Band Here Monday

Bobby Darin, a young singer of the Sinatra-Dean Martin school, will perform in the Klamath Falls Auditorium Monday, July 13. His six-piece band will also be on hand, and there will be dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Darin's recording of "Dream Lover" is currently rated third most popular in the nation.

He sings a good deal, but not completely, in the rock 'n' roll idiom. Besides singing, he composes, and has written songs for such artists as Eddy Arnold, LaVern Baker, Gene Vincent and others.

"Peck-a-chek," "Splish Splash," and "Love Me Right" are some tunes he has written. He has also appeared on television, at night clubs and in theaters. That, according to his agents, is an indication that he appeals to adults as well as teen-agers.

Before and since his graduation from high school in New York, Darin learned to play piano, drums, guitar, vibraphone and bass. He is taking dramatic and dancing lessons to prepare for work in movies and television.

He appeared three weeks ago on the Ed Sullivan show, and has performed on many other television shows including Dick Clark's and Bob Crosby's.

Public Relations Authority Hired

PORTLAND (AP) — The Oregon Centennial Commission management commission has hired Jack Matlack, a Portland public relations man, to try and increase attendance at the exposition.

Matlack, was given a six-week contract at $250 a week and a $10,000 budget to increase the crowds.

them now—not a generation or so hence.

The second is utterly reckless finance and OUGHT TO BE OUT. Recklessness of that sort is the last step before national bankruptcy.

The third is the reasonable, SENSIBLE way proposed by Senator Neuberger in his amendment to the 1959 revenue bill, which was defeated in the senate.

Which way will be chosen? It's hard to say.

Putting it on the cuff seems to have a lot of political appeal. Just why, one wouldn't know. Everybody knows that if he throws fiscal wisdom and caution to the winds in his own personal affairs the result will be bankruptcy. Why is it that so many people—especially politicians—persist in claiming that it is different in the case of governments?

Anyway—

Let's give thanks to Senator Neuberger for his words of fiscal wisdom spoken into the prevailing Babel of "put it on the cuff and trust to luck and the future to pay for it" nonsense that is being peddled in these days.

He is displaying signs that he is leaning toward the role of STATESMAN rather than the role of politician.

Car Hits Deer; Three Hurt

Three persons were hospitalized Saturday after the 1959 hardtop automobile in which they were riding struck a four-point buck deer on U.S. 97 near Kirk Junction.

State police said the car skidded 303 feet out of control before rolling end over end and coming to a stop upside down. The huge deer was found 189 feet from where it had been hit.

Despite the tremendous impact, only one person was believed seriously injured. She was identified as Mrs. Sylvia Hasting, 107 Vincent Street, Eugene. She sustained fractured vertebrae and broken ribs.

Hospitalized for observation, but believed not injured seriously, were Edwin Franklin Thompson, 82, Trull, B.C., and Mrs. Achsa Lucille Thompson, 53, 2220 E. Street, Springfield.

The driver, Thomas Franklin Thompson, 50, Springfield address, was treated and released at the hospital. Police said he was staying at the Valley Hotel.

SECRETARY OF STATE and Mrs. Howell Appling Jr. check in preparatory to Appling's address at the Klamath County Republican Picnic in Malin Park at 1:30 today. Accepting their registration is Winema Hotel Manager Harold Hulst.

Service Tour Opened State To Appling

Howell Appling, Oregon secretary of state who will deliver the keynote address at a Republican picnic in Malin Park today, has a wide range of experience as a businessman, a serviceman and a member of the labor force.

While attending Rice Institute, Texas, Appling worked as a dishwasher, welder, construction gang laborer, boilermaker helper and as an undergraduate manager of athletics. He was graduated with an engineering degree in 1941, and studied industrial management as a graduate student at Texas A & M College in 1942.

He says he fell in love with Oregon when he was stationed in the Northwest as a planning officer for the Navy.

He and a partner founded a wholesale farm equipment business in Portland with mustering-out pay he received from the Navy. The business grosses more than $3 million dollars annually.

Appling and his wife, Jane Elizabeth, have three daughters and a son ranging from 3 to 14 years of age.

He is a director of the National Farm Equipment Wholesalers Association, the Portland Implement Tractor Association, a member of Associated Oregon Industries and the Portland Chamber of Commerce, a past member of the Pal Club board of directors and of the Multnomah County Hatfield for Governor Committee.

WATER USAGE

Restrictions on the use of water imposed Friday were not in effect today, the Oregon Water Corporation said. The cuts were for Friday and Friday night only, the company said.

Funerals BROWN

GRANTS PASS — Funeral services were held recently for Ada F. Brown, 88, at the Laurel Cemetery, Cave Junction, with Hull and Hull Funeral Home in charge of the arrangements. She is survived by five nephews, Victor C., Eugene R. and Virgil C., all of O'Brien; Harry Brown, Lodi and Ralph, Van Nuys and a niece, Winnie Blegen, Van Nuys. Mrs. Brown was born in 1870 in Harding County, Iowa, and taught school for many years in Minnesota. She made her home in Klamath Falls with her nephew, Victor, from 1947 to 1958, and accompanied the family to O'Brien in 1958.

Pilots Take New Name

Members of the Klamath Falls Chapter of the Oregon Pilot's Association are advised that the new name for the organization is officially OPA, announced President Bud Cloaco today.

He also mentioned some dates for the Klamath pilots to remember. Sunday, July 12, there will be two fly-ins. One at Waldport, which is the "Beachcombers Festival," and the other, the annual Multino Chapter's chicken dinner.

Sunday, July 13, will begin the first state sponsored air tour. Lunch will be at Corvallis at 12 p.m., followed by an afternoon flight to Medford for a meeting and banquet with the new Medford Chapter. There will also be the drawing for the jackpot. Breakfast the next morning will be in Roseburg.

For hotel or motel reservations contact the president, vice president or secretary. Also, let them know if there is room for other members in any of the participating planes.

This fly-in will take the place of the July meeting. The August meeting will be a picnic at the Lake of the Woods strip on Sunday, August 2.

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict

A circuit court jury found Raymond Floyd Thompson guilty of larceny Friday after more than six hours of deliberation.

The 11-1 verdict was presented to Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg by Jury Foreman Arthur Siles of Klamath Falls at 8:25 p.m. Friday. The jury received the case at 2:10 that afternoon, following a luncheon recess.

Thompson, 35, was found guilty of stealing $190 from Bryant Martindale after Martindale's home burned to the ground last May 7. He admitted, during the three-day trial, that he had found Martindale's smoldering wallet in the ashes of his home. But he maintained that he planned to return the money.

An unusual development during the trial was the state's admission of a tape-recorded confession which was played before judge and jury. It was the first time a tape recording had been admitted into evidence.

The state was represented by Deputy District Attorney Philip Engelgau; Thompson by Attorney Robert Kerr, appointed by the court. The trial was the first heard by the new June-term jury.

Judge Vandenberg set 10 a.m. Tuesday for Thompson's sentencing.

Sorghum grain is said to have originated in Africa and the seeds brought to America by the slave ships.

CAVALRY charges in a Civil War scene will be simulated when Bill McGaw's "Cavalcade" appears Tuesday evening in the Klamath Speedway.

20 Centuries Of Thrills Represented By Cavalcade

Bill McGaw, who is bringing his variety and thrill show to the Klamath Speedway at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday from Los Angeles, says the "Cavalcade" covers 20 centuries of man's most thrilling exploits.

Twenty-eight stuntmen and women will perform such acts as a jousting tourney between two knights, a chariot race, a Civil War charge, an Indian attack, the Battle at the O.K. Corral.

The acts will include falling hoops and men, gun fights, hangings and a daredevil car and motorcycle act.

Ken Maynard, a movie cowboy star, will perform a trick shooting and roping demonstration. Used in the show will be a portable movie set containing a post office, an overland stage office, a corral, a blacksmith shop, three stores, a bank, a land office, a harness shop, a sheriff's and marshal's office, a saloon and cafe.

Director Urges Clean Camps

MOUNT SHASTA — William E. Warne, director of the California Department of Fish and Game, has asked that all agencies for conservation cooperate to maintain clean campsites during deer hunting season and all subsequent hunting and fishing activities.

The Mount Shasta Rod and Gun Club has been a long-time supporter of the practice and has been responsible for placing trash containers at campsites in this area.

It is believed by the club that cleanliness more than anything will help open private lands to sports activities.
