Legal Chief Urges Expose Of Television Quiz Shows

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan urged a court Monday to make public a grand jury presentation exposing "a national fraud" in the operation of television quiz shows.

"The public has a right to know the extent to which it has been duped and cheated . . . there can be little doubt that the national resentment would lead to legislation and regulation designed to prevent a recurrence or continuation of such fraud," Hogan said.

He said the document also would be valuable to "television itself" by presenting "facts enabling it to clean its own house."

Hogan's argument was made in a 20-page brief presented to General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer, who impounded the presentation last month after the attorneys for producers of several quiz shows no longer on the air objected to it.

Schweitzer had asked the district attorney to present arguments, and said he would make a ruling in August.

Hogan said it could be assumed the presentation exposes "a national fraud whereby television quiz shows have been consistently misrepresented to millions of citizens as honest tests of the contestants' knowledge and skill."

He said the "gigantic fraud and hoax" involved "a regular practice of informing 'contestants' whose lengthy presence on the show is deemed profitable, of the questions to be asked and, frequently, of providing the correct answers as well."

"Misrepresentation of the entertainment offered is morally if not legally larceny by false pretenses and constitutes a fraud."

He said the grand jury deemed the operation of the programs "a large scale evil" and had asked that copies of its report be sent to "certain official agencies, the functions of which are relevant to the conditions discovered."

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Southern Oregon woods are dry or dryer than they have been at any time in recent years! A small fire could spread to millions of acres. Not only is the open flame dangerous, but sun reflecting from or thru a carelessly discarded tin can or bottle could cause a fire that would cost thousands of jobs . . . and dollars. Please be careful in the woods!

- Break your matches!
- Use your ash tray!
- Drown your campfire!
- Don't be a litterbug!
