The Willamette Valley Southern Oregon Golf Association was organized just 10 years ago with the first play held in Eugene and the second in Klamath Falls. Laurelwood Country Club of Eugene is now a member along with the original clubs which include Bend Country Club, Coos Bay Country Club, Corvallis Country Club, Eugene Country Club, Grants Pass Country Club, Reames Country Club, Rogue Valley Country Club of Medford, and Roseburg Country Club.

Tee off time was 7:30 for the 100 women players representing these clubs in the 40th tournament of handicap sweepstakes play. Leah Maskell was tournament chairman for the day.

JUST FINISHED with 18 holes of good golf are Mildred Merryman of Klamath Falls, left, and Grace Reymers, Medford. Mrs. Reymers, at one time champion player at Reames, received low gross score in the championship flight.

LUSTER NERSETH also has held the championship at Reames and in this play held first place in low net division of the championship flight. Mrs. Nerseeth was the first secretary of WVSO when it was organized.

WINNERS in the class A division at the WVSO play congratulate one another. Mrs. Tom Culbertson, left, received low net score and Mrs. Tom Teutsch had low gross. Both are from Medford.

MRS. WILLIAM CLARK of Medford tees off No. 3 tee on her second round. Waiting their turns are Mrs. Charles Braden of Grants Pass, center, and Vi Zamsky of Reames.

Arrangements for the table were made by Ethel Robinson with contributions and help from many club and board members.

WAITING to tee off on their second round of play are Ruby Calderwood of Eugene Country Club, left, and the present champion of Reames, Donna Sproat.

THE COOL WATER of Reames pool was welcomed by many women players, hot and tired after their golf rounds. This group of non-players were among many who were present to enjoy the spectator events of the day. From left to right, Wilma Wiley, Mrs. G. H. Offerman of Sacramento,

Michelle Foulon, Marlys O'Neill, Mrs. Fred Foulon and Randy Foulon.

Following the day's play a buffet luncheon, catered by the Chuck Wagon, was served by club members under chairman, Veda Schneck.
