Those passing the home of Mrs. A. A. Solie on Lakeshore Drive were impressed by her lovely foxglove.

Following the tour the members met at Moore Park for a sack lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Matthews are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of H. N. Cory of Eugene.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely floor length gown of white imported Swiss organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and puffed sleeves and the full skirt was outlined with embroidered lace. A fingertip veil was held in place by a shell headpiece covered with pleated organza medallions centered with satin and pearl flowers. She carried a white orchid arranged in rosebuds and Stephanotis.

William Showalter of Seattle served as best man. Guests were seated by Bob Micelli, Corvallis, and Ron Cory, the bridegroom's brother from Eugene.

Traditional wedding marches were played at the organ by Cora Enman.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. Mrs. Matthews wore a sheath dress of embroidered ice blue Irish linen with white accessories and corsage of pink roses as she greeted her daughter's wedding guests.

The bride's table holding the wedding cake was appointed by Jane Henzel. The cake was cut and served by Ruth Larson of Klamath Falls and Nancy Kloker of Portland.

Lydia Telrick presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Jackie Matthews, sister-in-law of the bride from Redwood City, passed the guest book.

After the bride changed to a peacock blue shantung two-piece ensemble with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Lake Louise and Banff. The couple will make their home in Denver where he is stationed as a lieutenant with the Air Force at Lowry Air Force Base.

The new Mrs. Cory is a native of Klamath Falls and was graduated from Klamath Union High School and Oregon State College. She was a member of Chi Omega social sorority and Phi Gamma Phi, national honor society. Her husband received his degree in forestry engineering from Oregon State College and was also a member of Phi Gamma Phi.

Another pre-nuptial event was a miscellaneous shower given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. P. Matthews Mrs. R. C. Brolier and Mary Johnson on June 18.

WHITE UMBRELLA

A white umbrella for summer is a sound investment when you have covers made for it in several colors to match various dresses. Many department stores perform this service.

FOR TINY TOTS

Youngsters tire rapidly of their playthings. For fickle tiny tots, turn their play table into a versatile blackboard. Cover the table with a sheet of blackboard material or blackboard paint which comes in black or green. Then they can write or draw to their hearts' content, erase the work and start again.
