Trade Plan Meet Held

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Ministers of seven European nations gathered here today to put final touches to a plan for Western Europe's second free trade zone.

Fifteen ministers and about 100 experts and specialists from Austria, Britain, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden and Switzerland assembled in a big white resort hotel to consider a 24-page plan worked out by experts from the participating nations, known as the "Outer Seven."

The plan's purpose is to remove trade barriers to catch up with the six-nation Common Market of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg.

This group, known as the "Inner Six," is creating a tight economic community under leadership of France and West Germany.

Derick Heathcoat-Armory, British chancellor of the exchequer who heads his nation's delegation, said the "Outer Seven" was in no sense a rival or retaliatory scheme to the Common Market. Swedish officials said the ultimate purpose is still to bring all 17 member countries of the Organization of European Economic Co-operation-OEEC—into one large free trade area.

U. S. BOOKS BANNED

Paper Claims Yank Defects

MOSCOW (AP)—A former U.S. Air Force officer has quit the United States with his wife and three children to seek citizenship in the Soviet Union, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia announced.

Izvestia published a statement credited to Libero Ricciardelli, 42, a native of Needham, Mass., identified as a World War II Air Force major. He had been living in Florida since the war, the newspaper said.

Having failed to build up a business in the United States, the statement said, Ricciardelli thought there was a greater future for him in the U.S.S.R. and decided to move his family to the Soviet Union and seek Soviet citizenship.

"The only freedom is in the U.S.S.R.," the statement said. Izvestia said one reason for his decision was that he would get free college education for his daughter and two sons in the Soviet Union.

"Under capitalism there is no future either for my children or my entire family," Ricciardelli was quoted as saying, adding that he is not a Communist.

The U.S. Embassy here said it had no information on Ricciardelli.

In Needham, Ricciardelli's father, Augustus, 66, said the report was a complete surprise and termed it "a lot of Communist propaganda."

He said he had not heard from his son in more than six months and that he was living in Palm Beach.

National Committee Chief May Weather New Storm

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Paul M. Butler, who has weathered many storms in five years as chairman of the Democratic National Committee, appears to be riding out another one.

He is still under fire, however, from Democrats in Congress because of his criticism in a television interview two weeks ago of the party's congressional course of the party's congressional leaders. And he again is under attack from southern Democrats who long have resented his aggressive statements on civil rights.

With an assist from the Democratic Advisory Council, which he created, Butler has been prodding Democrats in the House and Senate for several weeks to take a more belligerent stance toward the administration and to let vetoes fall where they may.

The more critical tone in his July 5 TV interview caused a flareback from Congress and other elements of the party, including some National Committee members who called for his resignation.

Scott W. Lucas, former Democratic leader of the Senate, issued a statement Sunday night saying that Butler's action "is cause for alarm and imperils our chances for victory."

Butler reported, however, that the public response as indicated by mail to party headquarters was running heavily in his favor. He also said most of the National Committee members from whom he had heard were behind him.

He contended Sunday night his views should carry some weight with Democratic legislators in the absence of a Democrat in the White House. He said his complaints should not create party disunity because "none of the people in public office should feel they are above criticism."

Butler has mustered some support from Congress, including Sens. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) and William Proxmire (D-Wis.), Carmine G. De Sapio, New York national committeeman not viewed as a Butler ally, and clear last week that he was backing the chairman.

Butler got some qualified support from Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.). He said in a TV interview Sunday that the party's big problem is "to try to bring the congressional leadership, including our friends from the South, back closer to the national Democratic Party before the convention next year."

For the 12th consecutive year, Sears, Roebuck and Company last year invested a record-breaking number of dollars in newspaper advertising space, Chuck Burman, local Sears store manager, announced today.

The company's 1958 retail store newspaper advertising expenditure of $48,650,000 exceeded the 1957 total of $46,472,000 by more than $2,000,000, Burman noted.

More than 950 daily and weekly newspapers shared in the 1958 expenditure which represented 77.8 per cent of the company's total local retail advertising budget.

Total retail media expense of $62,541,000 also was a record high, an increase of 5.2 per cent over 1957 expenditures of $59,510,000.

Miscellaneous advertising including radio and television, circulars, and direct mail, accounted for the remaining $13,931,000 of Sears total retail media expense.

In 1958, Sears had retail and mail-order net sales of $3,721,272,080, the largest in the firm's 72-year history. The company operated 728 stores in this country as of January 31, 1959, the close of its fiscal year.

Aide To FDR Dead At 84

WASHINGTON (AP) — Admiral of the Fleet William Daniel Leahy, wartime chief of staff to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died today.

The veteran naval officer, diplomat and senior adviser to the White House was 84.

The Navy said death resulted from a "cerebral vascular accident," the usual medical term for a stroke. Death occurred in Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital.

Leahy, who was the senior five-star officer elevated to that rank during World War II, was a native of Hampton, Iowa.

During a career which began in 1897, the year of his graduation from the Naval Academy, he served in four wars starting with the Spanish-American War. His next fighting assignments were during the Philippine Insurrection and in the Boxer uprising in China.

Leahy reached the peak of his service in the Navy in 1937 when he was appointed chief of naval operations.

After his retirement two years later he served successively as Governor of Puerto Rico and as

SP Granted Coach Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized 10 railroads to increase their interstate coach fares by 5 per cent on selected routes in the West.

The ICC said the increases now may be made on one day's notice.

The authorization applies to both one-way and round-trip fares.

The commission said increased fares will apply only to points served by the 10 western railroads where competition is not keen.

Generally speaking, no increases will be made on through travel between Kansas City and Chicago, Los Angeles and Kansas City and Fort Worth and Houston.

The railroads said that they had suffered substantial losses in the past few years on western runs. The commission said the boosts will yield an increase in revenue to which these railroads are "justly entitled."

The railroads affected are the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Rock Island, St. Louis Southwestern, Illinois Central, Missouri-Kansas-Texas, Northwestern Pacific, Western Pacific, the San Diego & Arizona Eastern, and the Texas-New Orleans.

Applications Sent Early

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Several hundred would-be passengers already have submitted applications for tickets to travel on the first American nuclear-powered merchant ship, the NS Savannah.

The applications, however, are a little early. The Savannah today is poised on the ways at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Corp., about 60 to 70 per cent complete. She is scheduled for launching Tuesday, for her first trial runs in 1960, and her maiden voyage perhaps a year after that.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will crack the traditional bottle of champagne across the knife-sharp prow of the ship at the launching Tuesday.

The Savannah is intended primarily as a demonstration by the United States of the peaceful use of atomic energy—also as an experimental, prototype vessel.

No one contends this first merchant ship, powered by nuclear fission, can compete economically against oil-powered vessels.

Hoods Gun Jury Witness

CHICAGO (AP)—A beer distributor indicted two months ago by a federal grand jury lay near death today after being gunned down in what police described as a bobbied attempt at a gangland-style assassination.

Victim of the attack Sunday by two gunmen, their faces blackened in disguise, was Joseph Bronge, 50, of suburban Melrose Park. He is the only person indicted to date by a special grand jury which has been seeking possible links between organized crime and beer distribution.

Police Chief Marvin Giles of Melrose Park called the shooting a "professional job, badly bungled."

Giles said witnesses reported the assailants wounded Bronge in the head in front of his suburban office. Bleeding heavily, he fled to the rear of an apartment building where a gate blocked his path.

Bronge fumbled with the latch, witnesses said, fell face down in the grass, and the gunmen pumped a second volley of 45 caliber slugs into his head. The pair fled to a waiting auto driven by a third man.

ROME (UPI)—Dr. Milko Skofic, Yugoslav husband of Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida, today denied reports they intended to separate.

Skofic said his wife was exhausted after a year of almost uninterrupted film making but that talk of marital troubles was only idle chatter.

He said she walked out of a role in a new picture because she "absolutely needs rest" and not because the role called for her to shave her head.
