Roberta Matthews Bride In July Church Ceremony

Roberta Matthews became the bride of Wallace Cory of Denver in a 4 o'clock ceremony on July 4 at the First Methodist Church. White gladioli and blue Esther Reid daisies with lighted tapers provided the background for the nuptial service performed by the Rev. S. Dallas McNeil in the presence of 85 relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Matthews are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of H. N. Cory of Eugene.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely floor length gown of white imported Swiss organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and puffed sleeves and the full skirt was outlined with embroidered lace. A fingertip veil was held in place by a shell headpiece covered with pleated organza medallions, centered with satin and pearl flowers. She carried a white orchid arranged in rosebuds and Stephanotis.

Mary Johnson of this city was maid of honor. Two Chi Omega sorority sisters, Marian Buckman of Chico, and Christine Spindt of Los Gatos, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore identical frocks of ice blue dotted Swiss over blue taffeta and carried bouquets of blue daisies and white carnations.

William Showalter of Seattle served as best man. Guests were seated by Bob Micelli, Corvallis, and Ron Cory, the bridegroom's brother from Eugene.

Traditional wedding marches were played at the organ by Cora Enman.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Matthews wore a sheath dress of embroidered ice blue Irish linen with white accessories and corsage of pink roses as she greeted her daughter's wedding guests.

The bride's table holding the wedding cake was appointed by Jane Henzel. The cake was cut and served by Ruth Larson of Klamath Falls and Nancy Kloker of Portland. Lydia Tetrick presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Jackie Matthews, sister-in-law of the bride from Redwood City, passed the guest book.

After the bride changed to a peacock blue shantung two piece ensemble with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Lake Louise and Banff. The couple will make their home in Denver, Colorado, where he is stationed as a lieutenant with the Air Force at Lowry Air Force Base.

The new Mrs. Cory is a native of Klamath Falls and was graduated from Klamath Union High School and Oregon State College. She was a member of Chi Omega social sorority and Phi Gamma Phi, national honor society. Her husband received his degree in forestry engineering from Oregon State College and was also a member of Phi Gamma Phi.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. C. K. Price, Linda Nixon, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Micelli, all of

Collier Park Chosen For Picnic

Klamath County Historical Society has chosen Collier Park as the site for the Centennial picnic which will be held on August 2 at 2 o'clock.

Those attending are asked to bring their lunch and table service. Coffee will be served by the group.

As a feature of the afternoon, Alfred Collier will tell the history of the logging equipment in the park.

An invitation is extended to everyone to attend this affair. Those having Centennial costumes are requested to wear them.

Mary Ann Bryan Weds Clyde William Gauger

In a double ring ceremony at the Assembly of God Church on July 14, Mary Ann Bryan became the bride of Clyde William Gauger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gauger of Washburn, Wisconsin. The altar was flanked by beauty baskets of pink and white gladioli and tall candelabra for the service which was read by the Rev. Silas Jones in the presence of 90 guests.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac I. Bryan, was given in marriage by her father. Her floor length gown of lace and net over satin featured a princess style bodice with high neckline. A fingertip bolero was fastened with three pearl buttons. The skirt extended into a full pleated train. A small feather trimmed hat held a fingertip veil and she carried white gladioli and red rosebuds.

Louise Alvord, maid of honor, wore a pastel green taffeta street length dress. Bridesmaids Peggy Kellogg and Barbara Bryan, sister of the bride, were in dresses of pink taffeta. They carried bouquets of pink and white gladioli tied with pink ribbon streamers.

Marce Calas was flower girl and Ronnie Collins, ring bearer.

Charles Johnston was best man and ushers were Thomas F. McGuire, Leon Burchlund, Bobby Jones and Jerry Anderson.

Mrs. Pauline Hamblin accompanied the soloist, Walton Grey.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bryan wore a navy blue taffeta dress and Mrs. Gauger chose a pink dress. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

A five-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink and topped with a small bride and groom, was served to the guests at the reception in the church social room following the ceremony. Assisting were Joan Smith, Mrs. Silas Jones, Ruth Bush, Mrs. June Galloway and Mrs. Miria Bigbee.

The new Mrs. Gauger is a junior student at Klamath Union High School. Her husband was graduated from Washburn High School and is at present stationed at Kingsley Field.

Canton Crater

The Ladies Auxiliary of Canton Crater No. 7, Patriarchs Militant of Oregon, held its last meeting before summer recess on June 25, at the IOOF Hall with Helen McCormack, president, in charge.

Drill practice was postponed due to the absence of Francis Munsell, drill captain, but will be resumed as early as possible in September to prepare for the official visit of Lady Lila Homes, president of the Oregon Association of Ladies Auxiliaries on October 22. Plans were further discussed for the reception of Francis Munsell, state vice president, Vera Fritsch, chaplain, and Iona May Wells, left aide to the vice president, to be held tentatively in September.

Margaret Biden was installed as musician, by installing officer Iona May Wells, and Vera Fritsch, as adjutant. A drawing on the pillowcase and sheet project was awarded the lucky winner, Louise O'Brien.

Members were reminded of the first meeting in the fall which will be a potluck on the evening of September 10 in the IOOF Hall. After the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room decorated with summer flowers by Isabell Foster, Kate Hogue and Helen McCormack.

The previous meeting in June was held June 11, with drill practice and business on the agenda. The president read a short skit, "Mama was a Lady," as entertainment. Refreshments were served by Vera Fritsch and Iona May Wells with all members enjoying the social hour held in the dining hall.

All members are invited to the Odd Fellow picnic to be held by all groups of the order on Sunday, July 26, at the Malin park. Each family is to furnish its own picnic lunch. Coffee and ice cream will be donated by the groups.

Planning Is Key To Travel Fun

NEW YORK (NEA)—This summer, you'll be able to pack a vacation wardrobe that will permit you to have loads of fun and no work.

Fabrics improve so much with each passing season that you can leave the travel iron at home if you're so inclined. Beyond washing out nylon lingerie and stockings, your time will be spent, as it should be, enjoying yourself.

Best thing to do before you start out, however, is to find out exactly what clothes you will need for your vacation. If you're going to a resort, write and ask if you're expected to dress for dinner. If the seaside is your spot, pack at least three swimsuits for a change-off.

Facets Of Campus Life To Feature OSC Affair

Beaver Invitation To Education, this fall.

Robert P. Knoll, director of Oregon State students and alumni relations at Oregon State College, will be present to give detailed information on the various schools of education at OSC.

The program to be presented by OSC students will include a color movie of Oregon State College campus life and a style show of collegiate clothes from the Town Shop and Drows Manstore.

Sue Thompson and Dick Seidenman will act as commentators and will also give helpful suggestions to those planning to enter college.

GOOD HEALTH HABITS

Good health habits may not be the gang's way but for bright eyes, hair and skin and a lot of pep, take care of yourself. Complexion problems plague most teen-agers. Many irritate the situation by ignoring daily use of soap and water. They also stuff themselves with gooey desserts and not enough fresh fruits and vegetables.

New Fall Costumes Demand Pretty Hats

The costume look which makes a fashion news for fall makes a pretty hat an essential part of every outfit. Famous milliners highlight well-groomed femininity with soft, simple silhouettes in magnificent furs and fabrics for day and tiny, frivolous little knickknacks for evening.

Sleek derbies, homburgs and fedoras are borrowed from the boys to complement fur-laden greatcoats and belted, long-jacket suits. But these mannish shapes are sissyfied with luxurious long-napped felts, exotic furs and flat-tering velvets. Sometimes they are trimmed with feathers and jewels. Frequently, they are swathed in silken veils.

High-crowned cloches and Garbo-like swaggers hats reflect the early 30's influence seen in feminine coats and suits lavishly trimmed with fluffy foxes. But their tall crowns are gently shaped and their brims curve softly about the face. Dramatic in line, rich in texture and jewel-like in color, these hats are seldom trimmed with anything more than a simple ribbon band.

In the evening, ensembled with opulent brocade costumes, slinky bias-cut crepes and satins or sweeping, be-furred evening coats, a miniature evening hat becomes an exclamation point that highlights the coiffure. It may be a little pillbox of satin, velvet or brocade, trimmed with a spray of delicate aigrette-type plumage. It may be an intricately entwined concoction of gold bullion and jewels or palest mink. Or you may choose an evening hat of jeweled veiling, blocked in an airy bouffant curve over your hair.
