

New Era Promised By Bell Sendoff Planned For Little Leaguers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fans have been promised a new era in sports: More major leagues for both football and baseball, bringing the pros to almost every section of the country.

Football was added to the promise Tuesday when Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League reported that a rival league planned to start operations next year in six cities.

"The more teams and the more competition the better," Bell said.

Just the day before, a group in New York had announced that a new major baseball league was planned to be in business by 1961.

Bell gave out word about the new football league while testifying before the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee. He spoke in favor of legislation that would exempt most aspects of professional football, baseball, basketball and hockey from the antitrust laws.

The committee hears Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, on the same matter today.

Only skimpy details about the new league were revealed by Bell, who said he planned to meet today with three financial backers. The meeting would be either in Philadelphia or Atlantic City, Bell said.

The commissioner, talking to newsmen after the hearings, said Houston, Denver and Minneapolis surely would have teams in the league. He added that Dallas, New York and Los Angeles were almost certain starters.

The Klamath Falls Little League All-Stars, the sub-district 3 entrants in the district playoffs scheduled for Portland and Saturday Field Friday and Saturday will leave Klamath Falls at 7:30 a.m. Thursday. Their place of departure is the Klamath Falls City Hall.

It is hoped that a large group of Klamath baseball fans will turn out to give the youngsters a proper sendoff.

The venture, which includes a semifinale berth in games slated for 5:30 p.m. Friday at Fairview, and a possible district championship slot on Saturday, is the first for a Klamath Falls area Little League team.

The end of the 1959 regular league season on the local front qualified the KF Stars for the right to enter competition on the national tournament level.

National Association rules prevent any league from competing on the national level until they have completed two seasons as members of the parent organization. The KF Little League, Inc. from which this team of All-Stars was selected became eligible this season. The South Suburban Little League which has yet to complete its first season as members will be able to enter the district competition at the close of the next season.

This year, district eligibles also included Bend and Lakeview. Bend decided not to compete this year and Lakeview was eliminated in sub-district play last weekend.

The KF stars, led by B. M. Antle, Veryl Young and Bob Moore, manager and coaches, include 16 11 and 12-year-olds who were selected for the team off their performances during the regular season while competing on their respective teams.

The team, which has been holding two practices daily since the close of regular season play, one at 7:30 a.m. and at 5:30 p.m. on the Mills Park diamond, will wrap up their training schedule today except for a light drill Friday morning in Portland.

Upon arriving in Portland Thursday afternoon the KF nine will appear on a TV program.

'Third League Silly'

BEL AIR, Md. (AP) — Larry MacPhail, the former baseball magnate who once advocated four major leagues, says the current plan to form a third one is "silly."

MacPhail, 69, who turned to raising race horses and cattle on his Maryland farm after retiring as New York Yankee president in 1947, gave a typically frank appraisal of the new league's prospects Tuesday night. He spoke up when asked about speculation that he would be president of the Continental League being formed by a group headed by New York lawyer William Shea.

Discounting such speculation, he expressed doubt that any such independently born league could attain real major league status.

"It's silly to try to do that, in my opinion."

Eighteen months ago MacPhail broke a 10-year silence on public statements about baseball to criticize the National League's approval of moving the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to the West Coast.

He said at that time he had favored working toward four major leagues as early as 1947 by letting the Pacific Coast League start on its way toward a third major league. His idea also called for the eventual merger of the American Assn. and International League into a fourth major circuit.

But two key cities of the old Pacific Coast League, Los Angeles and San Francisco, have since been absorbed by the National League.

"Now there are still eight or ten cities which deserve and could support major baseball and it seems to me the best way to give it to them would be by expanding the two existing leagues," said MacPhail.

MacPhail, who also served as general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers during his baseball heyday, emphasized that his remarks were intended only to point up the "terrific problems" faced by the Shea group.

"Where are they going to get the ballplayers? Where are they going to get the ballparks?" he asked.

"As for being president of a new league, the horses and cattle are enough to keep me busy right now."
