

Over the GARDEN DATE

Lois McKendree, director of the Klamath District of the Rogue Flower Show, speaking for all the member garden clubs, wishes to thank the following persons and firms for their gracious and untiring cooperation which made the Centennial Flower Show on August 1 and 2 a success:

For the outstanding exhibit of native trees, the Shasta Cascade Chapter of the Society of American Foresters, and in particular, their representatives Harry J. Marshall, the Modoc Lumber Company, the Puckett and Scherrey Department of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company, all of Klamath Falls; the Oregon State Board of Forestry and the USFS Klamath District Garden Club River National Forest which assembled the items used in the display.

To the Home Lumber Company and the Retail Sales Department of the Long-Bell Lumber Company of Klamath Falls for the finished wood samples used in the forestry display and the Crater Lake National Park Ranger Service that provided the identification cards for the various trees. The Klamath Forest Protective Association helped in the assembling of this display.

For other items used in the show the district is indebted to Bill and Rita's Flower Shop, Klamath Flower Shop, Lithia Nursery, Bussman's Seed Store, Albers Feed Store and Swan Lake Moulding Company.

Organizations, other than garden clubs, which contributed to the interest of the show were the Artificers Club, the Historical Society, the Art Association and the Klamath Museum. To the reporters and photographers of the local newspaper, the Herald and News, the Garden Club District owes a special vote of thanks for the excellent coverage we have received.
