House Mulls Labor Laws; Bitter Fight Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House headed today into its bitterest fight in a decade over the shape of new labor-management controls legislation.

Starting a week of wide open floor battling, the House called up three rival bills, all avowedly aimed at checking racketeering and abuse of power in the labor-management field. All are modifications—to varying degrees—of a bill passed by the Senate last April.

Firecracker Injures Lad

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—As David Vandyske, 13, rode his bicycle in East Denver Sunday night, someone threw an object from an automobile. It landed in a newspaper bag slung from the boy's handlebars.

"I could hear it sputtering," David said from his hospital bed Monday.

He reached for the object—"about the size of a large firecracker"—and tried to hurl it away, but it exploded.

The boy suffered brain concussion, lacerations and the loss of a finger. Physicians said David will recover.

Rockefeller, Girl Friend Plan Honeymoon

KRISTIANSAND, Norway (AP)—Steven Rockefeller and the Norwegian girl he marries Aug. 22 plan an extended honeymoon in the hills of Wyoming, friends here said today.

After their return to New York, Anne Marie Rasmussen Rockefeller will enroll at Columbia University to continue art studies she began at New York's Metropolitan Museum during the months Steven was courting her.

Steven has said he would go into "family business," training to play a role in the administration of one of the greatest fortunes in the world.

For the present the son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the one-time maid in the Rockefeller home kept their whereabouts a secret from the world.

Steven, Anne Marie, and her parents motored out of Rasmussen's home village of Sogne, near here for a week of privacy.

"The wedding was in the cards for a year and a half," said Andreas Hoelaa, 27-year-old architect who once studied at Columbia in New York. His father bought the old Rasmussen home, a 200-year-old beauty spot, and the two families have been close friends.

"We knew about the romance long before it hit the headlines," he said in an interview.

"Anne Marie told us she was secretly engaged but she asked us never to tell anyone of her ties to the Rockefeller family as she did not want any sensationalism to spoil it. Steven came here later. He wore blue jeans and rubber shoes and he climbed the steep cliff on our island like a goat. He has a direct, straightforward manner that is very charming and he never hid his joy at seeing Anne Marie in the beauty of her homeland."
