

Klamath Gun Club To Host Marksmen

Beginning Saturday morning at 10 o'clock the Klamath Gun Club will open its annual two-day summer PITA registered shoot.

The shoot, which will attract top gunners from all around the state will continue on Sunday.

Visitors, shooters or not, are invited. A snack bar will be in operation on the grounds.

The affair will kick off Saturday with a 100-bird 16-yard shoot followed by a special 40-bird "Back-er Upper" event.

In the afternoon action the Jim Morris Memorial 100-bird handicap will be run off.

Dr. Martin Adams, Vern Moore and Nelson, also known as the Three Pigeons, have collaborated in furnishing a "Three Pigeon Cup" for the high gun in Class B or under during Saturday morning action.

The winner of the cup, a perpetual Summer Shoot trophy, will keep it for a year after picking up the purse set up as the prize.

Sunday at 9:30 a.m. the 25 Pair Doubles event for both Class A and B shooters will open the activity.

Later in the morning there is slated a special Charles J. Martin memorial 100-bird handicap shoot. The Martin Memorial, a perpetual trophy, is a beautiful solid silver cup donated by Mrs. C. J. Martin.

Trophies are planned for High Over All on events 1, 2, 5 and 6 and High All Around on 1, 2, 4, 5 and 6. In addition a High Ladies' Trophy for events 5 and 6 combined with a Junior High planned for the same events.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Editor's Note: While the following guide poem is not necessarily a epic to better hunting this fall nor of any great assistance to the angler seeking a record catch this weekend, we thought it might be of some interest to outdoor enthusiasts.

We pass it along:

THE DUCK THAT WAS KNOWN AS STEW

A bunch of the ducks were whooping it up
In an old abandoned slough.
Mallards and redheads and canvasbacks—
A rugged and motley crew.

They were old and wise, these knights of the skies,
For the hunters' wails they knew,
And leading quack of this crafty pack
Was the duck that was known as Stew.

Beavers Trounce Roseburg

ROSEBURG, Ore. (AP)—Roseburg and Beaverton, each with a victory in the five-game Oregon American Legion junior baseball championship playoffs here, meet in a third game tonight.

Beaverton beat Roseburg 8-3 Wednesday night after taking a 17-4 drubbing from Roseburg the night before.

Superior control by Beaverton pitcher Ed Cottrill in the face of faltering action on the part of the Roseburg mound staff was the big difference.

Roseburg moved out front by two runs in the first inning, but managed only one more run in the seventh.

Meanwhile, Beaverton moved ahead in the sixth with three runs on three singles, a double by Cottrill and a walk.

Beaverton added four runs in the seventh on four walks and two singles and a final run in the eighth on a homer by Bruce Blackman.

Beaverton 000 003 410-8 9 2
Roseburg 200 000 100-3 10 1
Cottrill and McCoy; Whipple, Hallady (6), Spees (7) and Hiney.

His mother we've heard was a frivolous bird—
A "Jane Russell" type of pigeon.
And Stew got his start when she lost her heart
To a fast-talking traveling widg-con.

They bade him farewell while still in his shell,
And being in no shape to catch 'em
He was orphaned an egg and left to beg,
With no one to sit on and hatch him.

The sun on his shell made it hotter than hell
And fermented his yolk into gin.
And when he broke out, he staggered about,
Cursing his folks and their sin.

If your mother and dad left you to go bad,
You'd likely have grown pretty rough.
So it's no real surprise that when Stew hit the skies,
The hawks and the owls had it tough.

The other ducks came and laughed at his shame,
But he squeezed back the tear in his eye.
And grinding his bill he lurched off a hill
—gawd, but that duck could fly!

He would soar to such height he'd go out of sight,
Then dive like a high-powered jet.
Just for laughs he'd fly past the best shotgun blast—
Not a pellet had got to him yet.

It seemed Stew was not ordained to be shot,
No hunter could possibly pot him.
But his weakness for sex was his ultimate hex—
It was a young farm duck who got him.

One night her shrill screams broke into the dreams
Of her owner, a farmer named Max.
Who arrived in no time at the scene of the crime
But found only Stew's feathers and tracks.

Max was fond of his duck, but with this kind of luck
He worried, for fear he might lose her.
So right on the spot he worked out a plot
To capture the would-be seducer.

Casanova had fled, but Max promised she'd wed
This dastard, if she'd apprehend him.
She knew not, poor soul, wedding bells would not toll—
Max really intended to end him.

The misguided pawn set off with the dawn
And flew to a well-concealed swamp
Where she whispered to Stew,
"The old fellow blew,
He's gone into town for a romp."

She lured him with smiles and womanly wiles
To her nest, where the hard-hearted Max
Softly bolted the gate to trap the drake,
Then smugly went off for his axe.

Sad end to our tale—while the treacherous frail
Warmed an egg she had labeled "Stew Junior,"
Stew boiled in a pot and bitterly thought,
"It sure takes a woman to ruin yer."

LAUNCHING BY STARLIGHT

Chi Bears To Hone Offensive

RENNSELAER, Ind. (AP)—In top shape defensively, the Chicago Bears must shoot for offensive improvement this National Football League season.

The Bears last year finished in a Western Division tie for second with the Los Angeles Rams at 8-4. Owner-coach George Halas, 62-year-old pioneer of pro football, said today his club has the ingredients to sharpen its attack.

But, he added, the Bears also need all the breaks they can get in a 1959 schedule which pits them twice against the NFL champion Baltimore Colts and the Rams within their first six games.

Halas has high hopes that fullback Rick Casares and halfback Willie Galimore, the crux of the Bear running game last season, will be bolstered by a couple of rookies.

They are 235-pound fullback Johnny Adams from Los Angeles State and Pete Johnson, a fleet 200-pound halfback from Virginia Military Institute. Another offensive threat is improved Johnny Morris, third in Bear rushing in 1958.

Halas also emphasizes that what he calls the Bears' "P.O.M."—players out—offensive setup will be much stronger with a corps of fine receivers.

He is high on an array of such offensive ends as veterans Harlon Hill, Bill McCall, Jim Dooley and Bob Jewell, and rookies Willard Deweall of Southern Methodist, John Avent of Indiana, Tony Carattiera of Elon College in North Carolina, and Bob Coronado of College of the Pacific.

"We also have three fine quarterbacks in Ed Brown, Zeke Bratkowski and Rudy Bukich," said Halas.

Teeing Off

Lyn Starbuck in the 18 hole division and Margaret Larkin in the nine hole division are the medal titlists in the qualifying round of the Women's Club championship at Reames Golf and Country Club. The first round of play in the tournament begins today, however all entrants have a week to play their matches. There are no definite starting times.

The pairings for the first round:

18 Holes
L. Starbuck vs. M. Drew, Smith vs. Grove, Maskell vs. Pernell, Mosebar vs. Good, Deaton vs. V. Anderson, Zamsky vs. Swanson, Marks vs. P. Drew, Raymond vs. Beane.

9 Holes
Larkin vs. Marvin, Cook vs. Ashley, Hooper vs. E. Robinson, Stonecypher vs. Burgoyne, Wiley vs. G. Brosterhouse, Rajnus vs. V. Schmeck, Kandra vs. Ellis, Dakin drew bye.

Graham Discards Strategy

CHICAGO (AP)—Head Coach Otto Graham has discarded the unit substitution strategy and will insert his All Star collegians on an individual basis against the Baltimore Colts Friday night.

The National Football League champion Colts are 16-point favorites to gain the 16th point victory against eight collegiate triumphs in the series. Two of the games were tied.

Soldier Field is the setting for the summer football classic and upward of 75,000 fans are expected. It will be telecast and broadcast by ABC starting at 8:30 p.m. EST.

Graham put the final polish on his squad under the Soldier Field lights Wednesday night. The Colts arrive today and also will have a private practice at night in the huge lakefront arena.

Graham's new substitution tactics are a reversal of the unit system he used last year in the All Star's 35-19 record offensive display against the Detroit Lions. Observers say his decision to spell offensive and defensive players frequently, until all able bodied men on his squad of 49 have had a turn, indicates his manpower is not as deep as last year.

The starting quarterback spot is unsettled, Graham saying that all four of his candidates are good and leave little leeway to base a choice.

The quartet includes Lee Grosscup of Utah, Buddy Humphrey of Baylor, Bob Newman of Washington State and Bob Piatek of Michigan. Tulane's Dick Pettibon is also a fine offensive threat but will be used only on defense.

There is little question but that the All Stars will fill the air with passes with such fine receivers as Buddy Dial of Rice, Rich Kreitling of Illinois, Dave Sherer of Southern Methodist and Boyd Dowler of Colorado as targets.

Rademacher Goes Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Pete Rademacher, who opened his professional boxing career against the heavyweight champion, will still be looking for his first pro victory Thursday night.

He meets Tommy Thompson in a scheduled 10-round main event at City Auditorium.

Rademacher, the 30-year-old native of Grandview, Wash., won the 1956 Olympic heavyweight title and then was knocked out in his only two professional outings.

He was beaten by Floyd Patterson in a heavyweight title bout in 1957 and by No. 1 contender Zora Folley a year later.

Rademacher has lived here since 1954.

He is expected to weigh about 203 and Thompson 195.

LL Regionals Begin

PORTLAND (AP)—The championship Little League baseball teams from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia will be guests at an outdoor barbecue here today.

Tomorrow the Oregon team—made up of players from the Northeast Portland League—will play the Washington champions—made up of players from Vancouver's Alcoa League.

Local Archers Enter Bowhunters' Shoot

A large contingent of Klamath Falls archers depart for the Oregon Bow Hunters state broadhead shoot to be held in the Rogue River National Forest near the Mill Creek camp ground this coming Saturday and Sunday.

A full schedule of activities aside from the competitive aspect of the meet is slated, from the registration on Friday to the presentation of the awards Sunday afternoon.

The registration will begin Friday night and conclude Saturday noon while the running deer shoot, the first event of the meet, will get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday. At 1 p.m. the first 50-target annual will begin, followed by the second at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Food booths will be open continuously throughout the entire meet. A ham dinner is slated Saturday night and a hotcake feed Sunday morning. Fishing in Mill Creek is also reported good so angling enthusiasts are reminded to bring along their equipment.

The camp ground is located six miles south of Union Creek in a wooded terrain and pumice, which will cut down the broken and lost arrows.

After the final event Sunday, the officers will mark reports and introduce the new officers for next year. Among the awards given will be one citing the outstanding bowman achievement of the year.

Any member of the Oregon Bow Hunters Club is invited to enter. It has been emphasized by officials that all arrows for the championship round must be one ounce or 437 1/2 grams. Men's bows must weigh 40 pounds at the archer's draw while both women's and juniors (under 16) may use any weight. Only one arrow can be shot at each target.

One point will be received for hitting any part of the deer while an additional one-half point will be added for any heart shot.

The Rogue archers of Medford are the host club this year for the second time in the history of the shoot, the first in 1953 when the shoot was held at Jacksonville.

Women's Tourney Started

SEATTLE (AP)—A good many girls were early risers Thursday as the Women's Western Open Golf tournament began a four-day program by getting the crowded field's first trio off the tee at 7 a.m. (PST).

That field lists more than 130 amateurs and 28 feminine professionals, the latter shooting for $7500 in prize money—a new high in the Western's 30-year history.

Defending champion Patty Berg and the rest of the pro brigade will get a bit of rest while most of the amateurs blaze a trail through the morning dew. The first professionals will not be called to the tee until noon.

Miss Berg—seven times winner of this championship—is paired with Marilyn Smith, president of the Ladies Professional Golfers Assn., and JoAnne Gunderson, Western Amateur champion and local favorite.

The schedule calls for 18 holes on each of the next four days over the 72-par Rainier Golf and Country Club links. After Friday's second round the field will be divided into flights, with the leading 32 golfers in the championship bracket.

Bly LL Team Gets Uniforms

BLY—Bly Little Leaguers are proud of their new uniforms which they recently received. The town of Bly is sponsoring this hall club and money is being raised by donations and money making affairs.

A meeting will be held in the near future to make up the board for the team. The club was formed too late to be in the regular league this year but is filling in for Dorris, who dropped out of the league. Bly is playing the games that were scheduled for Dorris.

The youngsters practice every day at the ball field, with Bob Washburn coaching and Jim Conroy being present whenever possible. Conroy and Mrs. Edith Dyer are responsible for helping to get the Little League started here.

Lions Initiate Tennis Plans

LAKEVIEW—A drive to finance the construction of a tennis courts to be located on the park grounds west of the municipal swimming pool has been started by the Lions Club with Ed Zarusinski as chairman of the committee.

The club is promoting a real estate venture to "sell" in a manner of speaking, square yard units of the courts in order to raise the needed $7,000. Cards will be issued to purchasers but they are warned that these do not give them any title to the property as it is located on the town park. Donations of any size will be accepted for help with the project. The co-treasurers of the tennis court fund are Robert Nichols and Jack Pendleton.

There are to be two double courts with asphalt top and enclosed by a 20-foot cyclone fence. The construction was started about six weeks ago with L. A. Decker of Decker Sand & Gravel donating the bulldozer work and sub-gravel.
