

THE WORLD LOOKED rose-colored to pert and pretty Nancy Elizabeth Paygr, as she took a peek at the goings-on of her elders and visitors at Malin's 50th anniversary picnic August 2. Nancy Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Paygr, Malin. She has blonde curls and deep blue eyes, will celebrate her fifth birthday on November 11. Her middle name, Elizabeth, is for her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Paygr, Malin. Grandmother Hardy lives at Corvallis. For the half century celebration her mother made a Czech costume with bright red skirt, black apron and bolero, white blouse and rhinestone studded lace cap. The pose, hands on hip, is one of the stances of the national Czech dance, the Beseda.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY COLLINS

Collins-O'Neill Vows Exchanged In Chiloquin

CHILQUIN—Jerry Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Collins, Sunday, August 2, claimed as his bride Charlynn O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen O'Neill, Grants Pass, former Modoc Point residents. The 2 o'clock service was conducted by the Rev. Dallas McNeill, Klamath Falls, at the Chiloquin Methodist Church. Beauty baskets of pink and white gladioli were placed with candelabra for decoration at the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress designed and made by her mother. It was of brocade satin, sleeveless, with a hemline of street length in front to near floor level at the back. She wore a shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of white gladioli, the centers of which held tiny pink rosebuds.

Maid of honor was Mary O'Neill, sister of the bride, who wore blue and carried a bouquet of gladioli. Best man was Manuel Ochoa Jr., Jimmy Hoback was candlelighter and usher.

Mrs. Athel Roser played the traditional wedding music on the organ.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. O'Neill wore a pink frock with white accessories and Mrs. Collins wore beige lace with white accessories. Both mothers had corsages of gladioli.

Following the service a reception was held in the social hall of the church. Pink wedding bells placed above the mantel of the fireplace formed a background for the refreshment table centered with an attractive three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Dee Valentine, sister of the bridegroom and a bride of just two weeks, served the cake. Mrs. Lamine (Enid Williams) Savage, college roommate of the bride, served punch and Gail Manning was at the coffee service.

Mrs. Jimmy Hoback was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. Layton Hoback and Mrs. Lester Hoback were hostesses. Assisting was Mrs. Earl Greear. Mrs. John Manning sang several selections.

All the floral arrangements were done by an aunt of the bridegroom, Mrs. George Jones.

Both are graduates of Chiloquin High School and the bride attended the University of Oregon.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Glen O'Neill, Mary O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill Sr., all of Grants Pass; Bill O'Neill and daughters, Kathleen and Lynn, Ferndale; Glen R. Dunkle, Mrs. Dorothy Walsh, Kathy and Barry Walsh, all of El Monte, California; Mrs. Edna Hatch, Florence; Mrs. Lamine Savage, Eugene; Jay and Martha Williams, Cresswell; Mrs.

Ada Millican, Walthville; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Valentine, Big; Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Worley, Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Peters, Susan and Greg Peters, all of Klamath Falls.

Prior to the wedding a shower was given in Chiloquin by Mrs. Lester Hoback, Mrs. Earl Greear and Mrs. Layton Hoback. The bride's mother, Mrs. O'Neill, and sister, Mary, attended from Grants Pass.

THE BETROTHAL of Linda Mae Mendenhall to David R. Budd has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Mendenhall of Chiloquin.

The future bridegroom is stationed at Kingsley Field. He is the son of Mrs. Gladys V. Budd of Fenimore, Wisconsin, and Ruel F. Budd of Cassville, Wisconsin. A fall wedding is planned by the couple.

Summer Fun Hard On Furniture
By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Midway through the summer, it pays to take an inventory of outdoor furniture and the condition it is in.

Summer showers, frequent use and a casual attitude toward outdoor housekeeping have probably left their marks in the shape of dirt and spots.

Sometimes leftovers from previous seasons, particularly the inexpensive little pieces such as small tables, benches or chairs, may be showing their age. Rust spots on enameled surfaces are a sign of age, and a reminder that to preserve the piece and restore its appearance you'd better plan to sand, prime and repaint.

Taking an inventory is an excellent base for smart shopping at the summer furniture sales which will be coming up.

If you plan in advance what you'll need to spruce up the terrace next year—retiring old chairs, substituting new ones in a different style or color or adding a picnic table—you'll be ready to snap up the bargains.

With outdoor furniture as with indoor, a bargain regardless of how much the price has been reduced, is no good, if it doesn't fit into your scheme or fill a definite need.

Regular cleaning will help keep outdoor furniture in good condition. The delicate scrollwork of wrought iron, cast aluminum and steel meshes is sometimes a challenge to clean. A trick I learned this summer works for chairs and small tables and makes use of the downstairs shower.

Set the chair or table in the shower stall or bathtub. Scrub it clean with a brush and soap or detergent and then tuck the curtain in and let the shower do the rinsing. This is also a good way to clean furniture purchased at sales. Drying can either be in the tub or on a stack of newspapers.

GOOD USE FOR CANS

Children like to decorate their rooms with unusual items. Let them make receptacles for their many collections of rocks and such from coffee cans. Paint them or glue bright pictures on the cans. Apply a protective coating of shellac.
