BALLOON RELAY Evelyn Pickering

Try a balloon relay at a party or when playing on the beach. Using colored balloons as balls, line up two teams. The first player in each line tosses a balloon in the air and bats it with his palm toward a far wall or marker stuck in the sand. When the goal is reached, the player picks up the balloon, races back to his line and gives it to the next player, who repeats the performance. This race is easier said than done, for when a balloon is hit upward, it takes some time to come down.
