2nd Major Golf Tournament Scheduled On Reames Course

Nearly 100 topflight Oregon amateur golfers are expected to participate in the Oregon Golfers Association medal championships scheduled for the Reames Golf and Country Club beginning Friday, August 28, and continuing through Sunday, August 30.

NY Giants Lacking Sympathy

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — There aren't too many people who have much sympathy for New York Giants football Coach Jim Lee Howell as he prepares his Eastern Division National Football League titleholders for an exhibition game against the world champion Baltimore Colts tonight.

Why this unsympathetic feeling? It seems that Howell has five quarterbacks on his squad, an all-pro halfback named Frank Gifford who also is dabbling as one of the signal-callers and a collection of behemoths that man the defensive platoon.

But Howell isn't buying the pitch despite the return of almost all of the team that won the Eastern Division crown in a playoff with the Cleveland Browns, then lost 23-17 in overtime to the Colts for the NFL title.

Sonny Ray To Meet Clay

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Von Clay, an inexperienced lad of only 19 fights, makes his first national television (NBC) appearance tonight in a scheduled 10 round fight heavyweight bout against the veteran Sonny Ray of Chicago.

The 20-year-old Clay, winner of nine fights, feels his "big" punch and aggressiveness will offset the greater ring savvy of Ray, fourth ranking 175-pounder. The only time the hard hitting Philadelphia failed to win he was held to a draw by Pat Roberts. Later, Clay kayoed Roberts in two rounds.

all of the 29 OGA member clubs, plus the five Columbia River bordering Washington counties and Northern California counties as far south as Red Bluff, the tournament is also not necessarily restricted to members of the Reames club.

Local area golfers who wish to enter the tourney which will be run in three divisions with eight fancy merchandise prizes planned for each, should contact Clark Good at the Reames pro shop as soon as possible. Entry fee is $7.50 per player.

Competing over 54 holes during the three day stand will be golfers 55 and up forming the Senior classification, those 40-50 which make up the Junior-Senior class, and the championship division for players 40 and under.

Among some of the top names expected to be on hand for the event is defending 1958 champion Bob Bronson, Riverside Golf and Country Club. Bronson, as well as all the other entrants, will be seeking to add points necessary for Hudson Cup competition.

Other winners from previous years expected to appear include Dick Yost, Columbia-Edgewater, 1951-52 champion; George Barrington, Medford, 1953 winner; Kermit Smith, Columbia-Edgewater, 1954 title; Bob Prall, Salem, king in both 1953-56; and Dick Stearns, Eastmoreland, 1957 champ.

Other top Northwest golfers include Dick Hanen, Coos Bay and Bob McEwen, Riverside.

Prominent KF golfers planning to enter include OGA representative and tourney director Dick Marks, who will be assisted by Jim Johnson, also a top notch performer; Kingsley Field's Bill Gregory and Jim Roth, Carl Wood, ex-Reames champion; Jim Noel, also an ex-champ; Moon Mullis, Gus Anderson, Jim Ray, Jim Kearns Sr., Ed Robinson and Dean White to mention only a few.

Serving on the various committees formed to serve the tourney entrants are: Hospitality, Vi Zamsky, Fran Anderson, and Marge Robin; pairings, Good, Johnson and Marks; rules, John West, Good and Marks; Paul Angstead will head the starting committee.

Davis Battered By Pastrano
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Seventh ranked heavyweight Willie Pastrano scored his 49th victory on a technical knockout Thursday night by battering Tom (Kelley) Davis out of commission in three rounds.

Pastrano, of Miami, Fla., walloped the Macon, Ga., fighter with punishing body blows from the first round. Davis, an awkward fighter, notified the referee after the third round that he would not come out for the fourth.

Sammy Potshots PGAers

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — Sam Snead paused today in slamming the golf ball to slam the Professional Golfers Association for "slowly killing" tournament golf.

The slammer referred to recently enacted PGA by-laws setting up penalties for tournament champions who fail to defend their titles.

Sam is faced with a problem as a result of the rule, and right now he doesn't know what will come of it.

He has balked at participating in the 1959 Dallas Open—a tournament he has won the past two years—and the reason is money.

"They have guaranteed me a small amount to return, but it would cost me more than double that in expenses alone to go out there and play," Snead said at his home club here, the Greenbrier Golf Club.

"That new rule they've got about penalties will kill off tournament golf," Sam said. "They are trying to force us to play in the tournaments. The tournament sponsors know this."

Snead indicated the penalty for his failure to play in the Dallas tournament scheduled Sept. 11-14 would be $500. "That's a pretty sizeable amount," he said.

A definite decision on his participation is expected by the end of the month. "We're still dickering," he declared, "but I'm not sure I want to go out there even if they up the price."

Chicago Honors Nellie Fox

CHICAGO (AP) — This is Nellie Fox Night at Comiskey Park.

The durable little second baseman who will be playing in his 653rd successive game for the Chicago White Sox will be showered with gifts in pre-game ceremonies.

Probably his biggest hope will be that the Sox shower the Washington Senators with hits and win behind the pitching of unpredictable Dick Donovan.

The Sox, losing 7-6 to Baltimore Thursday, now have dropped 4 of their last 5 starts and their American League lead has sagged to 2½ games over Cleveland.

Losing hurts Fox more than anything. Since he came to the Sox in 1950 from the old Philadelphia Athletics he has been a team man. He has been named to 10 All-Star games and played in nine of them, and has led the AL in hits for the last two seasons.

The 5-foot-8 Fox, who is leading the league with 157 hits and is batting .322, could have been appearing in his 910th straight game tonight. But on Aug. 6, 1955, Marty Marion, then Sox manager, decided Fox was wearing himself to a frazzle and benched him for a day of rest. It broke an original string of 274 games.

Clark Good, club pro, urges all players to be at the clubhouse by 8 a.m. or before in order that participants may be dispersed from the various tees by 9 a.m.

Plans are underway for a mixed two-ball to be played Sunday afternoon for the visiting golfers and their wives. For further information call the pro shop TU 4-7448, or Paul Angstead.

Hitting—Willie McCovey, Giants, had three hits and drove in three runs, breaking a fifth-inning tie with a single and clinching 3-3 victory over the Braves with a two-out homer in the ninth.

Pitching — Mudcat Grant, Indians, pushed Cleveland within 2½ games of first place with a three-hitter that beat the Senators 6-1.

Fullmer May Turn Southpaw

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gene Fullmer may switch to a southpaw attack in his world middleweight championship bout with Carmen Basilio Aug. 28 at the Fox Palace.

That's what Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen intimated Thursday.

"I can tell you that we will be ready with everything in this fight with Basilio," Jensen said. "We are aware that Basilio didn't look too good in his fights against southpaw Chuck Davey."

Basilio fought Davey twice in 1952, losing once and gaining a draw.

When informed of the verbal jabs, Basilio countered: "It doesn't make any difference to me whether he fights southpaw or right-handed. The main thing is that he'll have to fight three minutes of every round and may not have time to switch."

Both fighters continued intensive training today for the NBA version of the middleweight title. Fullmer has recently been sparring with former middleweight king Bobo Olson. Olson said that Fullmer boxed southpaw during all three sessions.

Basilio boxed three rounds Thursday to increase his total of rounds to 99 while training for the fight.

'Flying Scot' Bags 1000th RBI; But No. 452 Was Bigger Thrill

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)— Sure, No. 1,000 was a big one, but the real big for Bobby Thomson is still No. 452. The first is a milestone—the second baseball's biggest thrill.

The flying Scot became the ninth active player in baseball to bat in one thousand runs when he homered off Phillies' pitcher Don Cardwell Wednesday night. There was one on base.

There were two on base that dying October afternoon in 1951 when number 452 blossomed. That was when he slammed his legendary ninth-inning homer off Ralph Branca at the Polo Grounds to beat Brooklyn in the post season playoff for the National League pennant. Bobby's stutish made the New York Giants league champions.

That seems a long, long time ago. Bobby didn't know what number the RBI was. And since then the Glasgow-born Thomson moved to Milwaukee, back to New York, and now is with Chicago. Even the Giants moved out of the Polo Grounds over the years.

BASEBALL STORY FOR EVER
Now, with his 36th birthday only a couple of months away, Bobby took stock of the situation. True, the 1951 finish is engraved as deeply in his mind as it is in the record books, a baseball story for ever.

"It was a thrill all right, but I guess when you think it over it was more than a milestone," Bobby said as he tapped a bat handle on the concrete.

"It came with suddenness back in '51, and it meant a pennant, something you never, never can forget. This one, the 1,000th, was building up. The writers, the radio men, the fellows on the team, everyone kept telling how close it was. You kinda looked forward to it.

"But I'll admit, it was a thrill. I got a lot of wood on the ball and when I saw it going, I knew I had a chance."

They stopped the game and announced it was Bobby's 1000th RBI and the crowd gave him a tremendous roar of applause. The fan who retrieved the ball returned it to Bobby and got an autographed ball in exchange.

CALL FROM ANTONELLI
You know, that hand made me feel really good," Bobby said. "Then on top of that, I got a call today from Johnny Antonelli. He's in Milwaukee with the Giants. He called to congratulate me after seeing the story in the papers. That was real nice."

Bobby and Antonelli were the key figures in the 1954 trade which made Thomson a Brave and Antonelli a Giant.

The Scotsman grew serious for a moment, looking back at the years in a baseball career which began in 1942, was interrupted by three years of military service, resumed in 1946 and was major league since.

"It's going to be nice to say it—it's nice to get those things," Bobby mused. "But at my stage of the game, well, I'm not setting records anymore. There are more tangible things. I'm interested in providing for my family, a good home, a good living. That's what I'm working for."

"The one thousand RBI are nice — but it's only another milestone," he added.
