

Negro Vote Smothered

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A record breaking white vote smothered the first all-out Negro political campaign in the history of this Mississippi River city of the Deep South.

Russell B. Sugarman Jr., a 30-year-old Negro lawyer, finished second in a race for public works commissioner that had jittery segregationists predicting catastrophe.

The final count gave Sugarman 55,237 votes. He lost to a white "Unity Ticket" candidate, William W. Farris, by about 23,000 votes.

The predicted heavy vote for Negro candidates came as advertised, but the uproar of the campaign spurred the total turnout Thursday to a whopping 129,868. The previous record for a city election was 86,370.

The Rev. Ben L. Hooks, a Negro lawyer and preacher who ranked as a possible victor in the race for juvenile judge, lost by about 21,000 votes. He ran against three white candidates.

Idle Talk About Inflation Scares Nation, Says Union

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—The AFL-CIO charged Friday that incessant scare talk about inflation has frightened the nation out of several years normal economic growth and curbed job opportunities.

A statement by the federation executive council said President Eisenhower's administration and big business have been trying to "brainwash the country" into falsely believing it was about to be engulfed with calamitous inflation.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said inflation is a problem but by far not the only or most important problem. The chief one, he said, is what he called the economy's failure to grow and provide jobs at a rate keyed to the rapidly growing population and labor force.

"This inflation thing is just being overemphasized," Meany said.

The AFL-CIO leaders wound up week-long meetings here Thursday and released their statement on inflation today.

It stated that industrial leaders are seeking to impose a freeze on wages and salaries, "piously proclaiming" this must be done to protect workers against inflation.

Actually, it said, there has been very little inflation for some time. In the past decade, the statement said, it has amounted to less than 2 per cent a year, or well under the historical annual increase.

The purpose of "the billion word brainwashing barrage" on inflationary dangers, the AFL-CIO contended, is to curb needed public expenditures and prevent American workers from obtaining their fair share of productive profits in increased earnings.

The statement added: "We must protest against the politically motivated hysteria which this administration and its big business allies have instigated.

"These whipped up anti-inflation campaigns have not only scared America out of years of normal economic growth, but brought on repeated recessions including the most recent one from which we have not fully recovered."

Paint Might Catch Cone

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A little paint may be all that's needed to give the Air Force a better chance of catching a parachuting satellite nose capsule.

Data from the satellites Discoverer V and VI indicates they got too cold for their power batteries to operate, the Ballistic Missile Division said Friday.

The batteries are supposed to start a radio homing device which would guide planes to the falling capsule. The planes would try to snag the capsule's parachute with a trapeze device.

Missile division officials said the answer to proper temperature control may be in painting geometric designs with light-absorbing paint on the outside of the satellite. The paint would absorb the sun's rays and raise the satellite's temperature to a point at which the batteries would operate.

Like Uses 12 Pens To Sign Hawaii Paper

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hawaii, the jewel-like chain of islands 2,400 miles west of the mainland, has brought the United States of America to an even 50.

Using a dozen pens to sign his name, President Eisenhower proclaimed its statehood Friday. It was the second time in less than a year that he performed such a historic duty — Alaska became a state Jan. 3.

As Hawaii followed Alaska into the union, the President also signed an executive order fixing the design of the 50-star flag. With a twinkle, he remarked that he's running out of ideas for flag designs.

The new flag, which becomes official next July 4, has the same 13 red and white stripes. But its square field in the upper left corner has nine rows of stars, arranged in staggered fashion with six and five-star rows alternating.

"All 49 states will join in welcoming the new one—Hawaii—to this union," the President said more solemnly. "We will wish for her prosperity, security, happiness, and a growing closer relationship with all of the other states."

"We know that she is ready to do her part to make this union a stronger nation—a stronger people than it was before because of her presence as a full sister to the other 49 states."

"So all of us say to her, Good luck."

The president began signing the documents at 4:03 p.m. Washington time. The black and white plastic pens he used were distributed to some of those present as souvenirs. The new flag, its silken folds shining, was unfurled.

Edward Johnston, secretary of Hawaii, rushed to an open telephone in the next room at the White House to give the news to Gov.-elect William F. Quinn, who was waiting in Honolulu's Iolani Palace.

It was 10:16 a.m. Hawaii time. "Ladies and gentlemen," Quinn
