

Lovely Young Ladies To Reign Over Merrill Potato Festival

ROYALTY SMILED atop a "fater" truck in a Merrill potato field where they viewed the business of harvesting which puts Klamath Basin tubers on tables up and down the Pacific Coast and others far distant. This crop was grown by Fotheringham Brothers. Queen Janice Lisk, center front, and her full-of-fun princesses, Phyllis Derra, Malin, seated left; Sally Read, Henley, right; Norma Souers, Chiloquin, standing left, and Claudette Pfeiffer, Bonanza, wore new identical sport togs, gifts of Klamath Basin Potato Festival Committee. The court will be in formal gowns for appearance at coronation festivities October 23, and will rule over all festivities on Saturday.

PRILLS AND FURBELOWS are as exciting to junior members of the festival court of Queen Janice as they are to her majesty's grownup princesses. These two 5-year-olds, blonde Matilda, "Tillie" left, and blonde Denise, modeled their beuffled coronation gowns for the senior court and other interested spectators while they admired a "sure enough" Netted Gem. Tillie is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Walker, and Denise is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Fotheringham. The little girls are both members of pioneer Merrill families. They will play important parts during crowning of Queen Janice and introduction of her court at the annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival, Friday evening, October 23, in the Merrill Grade School Gymnasium. —Festival Photos by Wes Guderian

DANCING was popular with the large crowd who attended the Bavarian night party, first of a series of international affairs to be given by the Officer's Wives Club. Caught by the camera lens is Mrs. Melba Mallon and her partner, Lt. Col. Carl Leo.

BIG SMILES on the faces of Lieutenant and Mrs. Charles Aly are evidence of the fun-time had by everyone at the Bavarian night dinner on Friday, October 9, at the Officer's Club at Kingsley Field.

WEINERSCHNITZEL, brochwurst and sauerkraut, and apsel strudel were a few of the tempting dishes prepared and served by members of the Officer's Wives Club at the gleaming steam table in the kitchen of the Officer's Club. Col. and Mrs. Jack Williams, right, lead the serving line for one of the largest crowds ever to attend an informal gathering at the club.

Huesenfeldt, Mrs. Evelyn Kelly, Mrs. Doris Hollman, Mrs. Grace Hill, Mrs. Jane Campbell, Mrs. Barbara Edwards, Mrs. Hazel Smith and Mrs. Polly O'Connell. — All Photos by Sgt. Charles Bennett
