The Old Boy Himself

Prof. Quentin Zlobotny introduced mathematical evidence indicating there will be explosive doings on the greensward come Saturday.

At first I thought the boys had mistakenly presented the plans for their new satellite, a chrome-plated conveyance named Nik-a-loon. The Nik-a-loon, not to be confused with the Lunik, will have special rates for honeymooners and regularly scheduled parachute drops over Niagara Falls.

Hak-kaff, we've strayed far afield, so back to football. A fitting farewell season for a fine gentleman will be capped for Ray Elliot when his Fighting Illini, upset conquerors of Army, trample Penn State at neutral Cleveland Stadium.

In other titanic struggles on mid-western gridirons, Iowa will prevail over Purdue, and Northwestern's air arm will prove superior to Notre Dame's.

Rarely have we had more astounding upsets on our card than these two. The Green Wave of Tulane, a slight swell up to this point, will turn into a tidal wave as it engulfs Georgia Tech. On the West Coast, California will rise Phoenix-like to clobber a good Oregon State team.

Lakers, Baylor To Show At UW

SEATTLE (AP) -- The Minneapolis Lakers and the Syracuse Nationals will meet Dec. 8 in the University of Washington pavilion for a regular National Basketball Assn. game.

Use of the Clarence S. (Hec) Edmundson pavilion for the professional basketball contest was approved Tuesday by Dr. Charles E. Odegaard, university president.

The game will bring back two well-known Seattle sports personalities, Elgin Baylor and John Castellani. Baylor, the Lakers sensational playmaker, is a former Seattle University All-American.

Castellani, who coached at SU while Baylor was a Chieftain, took over as Laker mentor this season.

A pair of the more "surprising" teams in the County B League, Bonanza and Tulelake, get this weekend's league action under way early when they square off on the Merrill turf Thursday night. Game time is set for 7:30.

Both squads' coaches, Erv Ellis of Bonanza and George Hanson of Tulelake, made pre-season predictions that the 1959 season would mainly be a "mediocre year" and centered around "rebuilding" for the future.

But the Antlers, who won their first two games of the season, are currently ranked third in the league with a two-won, one-tied, two-lost mark and almost upset high-riding Merrill last week.

Hanson's Honkers, the California entry in the league, lost their first two tests of the season but have battled back to even their record at 3-3, winning the last two games against Cedarville and Bieber.

Ellis' chargers, who will be missing injury-plagued tackle Bert

Lawyer for the rest of the season since the big junior was seriously injured in an automobile accident Monday, are expecting "a lot rougher contest than last time."

Bonanza romped to a 31-8 decision over the Honkers in the team's initial game of the season, a non-counter.

"But," said Ellis, "we have a lot more experience since then and I feel definitely that we're coming along. It's going to be a good ballgame."

On the other hand, Hanson reports that he and assistant coach Tom Cox are "very happy with the Honkers' performance as of late," and that they too are "expecting a much closer game than last time."

The Antlers' fleet backfield will be composed of Denny Ellis at quarterback, halfbacks Jim O'Conner and Alvin Brooks and fullback Larry Albert. Tule's backs will be QB Bob Osborne, halfbacks Joe Rogers and Bill Oehlerich and fullback Cliff Wooten.

What ever happened to Floyd Patterson? Northwestern over Notre Dame -- What do ya mean, "who's he?"

NEW YORK (UPI) -- Former British Empire lightweight champion Willie Towse of South Africa will make his American debut against Len Matthews of Philadelphia in a 16-round bout at Madison Square Garden Nov. 20.

UW Patterns Seen By Ducks

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) -- The introduction of some new offensive variations and a look at expected Washington defensive and offensive formations marked Tuesday's Oregon football practice.

The unbeaten Webfoots, who clash Saturday at Portland with Washington, appeared weak at left tackle. Bob Anderson, a 3rd stringer, worked at the starting berth.

Both starter John Wilcox and alternate Riley Mattson were in uniform, but Wilcox did not work out and Mattson did only slightly. Both suffered injuries against Air Force.

Paulson Moved
CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) -- Dainard Paulson moved back into the key tailback spot in Coach Tommy Prothro's single wing offensive Tuesday at the Oregon State football practice.

The Beavers drilled two hours in a no contact workout. They plan to fly Friday to Berkeley for the Saturday game with California.

Today's Sport Parade

Old Fearless Solves Grid Pickers' Riddle

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI) -- Fraley's Follies and the weekend football "winners" -- plus some equally valuable reflections on sports in general.

Game of the Week
Iowa over Purdue -- This is a pick 'em affair with both teams on the rebound. Even though playing at home is supposed to be worth a touchdown, the hunch here is the Hawkeyes.

West
USC over Stanford -- Luis Aparicio has a Spanish bullfighter namesake.

UCLA over Air Force -- I like canoeing if somebody else paddles.

California over Oregon State -- Night flat racing would send the trotters back to the plow.

Also: Washington State over Idaho, Oregon over Washington, Colorado over Arizona, San Jose State over Arizona State, Brigham Young over Denver, California Poly over Fresno State, Montana over New Mexico, Montana State over Utah State and Wyoming over Utah.

Midwest
Illinois over Penn State -- The blue plate special.

Ohio State over Wisconsin -- What ever happened to Floyd Patterson? Northwestern over Notre Dame -- What do ya mean, "who's he?"

Also: Michigan State over Indiana, Oklahoma over Kansas, Minnesota over Michigan, Missouri over Nebraska, Iowa State over Kansas State, Marquette over Boston College, Miami over Ohio U., Bowling Green over Kent State, Bradley over Drake, COP over Cincinnati, Dayton over Xavier and Toledo over Western Michigan.

East
Navy over Penn -- Water poloists are merely aquatic rascals.

Syracuse over West Virginia -- A surprising number of Yankee players don't like lovable old Casey Stengel.

Pitt over TCU -- If I had a fireplace I'd stage a wood-chopping championship every fall.

Also: Army over Colorado State, Holy Cross over Columbia, Princeton over Cornell, Yale over Colgate, Harvard over Dartmouth, Rutgers over Lehigh, Bucknell over Lafayette, Brown over Rhode Island, Buffalo over Western Reserve, Boston College over Marquette, Connecticut over BU, Gettysburg over Muhlenberg, Scranton over Albright and VPI over Villanova.

South
Auburn over Miami -- Skiing would be fun except for the snow.

Mississippi over Arkansas -- If football players get much bigger they'll have to enlarge the field.

LSU over Florida -- The basketball star under six feet has to be a great athlete.

Duck Mentor Named Boss Of The Week

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) -- He never has depth of material, so he makes a flaming team spirit do the job instead.

He stresses the human touch so much that he even finds time to console rival players -- like Bobby Newman of Washington State, whose missed extra-point try two years ago gave Oregon a 14-13 win that paved the way to the Rose Bowl.

He's Len Casanova of Oregon, honored today by United Press International as the college football "Coach of the Week" for Oregon's 20-3 upset of the Air Force Academy. It was the fifth straight win for unbeaten, almost unnoticed Oregon and the first loss in 15 games for the Air Force.

Casanova is in his ninth year as head coach at Oregon -- a school record. Never, including this season, has he had real depth. But he gets the most from his players and installs confidence in them.

Oregon's 16-7 loss to Ohio State in the 1958 Rose Bowl when the Buckeyes were overwhelming favorites stands as one of the great coaching jobs of all time in that classic.

Of his honor as coach of the week, the mild-mannered "Cas" said: "Coaching today is a staff effort, not the work of one man, and I think I have one of the best staffs in the country."

He scored 28 points and ran and passed for 193 yards in the 66-18 rout of Idaho.

Runnerup to Sanchez was Cleveland Jones, 3-4 University of Oregon halfback, who scored the first touchdown on a 30-yard pass play as his team upset Air Force, 20-3.

Mention went to end John Thiel and fullback Jim Stinnette of Oregon State and fullback Harry Needham of Oregon.

Larry Sanchez Player Of The Week

PORTLAND (AP) -- Portland's football player of the week is Larry Sanchez, until recently a third string Oregon State tailback.

He was picked for the honor by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters after he led Oregon State to its first victory of the season last Saturday.

He scored 28 points and ran and passed for 193 yards in the 66-18 rout of Idaho.

Runnerup to Sanchez was Cleveland Jones, 3-4 University of Oregon halfback, who scored the first touchdown on a 30-yard pass play as his team upset Air Force, 20-3.
