

Actor Charles Coburn, 82, Weds Widow Half His Age

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Charles Coburn, 82, has brought home a bride — a widow just half his age.

He caught the film colony by surprise Sunday when he flew to Las Vegas, Nev., and married Winifred Jean Clements Natzka. She is 41. They returned home Sunday night.

A TWA hostess aboard the plane to Hollywood said the couple held hands all the way. Occasionally, she said, Coburn bent over and kissed his bride's hand.

Coburn and his new wife have known each other seven years. She was married to New York opera basso Oscar Natzka, but he died eight years ago. She has two sons, aged 8 and 13.

The blonde 41-year-old accountant is from New Zealand.

To indicate just how quiet Coburn kept his plans, his agent and longtime friend, Jay Faggen, said the actor didn't even tell his servants.

Plea Altered In Theft Case

Herman Marion Gallup, 48, 4839 Climax Avenue, changed his plea on a petty larceny charge to guilty at noon Tuesday.

Gallup appeared before District Judge D. E. Van Vactor to change the plea he had entered Monday.

State police charged Gallup with stealing two quarts of wine and a sirloin steak from Oregon Food Store No. 3 on Saturday. Gallup had been scheduled for trial Wednesday night at 7:30.

He was sentenced to spend four months in the county jail.

Dog Imbibes; Owner Fined

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — "I don't drink bourbon," tavern owner Floyd Baker told Judge C. Clyde Myers in City Court Tuesday.

The partly-empty pint bottle of bourbon that vice squad officers found in his beer parlor was for "my French poodle," Baker said.

"Now does your poodle drink whisky regularly?" Baker was asked.

"No," he replied, "just at certain times."

Specifically, just those times when the poodle was about to become a mother.

Judge Myers fined Baker $200 on charges of possessing liquor and maintaining a nuisance.

car, outside the county clerk's office.

The ceremony was performed a few hours later in the chambers of Justice of the Peace J. L. Bowler.

It marked the end of 27 years as a widower for the veteran actor. He was married for 31 years to actress Ivah Wills, who died in 1932.

Coburn recently told an interviewer:

"Don't ever believe that beauty and charm are the exclusive property of youth. Like smooth brandy, sex appeal improves with age."

CBS Mulls Fake Effects

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System is considering whether it should continue to use phony applause and laughter on some television shows.

A spokesman for the network said Monday night CBS is reviewing the use of "canned" applause and other practices in light of a recent statement by CBS President Frank Stanton.

Stanton said in New Orleans last Friday that all big money quiz shows were being eliminated by CBS and added: "We accept the responsibility for content and quality and for assurance to the American people that what they see and hear on CBS programs is exactly what it purports to be."

For years, even on the big radio shows long before TV was developed, loud applause and uproarious laughter on one show were recorded for use on other shows.

The CBS spokesman said the network also was reviewing the "spontaneous" interviews that actually had been rehearsed, and shows purporting to take place in one locale that actually had been filmed elsewhere.

The spokesman was Kidder Everard Meade Jr., executive director of the CBS Information Services.

Memoirs Eyed By 'Protege'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—At 17, blonde Beverly Aadland is already planning her memoirs.

Miss Aadland also plans to resume her show business career.

"Show business is all I know," she said at the home of attorney Melvin Belli, a friend of Errol Flynn.

Miss Aadland said she has been asked to write a story of her life with the dashing actor-playboy.

"I've been thinking of writing the story of my life before that, too," she said. "I'd write it myself. I think I'm the only person who could do it."

Flynn was buried Monday at quiet ceremonies in Los Angeles. At about the same time, Miss Aadland, wearing a black sack dress, held a news conference at Bell's Telegraph Hill apartment here.

One reporter asked: "Do you like sack dresses—or are you expecting?"

Flynn's young girl friend never quite answered.

"Errol bought me this dress," she replied with a smile. "He liked it very much."

"But are you expecting?"

"We had hoped for that very much," Miss Aadland said. "Just say that's one thing we wanted very badly."

Death Of Girl Told By Police

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Little Susan Kirk, 2½, was playing in the family station wagon. A button which sends a window glass up and down caught her interest.

She leaned out the window and pushed the button. The window rose, forced her neck against the top of the door and she strangled.

That is the way police reconstructed her death Tuesday.

Two Boy Scouts found her wedged in the window.

Susan was the youngest of the Rev. Jon W. Kirk's five children.

VIOLA JAMES

Jewelry Exhibit Scheduled; Made By Southwest Indians

By RUTH KING

A display of the exquisite genuine turquoise and sterling silver jewelry made by hand by the Navajo, Zuni and Hopi Indians of the Southwest, will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at Beachs Jewelers, 834 Main Street.

The exhibit is being loaned by Mrs. Luella (Clyde) James, now living in Klamath Falls with her family after returning from a 10-year stay in Taos, New Mexico.

Many of the interesting and priceless items are "pawn jewelry," which have been turned over for cash or merchandise for various reasons and have never been redeemed. These jewels, often heirlooms handed down from generation to generation, are widely sought by collectors and others who admire the intricate work of the native artists.

Mrs. James, who lived here some years ago, brought the jewels with her upon her return from Taos where she owned an exclusive shop, the Gay 90's. Mrs. James and staff members designed exclusive custom made Southwest fashions which sold to visitors of the artists' colony at Taos and to motion picture people.

Viola James, pictured, Klamath

Union High School junior and 1959 queen of the All-American Indian Basketball Tournament held last March at Chiloquin, models a signed turquoise and silver bracelet, designed and made by B. Tallman, Navajo silversmith. The exceptionally heavy jewel is made of genuine turquoise, determined by dark veining.

Her silver necklace is of squash blossom design, which denotes fertility. The horseshoe shaped emblem is a "circle of life."

Nearly all Indian designs are taken from nature, Mrs. James explains.

Viola's gown, typically Navajo, is of midnight blue velvet, made in the Navajo mode.

The public is invited to view the collection.

Transplants Eyed By MD

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An American doctor suggests it may become common practice to replace damaged organs and tissues with healthy spare parts from living or recently dead donors.

This possibility is reported by Dr. John P. Merrill, director of the cardiorenal section at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston.

Writing in "Scientific American," Merrill said kidneys have been successfully exchanged between identical twins in 10 cases out of 13.

"These experiments," the magazine said, "encourage the investigators to hope that other living tissues may eventually be routinely transplanted."

A Soviet surgeon was quoted by the London Daily Herald Monday as saying he was preparing to graft a new right leg on a 20-year-old girl who had lost hers in a train accident.

The Russian, Dr. Vladimir Demikhov, plans to replace the girl's lost leg with one taken from a newly dead person of about the same age," the newspaper said.
