

MORTY MEEKLE

A LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN DOG is the cause for the sad looks on the faces of 11-year-old Pamela Thompson and her 2-year-old brother, Billy Joe. The dog was a small black Scotty, named appropriately enough "Scotty" which disappeared some days ago and has not been seen since. Anyone finding the dog is asked to call Pamela or Billy at their parents home, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Barrow, 2051 Levey Street, in Klamath Falls. The loss was brought to the attention of the Herald and News when a letter came from Pamela asking the price of an advertisement for a lost dog. The editor being a dog lover himself was moved to make this pictorial appeal.

U.S. Culture Given Praise

PARIS (UPI) — The man-in-the-street in 14 major cities on four continents think the United States has the highest culture in the world, the French Institute of Public Opinion reported today.

The institute polled citizens around the world to find out how they rated the family of nations. The poll did not include Moscow or other cities behind the Iron Curtain.

Results of the poll published in the institute magazine Sondage (Sounding) also showed:

- Highest standard of living: United States.
- Most beautiful scenery: Switzerland.
- Most national pride: Great Britain.
- France fared best of all in the eyes of the world in three categories: Best food, most joy of living, and beautiful women.

TIRED "DOGS" NOTICE

MANILA (UPI) — Mayor Arsenio H. Lacson has told the Manila City Council to get to work on a proposed ordinance that would penalize persons placing their feet on the top, side or back of any public vehicle, movie theater, stadium, auditorium, or other place of amusement where meetings are held.

'Person-Person' Chiefs Sever CBS Connections

NEW YORK (AP)—The producers of the "Person to Person" television show are severing connections with the Columbia Broadcasting System in a row with CBS President Frank Stanton.

Saying Stanton had "slurred" their program, producers John A. Aaron and Jesse Zousmer announced jointly:

"Our lawyers have reached an amicable agreement with the lawyers for CBS to release us from our 52-week contract as soon as possible."

Last week Stanton, in the wake of the congressional probe of rigged TV quiz programs, called for honesty and realism in all CBS TV shows. At the same time he banned all TV quiz shows on his network.

He also tossed out canned laughter and applause and urged all programs — including "Person to Person" — to "play it straight" with the public. If a program was rehearsed, Stanton said, the viewing audience should be told.

"Person to Person" consists of an interviewer talking with prominent personalities in their homes. The program featured Edward R. Murrow for a number of years but now is moderated by Charles Collingwood.

Aaron and Zousmer said it was no secret that the show had been prepared in advance. After a conference with Stanton, they told him in a letter:

"We regret that you find yourself unwilling to correct your unwarranted slur on your "Person to Person" program that recently appeared in print."

Stanton replied in a letter that his statement "certainly was not intended as a slur on 'Person to Person,' its producers and staff, or on the many guests who have appeared on the program."

"Indeed, it referred to a production practice for which, as I have admitted, we at CBS have been at least as responsible as anyone else."

"All I have asked of you is that you inform the viewing public of the production practices on 'Person to Person' so that the program can be exactly what it purports to be."

To this, Aaron and Zousmer replied: "We're in the television business. We're not in the business of issuing statements. Our letter to Stanton still stands. We're getting out."

The producer said they would stay on long enough for an "orderly change" in the administration and production of the program.

In another development Mark Goodson, co-producer of "The Price is Right," an NBC TV show, said the program's occasional practice of advising all contestants not to bid above a certain figure had been dropped more than a year ago.

A former contestant on the show George Price of Canton, Ohio, said Wednesday that in June, 1958, he had been told by a staff member on the show not to exceed a bid of $3,100 in seeking to win a Mediterranean cruise by guessing the value of the cruise in competition with other contestants.

Goodson said this practice had involved no element of deception because all contestants were given the same information. Goodson said "The Price is Right" has "always been, and will continue to be, produced in a fair and honest manner."

Michigan State Officials Tighten Strings On Purse

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State officials tightened strings on a nearly empty purse Friday and hoped the Legislature would come up soon with a source of needed funds.

The state faced a new cash crisis as result of a Michigan Supreme Court decision Thursday knocking out a one per cent use tax designed to raise 10 million dollars and wipe out an 80 million dollar state deficit.

The state administrative board cut out virtually all out-of-state travel by state employees, filling of job vacancies and all but emergency purchases of supplies.

Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was due back from a four-week vacation abroad to take on the Republican-controlled Legislature in a new tax battle.

The court split 5-3 in ruling that the use tax was basically a sales tax increase in disguise and to be valid would have to be submitted to popular vote. Earlier this year Republicans sought to do this but were blocked by Democrats who demanded a state income tax.

Michigan has a three per cent sales tax, the maximum that can be levied under the state constitution. The use tax would have raised the tax to four per cent.

Before it was knocked out, the use tax raised 14 million dollars. The state revenue department estimated that 40 per cent of this might have to be refunded. But red tape was expected to discourage many taxpayers from attempting to collect.

The Legislature, which has been in a marathon session since January, will reconvene next Thursday to tackle the tax problem again. Republican leaders have gone to work on alternative proposals.
