Folk In Klamath Termed Honest By GP Hunter

A Grants Pass man was delighted with the honesty of a Klamath area resident recently. Sherman Dahl, a building contractor, lost his billfold while hunting in the Dog Lake vicinity. He shot a deer, and while tagging him, put his wallet on his car's bumper, then forgot to pick it up. Friends told him he'd never see the wallet again. It contained $90 Dahl thought, as well as plenty of identification. He argued that the finder would notify him.

When Dahl returned home, he was informed of a phone call from Mrs. Ted Alberts of Lorella who found the wallet and wanted to return it. She said she found $135 in it.

The billfold was retrieved by Mrs. Frank Broderick of Klamath Falls, Dahl's daughter.

Wrote Dahl this week to the Herald and News, "I believe most people are honest and this helps prove it."

Air Ride Set For Scouts

Explorer Scouts of the Modoc Council are getting set for an Air Force sponsored DC-3 orientation flight over Klamath Falls and the Klamath Basin Saturday at 8 a.m. Capt. Frank Kelley, Kingsley Field Explorer Project officer, has arranged for boys to witness take-off and landing procedures and is planning on a contingent of from 30 to 40 boys.

Explorers, to qualify for the flight, must be in uniform and show flight releases signed by their parents or guardians. Release forms are available at scout headquarters, 1819 Manzanita Street.

Altamont Junior High News

By ROXIE BENNINGTON
On October 9, Altamont Junior High seventh grade played two games. Mr. Fletcher was the coach of one team. The score was 24-6 in favor of Altamont. We played Sacred Heart. Steve Baker and Ricky Gustavson made the touchdowns. Mr. Whipple coaches the other seventh grade team. Their score was 16-0 in favor of the Fremont Midgets. Steven Good broke his arm during the game.

Thursday, October 15, the students at Altamont had their pictures taken. Our pictures were taken by sections.

On Friday, October 16, 1959 we had Jerks' Day. The seventh graders were required to do the following: Wear clothes inside out and backwards; wear a potato around the neck; wear opposite shoes and socks; have uncombed hair; must bow to the word "jerk" if given by an eighth grader; seventh graders must carry eighth graders' books on the school grounds. For boys only: Have pants rolled up to the knees. Kangaroo Court was a trial of the guilty seventh graders. Students were on trial for the following:

1. A boy was accused of being late for the bus and his punishment was to ride a tricycle in his first step toward riding his bike to school.

2. Three girls, who are always telling our football players that they "don't know how to play the game," played a short game of football for us.

3. A boy who was accused of not singing in music class had to sing a song with a banana in his mouth.

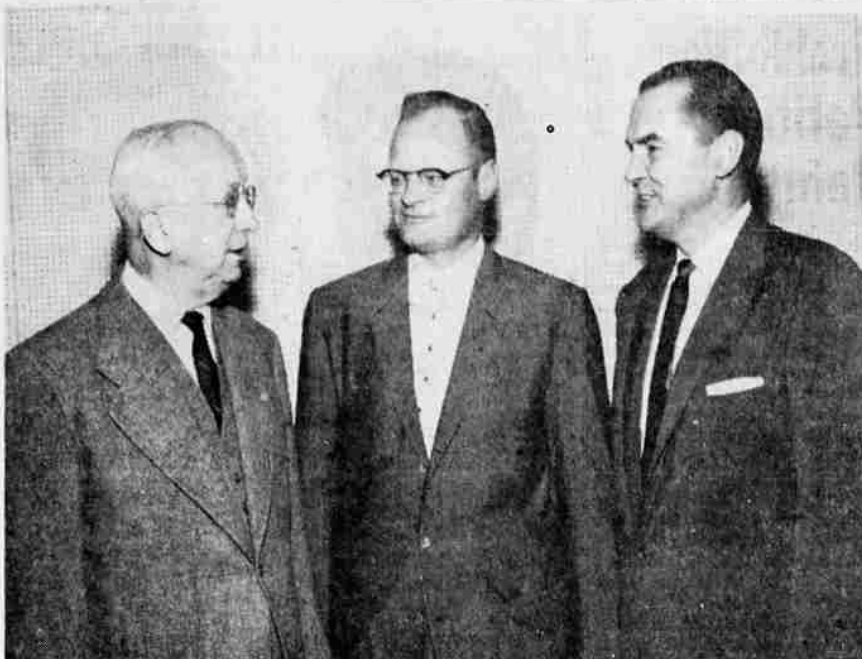

4. A boy who always cut in on dancing and a girl that didn't know how to dance (according to the jury) had to dance to a record.

To end Jerks' Day, the student council girls put on a skit. The girls had a boxing match. A short eighth grader and a tall seventh grader were put in the ring as opponents, however the outcome was that the rest of the student council members ended up boxing. The eighth graders won.

Saturday, October 17, 1959, Altamont Junior High participated in the football jamboree for the first time. Altamont's eighth grade team played a five-minute game. The score was 26-0. Chuck Mills and Rick Van Camp made one touchdown each. Robert Dalton made two touchdowns and Tom Day made two points to beat Fremont. Altamont's first string coached by Mr. Whipple lost to Fairview, the score was 6-0. Our second string, coached by Mr. Fletcher played the Fremont Midgets. The teams tied.

License Found

An operators license registered to Charles John Lyche of Box 73, Buxton, Oregon, was found by a football fan at Modoc Field, Klamath Union High School, Saturday night. City police have the license and some photographs the finder turned in at headquarters.

WILLIAM GANONG JR., of Klamath Falls, center, is the new secretary of the Pacific Area Advisory Council of the American National Red Cross, elected at a recent meeting in San Francisco. Others attending the meeting included Frederick Greenwood, Portland, left, who has served on the council for two years, and Donald W. Stout, manager of the Red Cross Pacific Area. The council, made up of prominent Red Cross volunteer leaders from the nine western states that comprise the Pacific Area, serves as an advisory group to administrative officials of the Red Cross. — American Red Cross Photo

Meeting Set By Scouts

All Boy Scout "institutional representatives" are asked to attend a district committee meeting at headquarters, 1819 Manzanita Street, today at 7:30 p.m. Atop the agenda is discussion of plans to organize swimming periods for scouts at the Klamath Union High School Natatorium as a segment of the YMCA plan for community use of the pool.

Other matters up for discussion are organization and reorganization of scout units, starting camp promotion plans for next summer and reports on independent fund campaigns at Tulelake and Dorris.

The regular monthly meeting will be under direction of Jim Young, district chairman of Klamath Falls.

Governor Of California May Face John Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some like New Hampshire, Ohio, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon he wouldn't have the 736 votes needed for the nomination.

Their theory is that he needs to crack open the big state lineup that could be formed against him of California, Pennsylvania and New York all held out and the South stayed largely with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

A Kennedy venture into California's late primary would carry the trappings of an all-or-nothing gamble. To be licked in California a month before the convention probably would be fatal to Kennedy's ambitions. A victory might start the bandwagon rolling.

There are other factors to be considered, however. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said that if Kennedy jumps in the swim, he will too. Others might follow with the result that Brown would be favored in a multiple-candidate contest.

Among Kennedy's friends in California there is also the feeling that Brown would not be invincible if the senator should decide to make an all-out campaign in the primary.

Some of these supporters believe Kennedy may be faced with the necessity of making some such bold move if he is to go into the July convention in Los Angeles with a lead which would make it difficult for opponents to put together a stop-Kennedy movement.

Kennedy already is studying the possibility of challenging Gov. Michael V. DeSalle's favorite son ambitions in Ohio. But some of Kennedy's advisers believe that even if he won primaries in states

Josephine Tops Klamath In District Timber Sale

Of the 41,278,000 board feet of timber sold during the three-month period ending September 1 by the Medford district of the Bureau of Land Management, 10,577,000 feet were located in Klamath County to make it the district's second largest producer.

Only Josephine County produced more sale timber. Nearly all timber sold locally went to Klamath Falls mills. Throughout the district trees brought an average price of $35.60 per thousand feet. The total footage appraised at $1,120,723, but bidders paid $1,470,491. Highest price paid was $65.75 per thousand feet of ponderosa pine and $44.50 per thousand of Douglas fir.

By terms of the O & C Act of 1937, 75 per cent of the amount collected will be distributed to the 16 western Oregon and California counties in lieu of tax payments on a pro-rata basis. With approval of counties involved, 25 per cent of receipts will be retained and reappropriated by Congress for access road construction and reforestation programs. An access road that will open up more than 600 million feet of BLM timber in the Dead-Indian-Keno area is under consideration. Bids may be let soon. The road, called the "Keno Access Road," will measure about 23 miles in length. Target date for completion is 1960.

Early completion of the eastern portion of the road will be vital to Klamath Falls area mills. BLM men say. The county is "log hungry" due to the federal government's clamping off sales on the Klamath Indian Reservation, a former key hunting grounds for local timber buyers, they say.

The BLM also completed rights of way agreements with the Weyerhaeuser Company for access to tracts interlocking with Weyerhaeuser lands in western Klamath County and for easements for construction of the Keno Access Road.

Scout Chiefs Hold Meeting

The first of three training meetings for scouting leaders was conducted Monday night in Altamont Elementary School's gymnasium under direction of Bob Abbey, Scout Training Committee chairman.

Others are scheduled for November 2 and November 9 at the same place at 7:30 p.m. The sessions last two hours each.

Leaders reviewed "what Boy Scouting is," and "what Cub Scouting is" at Monday's meeting. November 2 they will discuss "troop operation" and "the cub achievement plan." Topics for the November 9 meeting are "meetings and activities" for scout leaders and "den and pack activities" for cub supervisors.

Mrs. Dorothy Estenson is handling instructions for cub leaders. Leaders, to qualify for certificates of completion, must have attended all three meetings.

FEEL EARTH TREMOR
COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI)—A slight earth tremor was felt in central and northeastern South Carolina Monday night, the U.S. Weather Bureau here reported. The tremor, which lasted about three or four seconds, occurred about 9:10 p.m. e.s.t. No damage was reported.
