Railroad-Union Hassle To Break Open Sunday

CHICAGO (AP)—The most explosive issue between the nation's railroads and railroad unions—a controversy that has brought threats of a possible nationwide strike—will come out in the open Sunday.

The carriers will make their formal proposals for changing the rules that have governed railroad work for more than four decades.

The railroads call the work agreements "featherbedding"—forced payment for work not done or needed. They claim the practices they want to eliminate are obsolete and wasteful and cost them more than $50 million dollars a year.

The unions counter that the working rules are essential to insure safe and efficient railroad transportation. They claim that railroad workers have a higher record of increased productivity than any other class of workers.

The management proposals will reach union officials Monday or Tuesday. Industry spokesmen estimate that if neither side yields or compromises in later negotiations, a legal nationwide strike could be called by around next April 1. Dispute-handling provisions of the Railway Labor Act would prevent a legal walkout over the issue before that date.

If a nationwide strike is called, more than 800,000 railroad workers would be made idle.

Wage negotiations are deadlocked with three key unions. A walkout over this issue conceivably could come as early as next January if all settlement and delaying efforts fail.

The unions have demanded a 12 per cent pay boost and the carriers countered with a proposal they take a 15-cent hourly pay cut.

A three-year moratorium expires Monday on the working rules affecting 210,000 employees engaged in the actual operation of the trains.

Management planned its frontal attack on the work agreements several months ago. Handley Wright, vice president of the Association of American Railroads, said the action was prompted by "dire economic necessity and we are dead serious."

The railroads have run large ads in newspapers across the country headed, "Railroad Featherbedding, $500,000,000 Loss Every Year—and It's Your Loss Too."

This management campaign has drawn the ire of union leaders. The Railway Labor Executives Assn. has planned a massive labor rally in Chicago Nov. 5 billed as "rail labor's counterattack upon the industry's propaganda campaign."

"Evidence of strong employee resentment at management's tactics in recent months, which has been shown at recent rallies of railroad workers throughout the country, has brought concern that the continuous vicious charges by management may create a situation where a strike becomes inevitable," the RLEA said.

The featherbedding charge is directed against the five unions whose members operate the trains—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Management's proposal for a 15-cent-an-hour pay cut was suggested to these unions and to 16 unions representing about 600,000 non-operating workers such as clerks, machinists and telegraphers.

Management says the average straight-time hourly earnings of railroad workers in June were $2.70, compared with $2.16 for workers in general manufacturing.

If the work rules and wage disputes reach the National Railway Mediation Board, the law requires that another 60 days elapse after they exhaust their efforts before a strike can be called.

Magnesium Car Still Ablaze

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Fire, brilliant white and to 3,000 degrees hot, still was coming from the shell of a freight car in a railroad yard on the city's northeast side early today.

The car, loaded with eight tons of magnesium, caught fire in the Great Northern Hillyard yards Thursday and blast after blast followed. Firemen said the magnesium, a light, tough metal that burns hot, may glow and sputter for another day or so.

They said the blaze apparently started from a welder's torch.

GN officials said there were no injuries.

Firemen are working to contain the blaze.
