Venture Club Initiates Girls

Initiation of new members and a guest speaker highlighted the October 20 meeting of Venture Club. A social hour preceded the dinner meeting attended by club members and their Soroptimist sponsors at the Winema Hotel.

Following the invocation presented by Dixie Nendel, Mary Bothwell, president of Soroptimists, greeted guests and made introductions.

"Woman Power in Politics" was chosen by Olive Cornett as the topic for her interesting and informative talk.

During the impressive initiation ceremony eight girls became members of Venture Club. They are Shirlee Wardell, Pat O'Harra, Pauline Herlihy, Genevieve Amberg, Susan Boyd, Sharon Hawkins, Dolores Dalmer and Phyllis Davis.

The closing service was led by Sharon Dewing, Venture Club president.

Bethel 61

Honored Queen Penny Preston and her officers held the first fall initiation at the regular meeting of Bethel No. 61, International Order of Job's Daughters, on Monday, October 19, at the Scottish Rite Temple.

Many guests and members were present including a group of visitors from Bethel No. 6. Phyllis Poole, past grand guardian, was introduced and welcomed. Mrs. Natalia Reichenberg, guardian, was assisted with the evening's work by Larry Whytal, who substituted for the associate guardian, Ray Owens.

Officers were complimented on their work as five new members were welcomed into the order. They were Janis Owens, Barbara Cofer, Carolee Westwood, Joni Ruck and Dona Swain.

THE ANNUAL BAZAAR given by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church is always a delight for early Christmas shoppers. This year will be no exception as evidenced by the display of articles pictured with three of the church women, from left to right, May Phinney, Mrs. G. A. Nichol and Mrs. Fred Stemler. Date of the bazaar is November 14 in the church parlors where fancy work, toys and a variety of baked foods will be on sale and a luncheon will be served at noon. — Photo by Kettler

Business was conducted as usual with plans announced for a formal dance on November 7 at the Yacht Club. Girls were requested to have their candy money in by the next meeting on November 2.

The librarian, Diane Bringle, entertained the Bethel by reading a poem, "November." After the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room, the tables attractive with fall flowers and colored leaves.

COLD TOMATO

NEW YORK (UPI)—A delicious cold lunch features tomatoes stuffed with chicken and sauerkraut. To serve six, cut the tops from six large tomatoes. Remove the pulp and mix it well with one (one-pound) can of sauerkraut, drained, one cup of diced cooked chicken, 1/4 cup of mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste. Fill tomato shells with this mixture and chill.

GETTING AHEAD

EVANSTON (UPI)—Pick the right books for hubby and you may nudge him closer to that big promotion, says Peter F. Siegle, a consulting psychologist. For better or for worse, he reports, the little woman has a tremendous influence on her husband's reading tastes. During a survey, Siegle learned that many senior and junior executives tend to read haphazardly.

Ramblings

By RUTH KING

Few there were along the parade route at Merrill who knew there was a U.S. champion helping to make the big festival parade a success . . . or that pert and pretty Juanita Stevens, just 12 years old, won that honor as the best baton twirler in all the states in her age division. . . .

Juanita, member of the Journal Juniors, pranced and twirled in white satin suit and sequins, to lead the Klamath Falls Drum Corps that drummed and bugled through town. . . . Juanita was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. M. (Jessie) Stevens, Portland, once of Klamath County. The accomplished little girl has an aunt and uncle, Mary Malone Thacker of Town and Country and her husband, Homer Thacker, in the meat department at Griggs in Merrill.

Cupid peeked around the corners at the coronation of Queen Janice Lisk and her princesses Phyllis Derra, Claudette Pfeiffer, Norma Souers and Sally Reed . . . wedding bells will ring come roses and spring for a member of the court.

My! My! those harried judges who had to tally points for winning floats. The grapevine service sex 'twas truly a task with totals so close it "hurt" to announce the finals.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

TULELAKE — Steve Scott celebrated his eighth birthday with a party at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scott on Thursday afternoon, October 15. Friends who helped Steve celebrate were Tom Robison, Melvin Thompson, Lee and John Oman, Randy and Glen Darrow, David Pruitt, Kenny Parsons, David Allison, Doug Powell, Dennis Oman, Bobby Porterfield and Mark Scott. The youngsters spent the afternoon playing football. Others who joined the party for the refreshments of birthday cake with all the trimmings were Barbara and Eileen Darrow, Jenny Oman, and Karen and Frankie Porterfield.

Folks at barbecue where attendance nudged 3,000 by count of paper plates, tasted fine fare including prime beef from our county ranches.

Delicious salmon served at the banquet, fresh from waters on Winchester Bay on restless Pacific, was a gift of Gardner-Reeds.

port Lions Club, sorry for inlanders who long to dip a line and sometimes go to Salmon Derby.

Two pats on back go to Klamath County's senator, Harry Bolvin, who helped festival through legislative urgings receive $1,000 of state pari-mutuel money to help show grow and grow.

U.S. Rep. Al Ullman, second district, watched parade put together and tasted Klamath County beef at barbecue . . . talked a bit and met farm and city folks.

Crowded? The harvest ball was "packed" with 746 hope folks and visitors buying tickets to see pretty girls and trip to Baldy's Band.

Banquet entertainment took us back to the days of "Bicycle Built For Two," with a bit of a twinge . . . home town talent really shines.

Dick and Dean Marks who prepared banquet for 350 guests delighted dinner gourmets . . . Marks Cafe folks know their seasons.
