Cons Held First Strike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The first sit-down strike in America took place in 1886 at Coal Hill, according to the Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission.

During the early days of the Arkansas penitentiary system, convicts were leased to private contractors in agriculture and industry.

The convicts had to work long hours without pay and were treated harshly. The sit-down strike occurred when a number of them working for a contractor in a coal mine sat down in the tunnels and refused to leave.

The sit-downers erected barricades, killed the car mules for food and fashioned a crude cannon from iron pipe. They loaded the cannon with scrap metal and blasting powder and dared anyone to enter the mine.

After 18 days, the various demands of the sit-down-strikers for better treatment were met, and a subsequent investigation brought the abolishment of the system of leasing prisoners.

SELF-ADDRESSED TRAFFIC TIX
TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — This city recently began giving out self-addressed return envelopes with its traffic tickets. Officials said the envelopes should speed the payment of fines and reduce book-keeping and administrative costs of police traffic bureau.
