Home Extension

LINDLEY HEIGHTS

Members of the Lindley Heights Home Extension Unit learned how to cut a good piece of beef to make three meals, cooked meat during the beef cookery project and served it for luncheon.

The meeting, November 10, was conducted by Lauralie Barrett, chairman, who read a poem written by Margaret Freuer, of the Poe Valley-Olene Unit.

Members will have a Christmas party at the December meeting with a gift exchange of something handmade. Knitting will be the next project.

Kathryn Billings and Lois Book attended a project leaders training meeting November 16 on the subject of soups.

BONANZA UNIT

BONANZA—The Bonanza Home Extension Unit met at the Bonanza Library at 10:30 recently with Alice Drew in charge. Hostesses were Hazel Drew and Florence Horn.

The project was beef cookery led by Cassie Ritter and Lura Urbach. The delicious pot roast was served for luncheon. The birthday cake was for Alice Drew, Eula Prough, Lura Urbach and Phyllis Reid.

A letter was read from the Langell Valley Unit inviting the Bonanza members to their luncheon and Christmas party in Langell Valley Parish Hall on December 2.

The next Bonanza Extension meeting will be at the library January 12 at 10:30. Making soups, will be the project led by Phyllis Reid and Evelyn Valentine. Hostesses will be Catherine Jendrzewski and Eula Prough. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

CONGER-FAIRVIEW UNIT

A very interesting and tasty demonstration of beef cookery was conducted by Mrs. Thelma Gwyn and Mr. Marjorie Walp at the November 6 meeting of the Conger-Fairview Home Extension Unit. Members helped prepare the meat which was served at noon to 23 members and guests.

New members present were Mrs. Ruby Beaver, Mrs. Nancy Buttner, Mrs. Fran Hayes, Mrs. June Zumwalt, Mrs. Holly O'Neale. Guests included Mrs. D. C. Dimmitt of Medford, Mrs. Betty Dodson and Mrs. Mildred Smith.

The next meeting will be on ideas for Christmas on December 4.

ALTAMONT UNIT

Mrs. Wes Harsey and Mrs. J. W. Vernon led the beef cookery project for the November meeting of the Altamont Home Extension Unit. Three roasts used in the demonstration were later served to 29 members and three guests present. Guests were Mrs. Gladys Melhase, Mrs. Janet Nix and Mrs. Ida Mathes.

Hostesses for luncheon were Mrs. D. C. Redfield, Mrs. K. G. Young and the project leaders, Mrs. Harsey and Mrs. Vernon.

The December meeting will be a potluck and a Christmas party. Members will bring ideas for decorations, gift ideas, or a family tradition carried out in their family.

In place of the usual gift exchange each one is to bring canned goods or staples to make up a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Moose Women

November 3 was the chapter night program for Chapter No. 467, Women of the Moose, for the Library Committee, with Millie Sheehy, chairman. For the program Debra Kennedy played several piano numbers and Mrs. Irene Hawkins, assistant city librarian, spoke on the books available at the city library for the youngsters of this area. At the close of the program, Mrs. Sheehy presented Mrs. Hawkins with a book for the library from the Women of the Moose. The Library Committee also sent library books to Mooseheart, Illinois, for the use of children at Mooseheart.

Assisting Mrs. Sheehy were committee members Jackie Leach and Mildred Eklund. Following the program, the chapter held enrollment with Senior Regent Frances Williams presiding. Enrolled in honor of the Library Committee were Margaret K. Thompson and Lois J. Thompson sponsored by Jackie Leach, Johanna Snider, sponsored by Ruby Bell, and Aubrey Carter, sponsored by Millie Sheehy.

Members present enjoyed refreshments served at an attractive set table.

PTA NEWS

FAIRVIEW SCHOOL

Mrs. Arthur Moore gave an interesting talk on the history of PTA at the October 22 meeting of Fairview PTA. She highlighted many of the lesser known projects and services that the PTA has sponsored throughout the years, and gave many statistics that showed how far PTA had come from its inception.

Nancy Clark provided incidental music preceding the meeting. The flag salute was led by Dawn Veitch and Randy Dossett, followed by the PTA prayer read in unison.

Room count was won by Mrs. Joe LaClair's first grade. The special prize was won by William Hamilton.

The sixth grade mothers were hostesses to a tea hour in the cafeteria.

HENLEY

The Henley Parents and Patrons met on November 4 in the school cafeteria. Invocation was led by Mrs. Bonnie Finchum, chaplain, and the flag salute by the two second grades.

Mrs. Eleanor Sukrow announced the winner of the membership drive to be Mrs. Peterson's sixth grade.

Announcements were made concerning the school carnival held on November 14 and the cancer film showing on November 17. Plans were made for a spaghetti

Soroptimists Meet In Yreka

YREKA — The Yreka Soroptimist Club voted during last week's luncheon meeting to sponsor Girl Scout, Troop No. 244, which is comprised of 13 fifth grade girls, with Mrs. Alice Coburn as leader.

During the session, which was conducted by Ruth Barklow, president, various reports of committees were heard.

Myrtle Weininger, service objectives chairman, reported that her committee is studying several community projects to be submitted to the club for approval and acceptance. Program chairman, Olive Young, announced programs for the next three months. Chairman of the bylaws committee, Helen Walter, reported that her committee has completed the proposed bylaws of the club, which have been sent to regional headquarters for approval. Betty Flannery, finance chairman, submitted the proposed budget for the year, which was accepted by club members.

Ruth McKinnie of Klamath Falls will be the student leader of the 15-minute morning chapel service at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts, on Saturday, November 21.

Twice each week an outstanding student conducts the non-sectarian service at the Houghton Memorial Chapel on the campus. Other mornings the president of the college, a faculty member or a visiting clergyman leads the service.

Ruth McKinnie is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Marshall A. McKinnie.

ti dinner and fun night. Members are asked to donate small items suitable for surprise packages.

After discussion it was voted that the Parents and Patrons sponsor a Cub Scout troop.

Room count was won by the fifth grade, and refreshments were served by second grade mothers.

Alpha Delta Kappa

Beautiful arrangements of bronze chrysanthemums decorated the home of Mrs. C. F. Harris for the November meeting of Alpha Delta Kappa.

Alice Tronnes, co-hostess, displayed many interesting articles collected by her on a recent trip to the Scandinavian countries. She also showed slides of Norway, Lapland and Scotland.

Refreshments were served following the meeting and program.

Attending were Mrs. James Boyle, Mrs. George Braman, Mrs. Paul Buck, Emilie Haldeman, Marcel Hanson, Mrs. James Lear, Mrs. Kenneth Marsh, May Phinney, Leora Repp, Mrs. Sam Rice, Florence Walker, Mrs. C. F. Harris and Alice Tronnes. Mrs. Marsh's mother, Mrs. A. E. Klinga of Los Angeles was a guest.

THREE YEAR OLD PARTY

BONANZA—Mrs. James Morley gave a birthday party at her home in Bonanza the afternoon of November 10, in her honor of her daughter, Kiza, who was 3 years old. Two birthday cakes were served to the youngsters. Guests were Kiza and Tim Morley, Kathy and Betty Lou Steber, Gail Holt, Marie, Kathy and David Angel, Chris, Greg and Chuck Shipley, and Nancy Angel. Mothers attending were Mrs. Charles Steber, Mrs. Dillard Shipley, Mrs. Homer Holt, Mrs. Jesse Angel, and Mrs. LeRoy Fernlund.

BPW Sponsors Cancer Survey

MOUNT SHASTA — Mrs. Mary Dorlaque, chairman of the Cancer Fund drive in Southern Siskiyou County, has announced that a survey will be made soon of people over 45 years of age on cancer potentials.

A representative will call on all residents of the area, and all information will be held in confidence to be checked at a future date in an attempt to aid cancer control. Mrs. Dorlaque requests everyone to cooperate in order to make the work effective.

The cancer fund survey is being sponsored by the Mount Shasta Business and Professional Women's Club, whose president, Mrs. Myrtle Rodefer, says the club is doing everything to make the entire cancer program a success.

Player's Club

A social hour preceded the dinner attended by 42 members and guests of Players Club on November 4 at the Moose lodge. Women of the Moose served the dinner.

Tables were decorated with fall flowers by Kathleen Hepburn and Dorothy Neet, who served as hostesses for the evening.

Mrs. Minnie Kramenberg and Mrs. Vivian Fisher were prize winners at pinocle and Mrs. Inez Chase and Mrs. Dorothy Neet were high in bridge.

WANTED COLORS

Olive, turquoise and brown are wanted colors in print and plain cotton blouses this fall. Many of these take the form of the cropped top.

BEAUTY BRIEF
Women with deep-set eyes need not refrain from enjoying today's glamorizing eye shadow make-ups for fear of accentuating their problem. Just remember to choose shades that give the most light reflection, such as light blues or greens. Muted shades, like brown and gray, cause eyes to look deeper-set.
