Criminal Cases To Start In County Circuit Court

Criminal cases returned by the grand jury will go to trial beginning a week from Monday, according to a docket set by Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg.

The judge set trial dates for nine defendants, denied six of seven motions of dismissal of charges, and scheduled hearing of pleas from seven defendants during a busy noon court session Friday.

THE FIRST TRIAL of the present criminal docket is scheduled for 10 a.m. November 30 when the state will present its case against Wendell Floyd Long, 22, accused of burglary in the theft of a guitar and a trumpet from local churches.

Welfare Pay Tightening Requested

PORTLAND (AP)—The Assn. of Oregon Counties wound up its meeting here Friday by approving a number of resolutions which call for tightening up welfare payments.

The organization called for support of a proposal by the state Public Welfare Commission that able-bodied general assistance recipients be offered work instead of outright relief.

But the delegates said that each county should be permitted to decide whether it wants to participate in such a program.

The association also called for: Expansion of investigation by district attorneys to prevent welfare frauds and abuses.

A study of a possible monthly maximum payment for families on welfare.

Other resolutions called: Passage of Senate Joint Resolution 48, a state constitutional amendment, which would grant the power of home rule counties to issue general obligation bonds.

A constitutional six per cent tax limitation which would permit taxing units which fail to make a levy for three years to retain their tax base.

Resolutions which were tabled called for: Endorsement "in principle" of the effort being made to repeal the personal property tax.

A uniform bounty schedule for predatory animals.

The delegates elected R. D. Cook of Umatilla County as president, Judge James Harrison, Coquille, was named vice president, and Judge R. E. Renne, McMinnville, treasurer.

Officers elected by other county organizations: The Oregon Assn. of County Engineers and Surveyors—Paul North, Portland, president; H. D. Graham, Marion County, vice president; John A. Anderson, Marion County, secretary-treasurer.

The Oregon Clerks and Records Assn.—Hazel Powell, Crook County, president; Jack Baeler, Yamhill County, vice president; Jesse Bell, Umatilla County, secretary; Roger Thomssen, Washington County, treasurer.

Oregon County Treasurers Assn.—Eva Cook, Klamath County, president; Elve Townsend, Jefferson County, vice president; G. H. Van Horn, Malheur County, secretary-treasurer.

New Refuges Established

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Interior Department announced Thursday that two new wildlife refuges totaling 12,034 acres have been established in California and Texas.

It also has set aside an additional 19,688 acres in Montana for wildlife purposes.

The areas were included in an order transferring a total of more than 2,186,000 acres from the Agriculture Department to the Interior Department in November, 1959. The lands are of submarginal agricultural value and have been classified for forestry, grazing, and recreation.

The two new wildlife refuges are the Buffalo Lakes National Wildlife Refuge in Randall County, Texas, covering 7,677 acres, and the Pixley National Wildlife Refuge in Tulare County, California, covering 4,357 acres. The refuges will be administered by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

FREAK ACCIDENT BRIDGEWATER, Mass. (AP)—An automobile tire exploded in a garage Thursday, killing Floyd Tutts, 31. Police said he was struck by the tire casing or the rim.

Other scheduled trials: December 2—William Roy Hutchison, 39, accused of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by making advances toward a 5-year-old boy.

December 7—John William Carswell, 22, charged with illegal possession of narcotics after city police swooped down on an alleged marijuana sale on a downtown street corner.

December 21—Houston V. Brand, 34, charged with contributing by enticing an 11-year-old girl into his car.

December 23 — Walter Painter, 25, charged with larceny in the theft of sleeping bags, a radio, and other possessions from a former employer.

December 28—George Henry McClure, 24, charged with larceny in the theft of a lady's wristwatch from a jewelry store.

December 30 — Elroy "Haymaker" Butler, 35, accused of possession of stolen property after $2,000 worth of women's clothing was found in his home.

January 4 — Leonard Marvin Lugo, 21, charged with first degree murder in the pistol slaying of Joseph Martinez II in a downtown alley early August 31.

January 11—Harry William Ople, 30, charged with embezzling $1,200 from Klamath Kurstone Kowpokes while the organization's secretary-treasurer.

TWO OTHER FIRST degree murder cases were continued until this coming Friday. Both are against Michael Joseph, 52, accused of shooting Okey Eugene Richards and Harry Deman on a ranch near Chiloquin September 20. The continuance was granted to determine Joseph's representation by counsel.

Pleas are to be entered at noon Tuesday by six defendants for whom attorneys had sought dismissal on the ground that more than 90 days had elapsed between the time the defendants were bound over to the grand jury and the time they were indicted (November 3). The motions were based upon a new statute which decreed that if more than 60 days had elapsed, the state must show good cause why the charges should not be dismissed.

Judge Vandenberg ruled the state had shown good cause in that the circuit court docket has been too crowded to process the cases through the grand jury more rapidly.

THOSE DEFENDANTS to enter pleas: Leon Merle Crawford, 23, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon upon Chiloquin Police Chief Lou Jones.

Frank G. Sutton, 38, charged with contributing to the delinquency of his own 7-year-old daughter.

Leonard Edward Mackey, 34, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon upon Lydia Crain during a Main Street fight.

Russell Ruff, 45, charged with attempting to obtain property by false pretenses.

Linton E. Opegaard, 23, accused of burglary, and Norris Pier, 34, charged with larceny.

One motion for dismissal on the 60-day limitation was not heard by the judge. That was filed on behalf of Leon Pearson, 33, and Cleo Williams, 31, jointly accused of assaulting a man on a Chiloquin street and stealing $180 and a watch from his person.

The motion was not heard because Pearson and Miss Williams were represented by Attorney David R. Vandenberg Jr., the judge's son. Another judge must hear the case.

The bank president noted that although it required 30 years for the institution to reach the half billion dollar mark in assets, the second half billion was posted in the past 14 years.

First National, which was chartered on September 8, 1865, reached the half billion dollar mark in resources on August 31, 1945. It is interesting to note, Stephenson said, that the bank had exactly half its present total of 30 offices at the time, and within several thousand of half the present total of 606,725 commercial and savings accounts.

Stephenson expressed gratitude to the people of Oregon for their patronage which he said has made the billion dollar statement possible. "A sharp rise in individual savings by Oregonians has been a key factor in the growth of deposits to record peaks during the past year," he declared.

"The lively pace of Oregon's present economy is reflected in the bank's billion dollar statement," he continued. "The record volume of employment, record income of individuals and the new marks in individual savings throughout the state indicates our state's 1959 growth and development will exceed the national trends," the banker concluded.

KF Taxpayers Pay $1.2 Million

Klamath County taxpayers, collectively, have paid about one-fourth of their 1959-60 tax bill already.

Mrs. Esther Newell, chief deputy tax collector, said payments through Thursday amounted to $1,244,845.

The total tax bill, excluding special assessments, was $4,681,964.

Tax bills were mailed October 15, and penalties were applied November 15. The amount paid really is a little more, Mrs. Newell said, because her office was still swamped with mail it had not yet worked through.

Table arrangements were in Thanksgiving motif and fall colors.
