

Illaine Hagler Is Bride Of Charles McGillivray

Illaine Hagler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron E. Hagler of Oakridge, became the bride of Charles W. McGillivray, son of Mrs. C. E. McGillivray of Klamath Falls, on November 24 at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Msgr. T. P. Casey performed the ceremony at two o'clock before the altar decorated with baskets of amber and yellow chrysanthemums.

Tharon Hagler gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a bridal gown of white Chantilly lace and Skinner satin made with cap sleeves and sweetheart neckline edged with ruffles trimmed with seed pearls. A bustle effect at the skirt back extended into a chapel train. A seed pearl crown held the elbow length veil trimmed with Chantilly lace. She wore lace mitts and carried a cascade of white roses surrounding a white orchid. Her jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and a cameo ring which had belonged to her great aunt.

The maid of honor, Joyce Peterson, Oakridge, wore a waist length frock of beige chiffon over taffeta with a matching velvet hat and carried amber chrysanthemums. Sharon Hagler, bridesmaid, wore a gown of deep brown chiffon over beige taffeta with matching brown velvet hat. Carol Hagler, junior bridesmaid, wore a dress of turquoise chiffon over taffeta and blue velvet hat. The bridesmaids, both sisters of the bride, carried yellow chrysanthemums. All attendants wore Chantilly lace gloves and white brocade slippers.

Another sister, Frieda Hagler, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of pale pink organza over taffeta with a bow hat of pink. She carried a basket of yellow and bronze petals.

Thomas L. Knight was best man and ushers were Frank R. Brunek and George A. Sprague. Mike Knight was ring bearer.

Mrs. Hagler wore for the occasion a dress of toast brown lace and organza with brown accessories. Mrs. McGillivray chose a green flowered dress with beige accessories. Both mothers had corsages of yellow rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the parish hall where a three tiered cake centered the bride's table. Assisting were Mrs. Henry Muder, Mrs. Thomas Knight, Mrs. Norman Hanson and Mrs. Ace Ash. Sharon Hagler caught her sister's bridal bouquet.

For a wedding trip to California the new Mrs. McGillivray changed to a two piece coral wool suit which she wore with brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. She is a graduate of Oakridge High School. The bridegroom is a brakeman with the Southern Pacific Railroad in Klamath Falls where the young people will reside at 1321 Division Street.

Society Views Holiday Fashions

YREKA—A winter holiday fashion show was presented at the recent meeting of St. Joseph's Altar Society, held in St. Joseph's parish hall in Yreka.

Modeling the latest fashions for holiday festivities from local stores were Mrs. Ann Boyce, Mrs. Leona Bryan, Mrs. Dolores Clayton, Mrs. Grace Mice, and Mrs. Rosemary Svetlik of Montague, who was also in charge of the affair as program chairman.

Fashions modeled were furnished by Barklow's Dress Shop, Lake's Dress Shop, the Style Shop, J. C. Penney Company, and Montgomery Ward.

Entertainment during the intermission was provided by a trio, Mary Jo Lenz, Jane Mathews and Cherie Klisycz. Mrs. Marie Purinton accompanied the trio at the piano.

Preceding the fashion show, a brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Alice Colburn. Father Francis Sullivan gave the opening prayer.

It was announced that the group will hold a food sale on Saturday, December 5, in the City Meat Market on Miner Street in Yreka.

A report on the recent diocesan meeting of the National Council of Catholic Women held in Sacramento was given by Mrs. Marie Lenz of Montague.

The evening's activities were concluded with the serving of refreshments.

TOY MAGNET HANDY

Take along a toy magnet when shopping for catches and other window hardware. Brass-plated steel will stick to magnet; solid brass won't.

Past Officers Honored By OES

Many visitors and members were present to honor past matrons and past patrons at a regular meeting of Manzanita Chapter No. 172 OES held on November 11 in the Scottish Rite Temple. The chapter room was decorated with blue gavel for the occasion. Presiding over the meeting were Nina Hall, worthy matron, and William Steiner, worthy patron.

The past matrons and past patrons were introduced and escorted to the east. They included Thelma Cresswell, 1951, Vera Fritsch, 1952, Helen McCormack, 1953, Lois Goeck, 1954, Ray Grams, 1955, Georgianne Clark and Gus Vlahos, 1956-57, Marion Grant, 1957-58, and Junior Past Matron Gladys Chubb, 1958-59. Honored members were given an addendum by the officers and courtesy stars and each was presented with a gift from the chapter.

The altar was draped in memory of Clara A. Marsden, a past grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Oregon.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Irene Ongman, chairman, assisted by Cliff Ongman, Jean Dixon, Vera and Lester Darlow, and Maud Cox.

College News

Elisabeth Dey, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Norbert Dey, was one of 128 students honored in the semiannual honors convocation at Valparaiso University on November 18. The special session at University Memorial Chapel recognized those students who earned an average of 2.5 points or better in a 3 point system.

Recently enrolled as freshmen at Lewis and Clark College, four students from the Klamath Falls area will be wearing their orange and black bows and dinks designating class status until the Christmas holidays. This tradition is being enforced as a result of the defeat by sophomores at the annual pushball game. Local students include Charmion Biehn, Katherine Lemire, Donald McCarty and David Cooper.

Arthur Russell and Floyd Stout, both freshmen at Oregon State College, have been selected for membership in Silver Wings, Air Force ROTC drill honor society.

BEST UPKEEP

Best upkeep for a wardrobe is to make repairs right away. Let rips accumulate and they look like a mountain.

Shower Honors Irene Strunk

BONANZA—A bridal shower was given at the Bonanza Library in honor of Irene Strunk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strunk of Langell Valley, who will become the bride of Gary Atwood, son of Mrs. Robert Colwell of Klamath Falls. The party was held November 12 with Kathleen Turner, Karen Hankins, Virgie Schmoie, Carol Holt and Claudette Pfeiffer as hostesses.

Pink snapdragons, white carnations and heather were used to decorate the gift table. Marcine Holt made and decorated the cake. Prizes for games went to Marie Ellis, Bertha Colwell and the bride-to-be.

Esther Winders helped her sister open the gifts and another sister, Carolyn Strunk, fashioned the ribbon bouquet.

Present were Beverley Roberts, Kay Brett, Bertha Colwell, Deanna Brown, Judy and Joyce Roberts, Verona Dayley, Carolyn and Marie Ellis, Florence Turner, Anna Strunk, Michelle Shanholzer, Sandra Strunk, Thelma Schmoie, Louise Woods, Lottie Heseltine, Edna and Sandra Strunk, Marcine Holt, Betty Steber, Jackie Morley, Shirley Horsley, Carolyn Strunk, Faye Roberts, Pat Cheek, Arlene Strunk, Sharon and Emma Shultz, Florence Baldock, Emma Winders, Edith Douglas, Elizabeth Ledbetter, Georgia Smith, and Norma Roberts.

Two Celebrate Marriage Date

DURHAM—Former Hazel Creek, Shasta County residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Curtis, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently at a dinner in their honor given by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Curtis Jr., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Craig Brown. The goldenweds now live on Lott Road near Durham.

Ernest Curtis, a native of Nicolaus, Sutter County, and Myrtle Anderson of Gridley, Butte County, were married October 27, 1909, by the Rev. Will Stewart Wilson in the Presbyterian Church parsonage in Marysville, California.

After the wedding the couple moved to Hazel Creek near Dunsmuir where he was a line foreman for a telephone company. They now operate one of the largest dairies in Butte County.

Mrs. Julia McMurtry of Gridley, sister of Mrs. Curtis, who attended the wedding 50 years ago was present for the anniversary.

The three granddaughters of the Curtises are Dianne Curtis, Charlene and Claudine Brown, of Chico, Butte County.

Baby Shower

Mrs. William MacKenzie of Falcon Heights was a recent hostess at a baby shower in honor of Mrs. Dale Peloquin. Approximately 50 guests enjoyed an afternoon of games and visiting at the Officers' Club at Kingsley Field.

Among the guests was Mrs. Hazel Smith of Denver, Colorado, mother of Mrs. Peloquin.

Mrs. MacKenzie was assisted by Mrs. Stephen Huisenfeldt and Mrs. John Holman.

GROUP MAKES SCRAPBOOKS

LANGELL VALLEY—Mrs. Mae Gale invited a few young friends to her home November 28 to make eight scrapbooks for Doernbecher Hospital. After the books were completed Mrs. Leland Harris told the youngsters' fortunes and Mrs. Gale showed slides taken in Arizona, California and Mexico. Refreshments were served to Maria and Monte Burnett, Kathy and Robin Brett, Wilma Alberts, Fleur Partridge, Virginia and Allan Harris, Ramona Boomer and David Seater. Mrs. Bill Burnett and Mrs. Leland Harris assisted Mrs. Gale.
