Police Free Mickey Cohen

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mickey Cohen was free Saturday but must appear this week before a county Grand Jury in connection with the restaurant-slaying of a strongarm bookmaker.

Police released Cohen, his 18-year-old girl friend, model Claretta (Sandy) Hashagen, and George Piscitelle, 28, who were seized after the Wednesday night shooting of Jack (The Enforcer) Whalen, 39.

The trio allegedly sat at a table six feet away from Whalen when he was killed at Ronelli's restaurant in nearby Sherman Oaks. Tony Reno, 25, with the Cohen party, was still in custody after voluntarily surrendering Thursday.

Ex-convict Cohen and his girl friend were given subpoenas before leaving the jail and driving off in a sports car with an unidentified man. Cohen sneered at officers but later broke into a big smile when he again tasted freedom.

Police Chief William H. Parker said the three were released because the case remained too complex to seek complaints from the district attorney's office. State law requires a suspect be released within 48 hours of arrest if no complaint is filed.

Earlier, the Grand Jury announced it would open a full-scale investigation into the gangland-style killing Tuesday.

The jury's criminal committee was ordered into session Friday while police attempted to unravel numerous stories about Whalen's threat to turn "stool pigeon" against competitive bookmakers.

Record Firms Get Warning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government Saturday gave nine record companies 30 days to answer charges they "deceived the public" by giving hidden gifts or cash to radio and TV disc jockeys to have records plugged.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) took its first firm action to crack down on reports of widespread payola practices Friday by filing separate complaints against three record manufacturers, including the Radio Corporation of America (RCA) and six distributors.

The FTC did not disclose the names of any disc jockeys who, it said, took under-the-table payments to play a single record as many as six to 10 times a day on their popular music programs.

The federal agency, in addition to naming RCA of New York, also filed the complaint against two other record manufacturers—London Records, Inc., of New York and Bernard Lowe Enterprises, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The six record distributors named in a separate complaint were Edward S. Barsky, Inc.; Chips Distributing Co., Inc.; David Rosen, Inc.; Universal Record Distributing Corp., and Sparks Music Distributors, Inc., all of Philadelphia; and Main Line Cleveland, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio.

In Cleveland Main Line advertising director James Shipley admitted his company had sent regular checks to disc jockeys Joe Finan and Wes Hopkins, who were fired Thursday by station KWY in Cleveland for accepting payola.

But Shipley said his firm was only a middleman — "the deal was between the factory (RCA) and the disc jockey."

Edward S. Barsky said his firm had "no comment" to make on the federal action, but he acknowledged it had received the FTC complaint.

RCA and London records in New York also withheld comment.

The FTC charged that the nine firms had "deceived the public" by paying platter spinners to popularize their records through repeated plays of the product on the air.

Advisory Council Held By Demos

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Truman and a number of other Democratic notables Saturday attended a Democratic advisory council meeting that opened a three-day political whirl.

A number of possibilities for the party's presidential nomination were on hand.

Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, presided at the closed session in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel—the first time the council has met in New York City.

Little People Of Mart Anticipate Happy Yule

By ELMER C. WALZER

NEW YORK (UPI) — As the little people in Wall Street view the situation, this ought to be a good Christmas.

There will be bonuses in quantity—and if they are based as is usual on the volume of trading the take ought to set a new high for several decades.

Trading in stocks right now is the best since 1930 and if the current rate continues the year 1959 will be the best in market volume since 1929.

Banks also have had a good year with money in demand at high rates—they should be good bonus payers, according to those who are on the receiving end.

Many corporations also are generous bonus payers when profits are large. This year because of the steel strike there may be a contraction from the corporate level.

Anyhow, taken altogether it should be a happy Christmas for thousands of workers in Wall Street and Main Street.

Wall Street, as it always does at this time of year, is drumming up its own wares as Christmas gifts.

The stock exchange firm of Francis I. du Pont & Co., has just issued a little pamphlet entitled "Securities For Christmas—A Present With A Future."

The firm has made up some neat little packages as suggestions for gifts at this time.

There's one which costs $5,000 and delivers a dividend check every month. The yield on that one averages 4.7 per cent.

There also is another $5,000 bundle called a high yielding fund which averages a return of 5.1 per cent.

Another $5,000 job is entitled the "Half Century Dividend Paying Club." This one yields 4.7 per cent. The dividends on one of the stocks go back to 1852. The others range from 1894 to 1902.

The Du Pont firm has a series of issues that cost around $600 for anywhere from 10 to 45 shares. These yield from 2.9 per cent to 5.7 per cent.

And there is a whole list of $3,000 packages, which return from 4.1 per cent to 5.3 per cent.

A batch of $6,000 packages include groups of conservative stocks, stocks of medium caliber, and more speculative issues.

There are two bond packages which is an addition over those of previous years, indicating that people are thinking of bonds these days even though they haven't run wild buying them.

There is a $10,000 package of high grade bonds. And there the yield averages 5.14 per cent.

A $5,000 package of convertible bonds and preferred stocks, includes two bonds and three preferred stocks and this group yields 5.11 per cent.

The recipient of a gift does not pay income tax on the gift. But he must pay a tax on any income from it. And if he sells a gift stock at a profit he must pay a capital gains tax on the difference between what he sold the stock for and what the donor of the gift paid for it.
