144,000 Trips To The Moon Made On Oregon Highways

This is the time of year when nearly everyone sharpens a pencil to pour forth facts and figures with which to impress the public. This year, especially, you can expect to be barraged with statistics as the decade dubbed the "Fabulous Fifties" comes to a close. To get a running start in this year-end scramble to impress, or perhaps, depress you with statistics, the Department of Motor Vehicles today released statistics which should cause a bit of nostalgia for the horse-and-buggy days.

In the first place, the department said motor vehicle registrations in the state increased about 22 per cent between 1950 and 1959, or six cars for every five you could find on the road prior to 1950. During the 10 year period, approximately 60 billion miles were driven on streets and highways of the state. That's about 144,000 round-trips to the moon. Using estimates for 1959 figures...

Lucille Ball Mapping Out Busy Program

UPI Hollywood Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Amid rumors of separation, divorce and financial problems, Lucille Ball calmly is making plans to star on Broadway next season no matter what occurs in her personal life. Lucy cut a zig-zag course from her dressing room at Desilu to Paramount studios two blocks down the street on an electric golf cart blithely ignoring traffic and gaping tourists. Once ensconced in the Paramount commissary the rebellious redhead announced her intentions for 1960. "I'll move to New York no later than September to put the children in school," she said. "Then I'll start work on my life's ambition, a Broadway show. It's something I've always wanted to do."
