Top-Level Modernization Being Contemplated By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly is mulling over two ideas for modernizing the top-level executive organization of the government.

They are: Creation of a first secretary of the government, a sort of super-secretary, who would outrank Cabinet members and the vice president and who would take over much foreign policy detail now handled personally by a president.

A "business manager," who would rank at Cabinet level and who would coordinate many domestic programs now involving a number of agencies and departments.

The President has been thinking along these lines for several years, White House associates say, but his ideas are still rather vague, not yet in a concrete form for submission to Congress.

Eisenhower has spoken publicly of his thoughts from time to time. He has made it clear that any reorganization of the executive would be one of his final acts, so that no one would think he was trying to benefit himself. If such proposals are actually presented, then, it probably would be done some time next year.

The supersecretary idea got a cold reception at Capitol Hill. Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said Eisenhower has not discussed the idea with congressional leaders. But he added that any proposal to place another official above the Cabinet would bring "a long discussion in Congress of where that road might lead."

As outlined by White House sources, the supersecretary would be authorized to act for the president in many foreign matters and possibly even take over some of his travels.

He would be completely in the president's confidence and familiar with his thinking to such an extent that he could act in many cases without consulting the president.

Britain Eyes Malta Role

LONDON (UPI)—The British island colony of Malta, which lies between Italy and Africa, may become a key allied base when Cyprus attains full independence in February, diplomatic sources said today.

Colonial Secretary Iain MacLeod is now in Malta, and there is some belief that the idea of an increased military role for the island may be one of the subjects he is discussing with Maltese leaders.

Any such plan is sure to be opposed by some islanders, including Socialist ex-premier Dom Mintoff, but it may find support among others who remember what an important part the British military payroll played in the island's wartime economy.

Britain will retain army and air bases on Cyprus after that island becomes free, but their size will be strictly limited. Some experts believe Malta would prove a more satisfactory base for the Atlantic pact.

Another important British military installation, the Fire Brigade Base in the East African colony of Kenya, also may be discussed by MacLeod during his current tour, which will take him from Malta to Africa.

Sharon Hobson, a Merrill High School junior, has entered the state "Speak for Democracy" contest after winning first place in both the local and district contests.

Sophomores sponsored a Sadie Hawkins dance November 14, commemorating Sadie Hawkins of comic strip fame.

We have had two interesting National School assemblies. At one, Joyce Christian Zuch showed a film of the Russian people at work and play. At another, Dr. Kurt Singer entertained us with stories of his life as an intelligence officer.

We are looking forward to a successful basketball season again this year. We invite everyone to come to our games.

New Dip In Farm Income Predicted By Economists

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government economists estimated Wednesday that the average U. S. farm resident's income would drop this year to less than one-half the income of the average non-farmer.

Official figures have not been released yet. But experts said the data would show per capita farm income was less than 50 per cent of the non-farm rate for the fourth year in the last seven.

Fishermen Get Advice

MONTEREY (UPI)—California commercial fishermen have been told that there is no need to argue among themselves that the supply of marine fish is dwindling.

Fish and Game Director William Warne told a fishing industry gathering here Tuesday that fishermen had only to use their initiative to reap new harvests from the sea.

"No form of commercial fishing is jeopardizing the resource upon which any other fishing depends, be it sport or commercial," Warne said.

At the same time, he said "some marine resources are underharvested or not being touched at all."

He said the department had to show the fishermen how to catch the ocean shrimp but that "the innate ingenuity of the fishermen and processors can find ways to catch and market other untapped species."

Warne noted that expanded information service planned by the department in the marine resources field would sweep aside "fallacious arguments that this or that group of fishermen, sport or commercial, is hurting anyone else."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Republican leader has charged that Democrats want a permanent farm depression so they can make political hay out of the farmers' plight.

House GOP whip Leslie C. Arends (Ill.) said Tuesday that a farm policy statement issued by the Democratic Advisory Council made it obvious that Democrats "must be planning a depression or recession."

Arends challenged the Democratic statement that "we must have sufficient supplies to meet the needs in excess of defective market demand during periods of recession and depression."

He said the Democratic statement was "nothing more than an attempt to keep farmers in a permanent depression with continuous and expanding dependence on government controls."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government's investment in farm price supports rose to a record of nearly $9.25 billion on Oct. 31 and it's headed still higher.

The investment reported in an Agriculture Department statement Tuesday includes surplus farm commodities owned by the government and outstanding price support loans on farm crops.

As of Oct. 31, the department owned crops worth $7.75 billion. Price support loans amounted to more than $1.47 billion.

The total broke the record of $9.09 billion set last February.

The total was expected to climb this season when farmers put more of the record 1959 corn crop under support. When the seasonal peak is reached next spring, Uncle Sam will own or control about $10.5 billion worth of surplus crops.

Africa Trip Scheduled By De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle, who smoothed over an inter-cabinet dispute over government aid to Catholic schools prepared today to fly to Senegal in West Africa to preside over a meeting of the Executive Council of the French Community.

De Gaulle and his wife are scheduled to leave tonight in a specially-fitted plane for St. Louis-du-Senegal, the oldest French city on the African continent. Sleeping accommodations have been provided on the plane for the long flight.

The council of the French community will meet Friday and Saturday. The agenda calls for talks on economic and aid matters.

Premier Michel Debre and other French government officials will leave for St. Louis Thursday evening to join De Gaulle in the discussions.

De Gaulle Tuesday settled a potentially explosive dispute within the cabinet over the question of government assistance to Roman Catholic parochial schools.

The cabinet, like Frenchmen throughout the country, was divided over whether private Catholic schools should receive increased aid or be incorporated into the national school system.

The dispute was placed before De Gaulle after Debre failed to bring about an accord between the rival factions.

De Gaulle listened to his ministers present their views and then produced a "synthesis" of their arguments which won the cabinet's approval, according to information Minister Robert Frey.

The substance of the compromise was not disclosed. Frey said details would be worked out by the cabinet and then placed before the national assembly.

Stand Upheld On Birth Control

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National Council of the Episcopal Church has reaffirmed its stand on family planning through birth control measures.

The council, governing body of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, adopted a statement Tuesday restating its support of birth control resolutions adopted by the 1958 Lambeth conference of the World Anglican Communion in London.

Strike Talks Resume Today

New Atlas Shot Termed Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force fired its Atlas intercontinental range missile on another successful 5,500-mile test flight Tuesday night.

The 45-foot missile rumbled down the Atlantic missile range at 15,000 miles an hour and officials announced it dropped a dummy warhead on target off the South Atlantic island of Ascension.

It was the sixth straight successful test since the Atlas was declared operational last September. The missile has registered 13 successes and one partial success since July.
