Christmas Is The Time For Enchanting Coifs

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

When it comes to Christmas coiffures, he prepared for the unusual. At an evening party recently, a girl who was complimented on her attractive hairdo announced triumphantly that it wasn't her own hair, after all — it was a wig. What's more, she expects to dye it fiery red for Yuletide party fun. "It's true that the wig can get the most treatment from a hairdresser while its owner does the laundry or tends the small fry. And it is fun to change the color of your hair at whim. But chic hairdos are so much a part of the scheme of the small hairdressing salon these days that we should all look like Fairy Queens come the holidays—with our own hair, and after a short spell at the beauty parlor.

and these give a delicately carved look to the face. And that seems to be the effect you want this year, touted by most top hairdressers. There is emphasis on softly chiseled features created by saucy restless hairdos—a French puff, twist, high pompadour or straight hair pulled back behind the ears, offset perhaps with an interestingly diverted hair part and a slight rise at the crown of the head. But even the straight-haired look takes a slight permanent wave to give some body to the small lifts of hair required to give an air of distraction to the hairdo.

BUDGET SAVING

The wise girl is the one who always has a cash reserve so that she can take advantage of sales. For really shrewd shopping at sales can effect a solid saving in the year's clothes budget.

Wesley Guild Christmas Party

The Wesley Service Guild of the First Methodist Church had its annual Christmas party on the regular meeting night, December 3, at Mrs. Orville Herman's home, 1653 Earle Street, with Clara Fink as co-hostess.

The house was beautifully decorated with Christmas greens, cones, angels and the Bible forming a worship scene.

Dorothy Dickinson presided over a short business meeting. Clara Fink, Mrs. David Jensen and Alpha Phelps were appointed as a committee to plan for a smorgasbord in the early spring.

Mrs. Dallas McNeil, in charge of the program, showed a Christmas film.

An exchange of gifts was enjoyed by those present after which refreshments were served by the hostesses. Christmas records were played as background music during the party time.

MIRROR IS ESSENTIAL

A floor-length mirror is not a vanity; it's a good, practical aid for checking the details of your costume.

Barbara Adams Weds In Hawaii

Of interest to Klamath Falls residents is the word of the marriage of Mrs. Barbara Beane Adams and Jack Robert Maxwell. The ceremony was performed on October 13 at the bridegroom's home in Honolulu. The Rev. Howard Dudley of the Union Central Congregational Church officiated.

A former Klamath Falls resident, Mrs. William McCarthy, was attendant to the bride.

A wedding dinner at LaParisane followed the marriage ceremony.

Mrs. Walter Beane flew to the islands to be present for her daughter's wedding.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Maui and will reside at 3902 Nioi Place in Honolulu where the bridegroom is representative for Procter and Gamble Company.

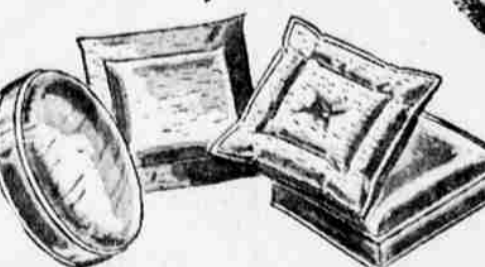

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell will visit in Klamath Falls during the Christmas holidays. They will be accompanied back to their home by Mrs. Maxwell's daughter, Marcia.

Davy Crockett was elected to Congress three times, in 1826, 1828 and 1832.
