YOUR EVER LOVIN' LOVER HAS ARRIVED!

BAZOO! DON'T STAND THERE HOLDING THE DOOR OPEN!

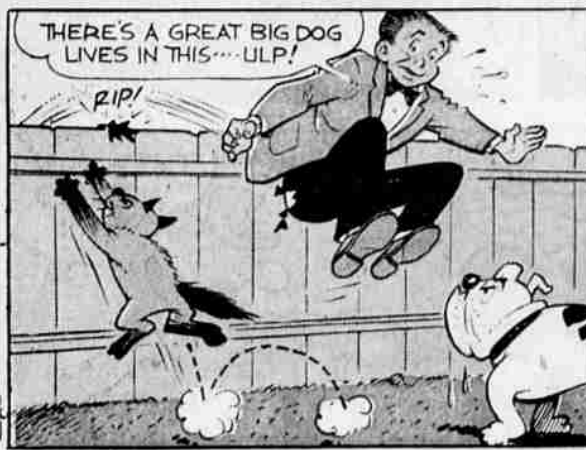

SEE? YOU'VE LET LOTUS OUT!

I FORGOT SHE'S A HOUSE CAT, INCAPABLE OF COPING WITH THE BIG, BAD OUTSIDE WORLD!

OOF! YOU'RE HEADIN' FOR TROUBLE, KITTY!

THERE'S A GREAT BIG DOG LIVES IN THIS... ULP!

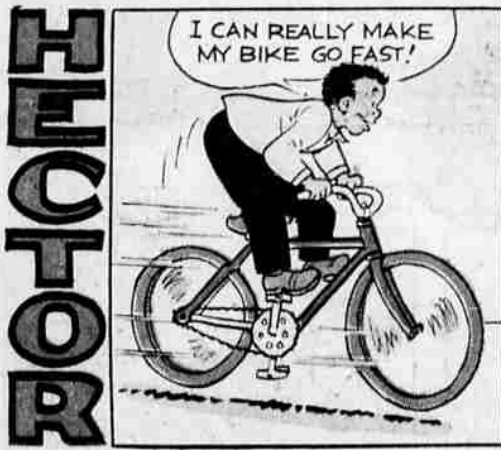

HALP! WOOF! EEK! GRRRR!

OH, LOTUS! I'M SO GLAD YOU'RE BACK... BUT WHERE'S BAZOO?

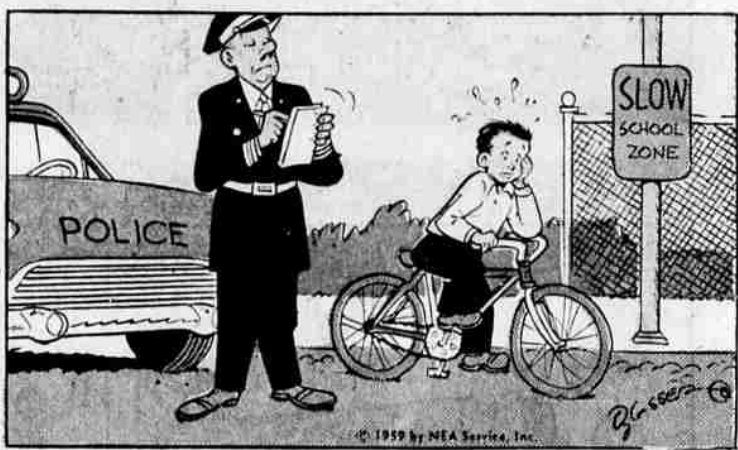

NOW, BAZOO... DON'T BE UNGRATEFUL! IF LOTUS HADN'T LED ME HERE, I'D NEVER HAVE KNOWN WHAT A MESS YOU GOT YOURSELF INTO!

I CAN REALLY MAKE MY BIKE GO FAST!

I CAN GO FASTER THAN ANY OTHER KID AT SCHOOL!

How come you're not using the drugstore scooter, Chip? Did it break down again?

No, Pop. It's fine, but I've had some trouble with my pal, Stubbs.

When he found out Gloria had a job at the drugstore he tried to get one, too.

But Mr. Carter had already asked me, and when I took it, Stubbs got sore!

Look, Pop. There he goes now! What's he doing on the drugstore scooter?

I parked it and went to deliver a package. And before I got back, he grabbed it and took off for a spin.

And furthermore, Stubbs, if you don't return that to Chipper this minute, I'll never speak to you again. Okay, Gloria.

Hi, Chip! I'm not mad any more and here's the scooter. I'm real sorry!

No kidding, Stubbs? After all, we've been pals for quite a while now. And if it hadn't been for Gloria this never would have happened.

The last thing fellows should ever do is to let a girl come between them. Right!
