Court To Mull Shipping Case

SEATTLE (AP) — The U. S. Supreme Court has agreed to review a case which could decide "half the battle of American unions against runaway ships."

J. Duane Vance, Seattle attorney for the Marine Cooks & Stewards' Union, said Saturday

Judges Elect New Officers

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon circuit judges elected Judge E. H. Howell of John Day president at the annual meeting of their organization here on the weekend.

Judge Edward Kelly of Medford was elected vice president and Judge William L. Dickson of Portland was named secretary.

Howell said in a panel discussion that judges have had a hard time getting some cases to trial, often because of the delaying tactics of some attorneys.

He told the judges some cases would "never get to trial if I had to wait for some lawyers to make application."

Judge Charles W. Redding, Portland, said the work of Multnomah County circuit courts is increasing.

He reported that in June, 1957, each judge had an assignment of 1.9 cases and disposed of an average of 1.1 daily. In June this year, he said, the number had increased to 3.9 and the average handled was 1.9.

Judge A. T. Goodwin reported that each of Lane County's three circuit judges disposes of an average of 1½ cases daily.

Violent Death Befalls Demo Politico Head

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Violent death in a ragged part of town early Sunday ended a night of revelry for banker George F. Rock, 32, Colorado Democratic national committeeman for seven years.

His body, the clothes blood-stained and pockets turned inside out, was found in a tiny park—littered with wine bottles and beer cans. An autopsy showed he died of a skull fracture.

Detective Sgt. Keith Morris said Darlene Gresham, 29, a Negro, told him Rock, who was white, fell down the stairway of her apartment.

Morris said the woman related she called a Negro cab driver and with the aid of another Negro woman placed Rock's unconscious body in the cab and drove to the park eight blocks away where they dumped Rock's body.

The detective said William Franklin Tribmel 28, a cab driver, admitted he made the trip. Police are holding the Gresham woman, Tribmel and another Negro, Clarence McGroom, 32. No charges have been filed.

The Gresham woman was quoted by Morris as saying she met Rock outside Romolo's, a downtown Denver restaurant and bar, opposite the Cosmopolitan Hotel.

Rock had attended a stag party for the Jesters, a Shriners' fun society, at the Cosmopolitan Saturday night. About midnight he left there with two friends, Joseph J. Marsh, automobile dealer, and Clifford Price, owner of an auto glass company.

The trio went to Romolo's and when the bar closed at 2 a.m. they departed, each heading for his own car, Marsh said.

Marsh told officers Rock cashed a $100 check at the hotel and repaid him $29 which Rock borrowed earlier in the evening. Officers said Rock's wallet was empty when they found it in the park and an expensive wrist watch was missing.

Rock was president of the Bank of Denver. He was prominent in the city's civic life, and belonged to many professional and social organizations.

He leaves his widow, Marie Kathleen, and three children, George F. Rock III, 22, Eugene, 17, and Linda Mae, 11.

Rock was active in the Democratic party all his adult life. He was born at the old mining camp of Telluride, Colo. After his education at Rutgers University and Westminster Law School in Denver, Rock settled in Denver.
