

LA Harbor Said Grave Of Jap Sub

SAN PEDRO (UPI) — Army records today backed up a diver's claim that a submarine, believed to be of Japanese origin, was sunk off Los Angeles harbor on Christmas Day, 1941.

Officers at Fort MacArthur said Thursday their records showed an enemy submarine, presumably Japanese, was sunk off the coast. The records also indicated another instance of an enemy submarine attack on American shipping in the Redondo Beach-Palos Verdes area.

The freighter, Barbara Olson, was the target of a torpedo off the harbor on Dec. 24, 1941. The torpedo missed the ship, according to records at the fort, which was Los Angeles harbor defense headquarters during World War II.

A much-publicized attack on the lumber freighter Absaroka was made by a submarine later. Depth charges were dropped at the submarine by a U.S. Navy destroyer from San Diego, Calif., the records disclosed.

A controversy has raged all week over whether an enemy vessel sunk here at the start of World War II, Bob Bell, a skin diver, disclosed earlier that he hoped to salvage a submarine off the harbor.

Bell claimed to have personally visited the submarine twice and said he knew of others who had found it as early as 1947. He said it was of the type which carried seven men.

Japanese sources said they knew of no submarine sunk in the area during the war.

Vigil Kept By President

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower kept the vigil. He was up past midnight to welcome the new year and join in a noisy "Auld Lang Syne." But he could sleep late today—though he seldom does—because there was nothing much on tap other than golf.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower and a group of friends gathered in the trophy room at Augusta National Golf Club to dine and watch the old year out.

White House business will pick up a bit Saturday with the arrival of a delegation of four Washington officials to discuss the new budget, for the fiscal year which begins July 1. Budget director Maurice Stans will be the chief consultant.

Stubborn Girl Faces Prison

CHICAGO (AP) — A 19-year-old girl appears determined to be sentenced to prison—possibly from 1 to 14 years—rather than accept probation.

Chief Justice Charles S. Dougherty of the Criminal Court Thursday for the second time offered probation for Arleen Rogers, who has been in jail since September after being arrested on two forgery counts.

Dougherty earlier entered an order for Miss Rogers to serve 60 days in jail, then five years probation. He noted she had good records in school and at the plant where she worked and had no police record. She was charged with forging two checks totaling $400.

Miss Rogers told Dougherty she didn't want probation, telling him, "I don't think I can make good." The judge ordered her examined at the Cook County Behavior clinic.

Dr. William Haines told Dougherty he found nothing amiss, only what he called a stubborn streak.

Miss Rogers again told the judge she wanted to go to prison.

"If you won't accept probation, I can't force it on you," Dougherty told the girl, "I can sentence you to 1 to 14 years. But I'll continue the case until Tuesday. You'll have to decide."

Miss Rogers told a reporter she has decided. She is going to prison.

Charges Of Unfair Labor Lodged By Pressman Union

PORTLAND (AP) — Unfair labor practices charges have been brought by Web Pressmen's Union local 17 against the struck Oregonian and Oregon Journal, John Ryan, local president, said Thursday.

The local filed the charges with the National Labor Relations Board's Portland office one day after the publishers had notified the union they no longer regard as employees 110 Pressmen's local members.

The members have refused to cross picket lines that have been maintained at the newspapers' Portland plants since Nov. 10 by striking stereotypers. The Pressmen's local contract with the Journal and the Oregonian expired at midnight Thursday.

Publishers' spokesmen D. S. Haines of the Journal and William R. Moorish of the Oregonian called the charge "ridiculous."

"It contains, on its face, deliberate falsehoods," they said.

The newspapers told the union in a letter that the web pressmen had violated a no-strike clause in their contract. Ryan had said that union members individually refused to pass picket lines for fear of violence.

The newspapers have been publishing a joint edition, using supervisory and non-union workers.

Trading Slow, Says Report

PORTLAND (AP) — Crow's Lumber Market News Service reported Thursday trading in western lumber and plywood markets was slow this week.

According to the publication, poor weather and holiday mill closures were responsible.

The slowdown occurred after lumber producers had received a record volume of orders in mid-December.

Key prices stayed firm in price. Plywood prices remained steady, and some lumber dimension items, notably inland and white fir, showed a strong trend.

Standard and better grade fir dimension prices rose to $75 per thousand board feet, a $1 rise above last week.

Celebrities Set Fox Hunt

SANTA BARBARA (UPI) — Yoicks and tally-ho!

They're riding to the hounds today on a ranch near here with all the trimmings, top hats and red coats, but it will be more like a steeplechase because there's nary a fox in sight.

The affair brings together on the Rancho San Fernando Rey of Mr. and Mrs. John Galvin some of California's top society and movie figures including Dan Dailoy, and Rosemary Clooney and her husband, Jose Ferrer.

San Francisco Bay Area society will be represented by Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Mein of Woodside.

The foxhunt will be carried out under rules of the masters of the Foxhound Association.

There are about 40 jumps on the six-mile course.

No fox? It seems that this is cattle country and even a hound with the most sensitive olfactory organ would be unable to distinguish Reynard's scent amid the noisome aroma of the livestock.

Besides the humane society frowns on fox hunting.

But it should be jolly fun with a hunt breakfast and a stirrup-cup at the end of the ride.

Man Found Guilty Of Being 'Fence'

Elroy Butler was found guilty Thursday of receiving stolen property by a circuit court jury that deliberated only 45 minutes.

Butler, 35, was accused of receiving more than $2,000 worth of women's clothing destined for LaPointe's store but stolen from a Broad Street warehouse near Butler's home.

The trial opened Wednesday. Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg scheduled Butler's sentencing for 10 a.m. January 5.

Increase Noted In Bank Loans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bank of America, the world's largest nongovernmental bank, announced today its loans total $6,599,688,231, up $937,779,881 from a year ago.

President S. Clark Beise said the bank's 1959 net operating earnings reached $86,297,920, an all-time high, representing $3.37 per share. The 1958 figure was $77,018,825, or $3.01 a share.

Total resources were $11,669,404,346, a gain of $378,551,959 over year-end 1958, Beise said.

Lake Superior is the deepest of the Great Lakes with a maximum depth of 1,302 feet.

Cleric Jailed For Forgery

WEST BRANCH, Mich. (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest was in jail today, charged with forgery and accused of trying to flee with $13,450 in church funds.

The Rev. Francisco Paz, 33, of the archdiocese of Popayan in Colombia, was arrested Thursday on a warrant obtained by Prosecutor Randall B. Clemence.

He was held at the Ogemaw County jail in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Clemence said the money belonged to the parish fund of the St. Joseph Catholic church here, where Father Paz had been on temporary assignment since September. He had been in the United States for about two years and had been an exchange student at the University of Michigan.

Clemence said Father Paz obtained the money by signing the name of the parish priest, Rev. Aloysius J. O'Toole, to church checks.

Father Paz was seized at a police roadblock.

Eugene Student Said Improving

Louise Ratliff, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Ratliff, Eugene, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ratliff, Malin, who became seriously ill on November 17, is improving at the family home. It was at first believed the young girl was suffering from a brain tumor.

Louise is now able to study, walk about her home and if improvement continues she will be able to return to school classes in the near future. The Jackie Ratliff family formerly lived in Klamath County.

Ski Facilities In Operation

Ski facilities at Tomahawk Ski Bowl 23 miles northwest of Klamath Falls on Lake of the Woods Highway went into operation at noon today.

The management said fast powder snow varying from five inches to a foot in depth should provide excellent sport.

Skiing will be especially good in the beginners' area where snow is deep and packed. Skiing should be exceptional near the top of the run, too, the managers said.

Skiers however, may hit shallow spots on the steeper downhill runs, so caution is advised.

The "Pomallit" and rope tows will operate from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and until 4 p.m. today.

Though a lighting system for night skiing is ready, the management is reluctant to use it until snow gets deeper.

The bowl includes a rental shop where all necessary equipment except clothes is available. The area also features a restaurant under direction of Wayne Keefer, an observation room with a fireplace and plenty of parking area.

Novices may at any time join ski classes taught by Don Divens, Jack Nichol, John Paxton, Bob Charles and Bob Sloan. A class begins every hour.

The road is snowy but well graded. Chains are not necessary, but snow tires are a help.

Pair Fired By NBC

CHICAGO (AP) — Howard Miller, reportedly the nation's wealthiest disc jockey, and Jack Eigen, television and radio interviewer and commentator, were fired Thursday by the National Broadcasting Co.

Miller, 42, who has broadcast disc jockey shows for station WIND for 11 years, had been with WNBQ the NBC outlet in Chicago, since last March.

Eigen, 46, who specialized in interviews on the nightclub beat, had broadcast on WMAQ for eight years and on WNBQ-TV since October. He formerly conducted interview shows at a New York City night club.

Lloyd Yoder, vice president and general manager of NBC in Chicago, said the dismissals resulted from new programming of the stations. Miller, former husband of singer June Valli, declined to disclose his income. It has been estimated at $350,000 a year.

Ambulances were used in war as early as 1792.
