Park Personnel Greet New Year

CRATER LAKE NATIONAL PARK — Park Superintendent and Mrs. Otto M. Brown came from their winter home at Medford to celebrate the arrival of the New Year with other park personnel.

The adults held a costume ball during the late hours of the old year. At the conclusion of the judges' deliberations, Mrs. Rex Truelove, dressed as an Indian maiden in complete authentic costume, and Slim Mabery, park ranger, were found to be tied for top place.

Mabery wore a costume representing a bull and Mrs. Mabery was the bull fighter.

First prize for the best costume was a big ham which the Truelove and Mabery families divided by the simple process of sawing it in half.

FANCY FREE

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A car here bore a sign which at a distance looked much like the usual "Just Married" type. Closer inspection showed it read: "Just Divorced." The lone occupant was a man.

JOHNNY HOUSE, grandson of J. E. House of Langell Valley, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill House of Sacramento, former Langell Valley and Bly residents.

REAL JEWEL LOOK — Treat yourself to a double-strand fake pearl necklace highlighted by clasps of pretend jade, agate, lapis lazuli or carnelian. It's costume jewelry with a real jewel look.

LOOKING forward to his first birthday on March 3 is Steven Horsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Horsley of Bonanza. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gowen of Klamath Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Horsley of Malin. Great-grandmothers are Mrs. Edna Goodner of Oakland and Mrs. Bertha Burgoyne of Eden, Idaho.
