Club Operator 'Locates' Funds

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—The night club operator plunked down a $1,000 bill to go bond for a waitress.

Gus Kougenidakis insisted that the cops change it so he could pay a $104.50 bond Tuesday.

Policemen, instead, called Justice of the Peace Carl J. Fisher. Roused from his sleep, the justice told them to hike the bond to $1,000. That did it. Gus fished in his pocket and came up with $104.50.

NJ Governor Eyes Top Post

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner today joined the ranks of favorite son candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

State Democratic leaders agreed at a meeting Tuesday that New Jersey's 41-vote delegation to the party's national convention at Los Angeles next June would support the governor.

National Committeeman David T. Wilentz of Perth Amboy, spokesman for the group, told a news conference he considered the 51-year-old governor a serious candidate.
