

SHAKING HANDS with the "Amazing Transparent Man" is Ed Malork, manager of the Tower Theater, one of a select number of theaters in the West which will have the premiere showing of the movie. More than 50,000 prizes are being offered to moviegoers who offer best idea on how to use invisible ray which is the theme of the movie. When Malork shook hands with the invisible man, photographer Wes Guderian used some darkroom magic to bring out the outlines of the transparent man. The movie will be shown in Klamath Falls January 22 through January 28.

Liberal Revolt Nipped; Solon Continues Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told reporters he will continue to follow the course he has in the past. This has involved restraint in criticizing President Eisenhower and the tailoring of legislation in an effort to avoid Presidential vetoes. It has meant the enactment of compromise measures rather than passage of bills designed mainly to build up a Democratic political record.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), who led the fight to take away some of Johnson's powers, said he thought the battle "augurs well for our party."

"Though we lost this time, we may have won in seeming to lose," he said. A sharper comment came from Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill), who began a move to have more caucuses at which the 65 Senate Democrats could air their views.

"It is apparent that a majority of the senators are not yet ready for political self-government but prefer to stay in a state of political colonialism," Douglas said.

Johnson said he will continue, as he has for 10 years, to call a caucus whenever the leadership determines it would be desirable or useful, "or when any single senator desires to call a conference" and will take responsibility for having it called.

Johnson noted Gore had suggested that the performance of individual Democrats be measured against party policy evolved by the nine-member committee, which Gore wanted to increase to 15 members.

The committee now confines its activities largely to deciding the timing of Senate consideration of legislation. Johnson said it will be renamed to make clear it is not a policy-forming group.

"Personally," Johnson said, "I would not attempt to state the policy of my colleagues and I do not think I would want to be a member of a committee which did so. I don't think members, 9 members, 12 members or even 15 members can state policy for 65."

They issued a call to Indians all over the country to battle "television's persistent erroneous portrayal of Indian history."

"Television makes the younger generation think that Indians were only savages," complained Choctaw Jack Davidson. "The Indians only protected their homes. Television never tells about the cultural advances of the American Indians."

The Indians plan to protest TV Westerns to President Eisenhower and heads of TV networks.
