York City, and moved in prominent social circles there. He was the son of the late Aaron Frank, a former deputy police commissioner of New York. A source close to the Frank family reported in New York that Frank was emotionally upset and feared flying. He reportedly took the train when the rest of his family flew to Chicago for Christmas and had canceled four previous reservations for the Miami trip. Bakke said that Frank had taken out a $500,000 life insurance policy last November, two $100,000 accident policies in April and November, and three accident policies of $61,500 each in December. Monroneysaid the insurance was made payable to Mrs. Frank as beneficiary. She declined to discuss the matter with newsmen. New York insurance officials said there was nothing particularly unusual about the quantity of insurance Frank carried, nor the short time in which he acquired it.

They said life insurance policies normally provide for no payment in case of suicide within two years of their issuance. The company merely returns premiums which have been paid if suicide is proved. Monroneysaid he will confer with the Justice Department and other agencies concerning the possible need for a new law to make it harder for anyone to smuggle a bomb onto a plane, or to profit from bombing. He said his legal staff has told him the law now declares that no one can profit by planting a bomb on a plane to collect insurance on someone else, and that the estate of anyone who carries one aboard probably could not collect insurance either, if a case of suicide is proven. Monroneysaid he also will explore the possible need for more authority for pilots to search the luggage of passengers, if something seems wrong. Monroneysuggested X-ray or fluoroscope devices might be one feasible way to check luggage for bombs without opening it. S. G. Tipton, president of the Air Transport Assn. of America, agreed to discuss this with members of the airline industry and others and report back to Monroneys.

Warden Predicts End Of Strike

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—Warden John Turner says he thinks 15 convicts still on a hunger strike at the Utah State Prison will decide to eat today or Saturday.

Four of 19 prisoners in the segregation cellblock gave up the hunger strike and ate the evening meal Thursday night. The other 15 refused the food.

The convicts started the hunger strike Sunday evening in protest against a new policy of providing only two meals daily to inmates being disciplined for violating prison rules.

EXPLOSIVE FARE POZNAN, Poland (UPI)—An autopsy on Bongo, the hippopotamus who died recently at a ripe old age, yielded a hand grenade and a postman's leather bag. Poznan Zoo officials reported Wednesday.

FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF KLAMATH FALLS
By W. S. MOLLISON
Secretary
No. 1, Jan. 8, 15.

National CD Network Test To Be Held Here In May

Klamath Falls will be the scene of one of the state's two major exercises when the National Civil Defense network tests its sinews May 2 through 5.

All branches of the county CD organization will participate actively May 2 and 3.

PLANS DECIDED at a county CD meeting Wednesday call for a mass evacuation of Air Force families living in the city, an emergency mobile hospital to be set up at the exhibition building at the county fairgrounds, a possible evacuation of at least one school in both city and county school districts, a mass feeding and welfare operation, and an operating communications center in touch by radio with other cities in the state. City police and Sheriff Murray Britton and his deputies will man certain traffic control points in the city and suburban area. State police, charged with policing the open highways during an emergency, will observe.

Showpiece of the exercise will be the hospital. It will be trucked from Salem and some state CD officials will be on hand to help Dr. R. W. Esperson and his county CD medical unit staff supervise its assembly and operation.

The hospital unit will be about one third the size of a 200-bed unit stored for emergency in Gilchrist. It will contain a surgical ward, a laboratory and pharmacy, a sterilization room, a central medical supply room, an X-ray room, a handgiving room and several wards equipped with beds.

THE HOSPITAL probably will be set up the evening of Monday, May 2, and will be on public display the following day. Its personnel and that of the communications team will be served food prepared on field ranges and equipment by members of the feeding team. Feeding operations are entrusted to the Red Cross which would handle a major share of duties of the CD Welfare Unit, headed by Red Cross Executive Secretary Mrs. Virginia Dixon and Mrs. Julia Brown, county welfare administrator.

(When the alert is received from the national network by the district warning point, at the Suburban Fire Station, under direction of Chief Buster Gordon, sirens and other warning devices probably will be sounded. They are directed by City Fire Chief Roy Rowe, who is in charge of the city's public warning system for Civil Defense.

The entire statewide communications operation will be coordinated at Salem.

Local radio and television stations may participate by broadcasting information on Conelrad frequencies.

Police will man the control points to keep traffic moving smoothly through designated evacuation routes.

Don Golding, principal of Riverside School, is CD coordinator for city schools. Everett Peery handles details of the local "catastrophe." Jackson County already has offered to handle about 35,000 persons in the event of real disaster, and Lake County, about 3,000.

Most other counties throughout the state have been assigned the task of receiving refugees. They will be informed by radio of details of the local "catastrophe."

No school Friday was the reward students received after four days of semester exams and changing schedules.

Indications this week are that KU students will likely get their after-game dances back if they accept the faculty's recommendations for a system to stop a recurrence of trouble. Principal Willard C. McKinny outlined recommendations during the first Student Council meeting of the new year after school Wednesday afternoon.

The faculty's suggestions are:

1. Sponsors of the dance should see that they have parent chaperones as well as faculty members. They also asked that students and sponsors treat chaperones with more respect and consideration than they have been receiving.

2. Sponsors should, if possible, have at the dance a uniformed policeman, to be paid by the sponsors.

3. The present north entrance to the dances in the cafeteria should be changed to the south entrance with a large veranda and two doors. This would enable students to get into the dance from the game faster than before.

4. Tickets could be sold in advance of the dance by the organization holding the dance, to eliminate congestion and confusion.

In other business, the council discussed the seating on the students' side of Pelican Court. They voted to bar all outsiders from the section completely, including grade school students and alumni.

Only KUHS students with their script book tickets and their identification card will be admitted. ID cards, which will include a picture of the bearer, are coming out soon.

Before concluding, the representatives were informed by Sharon Vincez, Miss TAPS, that the school could not challenge Medford in the polo drive because Medford will not have a drive of the type KU is planning this year.

A meeting was called after school Thursday to work out drive details.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Author Pierre Van Paassen says the Nazi Party is living on hate—for the Jews and the Americans who helped defeat Germany twice in 30 years.

Just back from West Germany, the Dutch-born Van Paassen told newsmen Thursday he believes this accounts for the recent rash of swastika painting and Jew-baiting.

"Don't think they like us over there," he said. "There are many persons thirsting for revenge. They are in no position to take it out on the Americans. So they pick on their traditional enemy, the Jews."
