

Klamath County C Of C To Hold Annual Meeting

Arrangements have been completed for the annual meeting of the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce 6:30 Wednesday evening at the Willard Hotel.

Al Geiss, a supervisor of instruction at Oregon Technical Institute, will act as master of ceremonies for the dinner meeting. W. H. Graham, chamber president, and Bob Mest, immediate past-president, will each present a few special awards.

The highlight of the meeting will be the address by Page Lamoreaux, Klamath County and California rancher, Vallejo car dealer and opponent of Communism in the Near East, Far East and Africa. His talk "This Is Your World" will describe his idea for offsetting Communism by spreading the concept of American free enterprise abroad in a very practical sense.

A basic concept which differs from U.S. foreign aid has been developed by Lamoreaux in conjunction with William L. Graham, a wealthy Kansas oil man who initiated a program of lending money abroad to energetic young men for business promotion.

The meeting is open to chamber members and non-members alike, and ladies are welcome to attend. Tickets may be obtained at the chamber office, 323 Main Street, or at the Willard Hotel at the time of the meeting.

Chamber officials acknowledged an unfortunate but unavoidable conflict with several other meetings, but point out that the chamber meeting will be run on a very strict schedule with adjournment set for not later than 9 p.m. Community concert members, they pointed out, could hear Lamoreaux's talk and still hear the last half of the concert program.

You could hardly blame him if he got discouraged and quit his job.

In conclusion:
At the rate of one $20 bill every minute, day and night, it would take an average citizen 95 years to throw a billion dollars down the hole. Our SPENDER congress can throw a billion dollars down the hole in just about no time, flat.

So—
I reckon we'll have to admit that our congress is pretty efficient, after all.

Hawaii Visit Set By Four

Two Klamath County couples, who are feed grain and livestock producers, will visit cattle ranches in the 50th state on the February 8-20 Hawaiian Beef Cattle Tour, traveling to many ranches being opened to the public for the first time.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hyde of Yamsey Land & Cattle Company who will make the round trip by air, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Henzel of Tulana Farms who will travel by boat. Hyde is a member of the Oregon Beef Council.

The tour, sponsored by Nelson R. Crow Publications, publishers of Western Livestock Journal, focuses attention on importance of beef cattle production as an island industry.

Cattlemen of Hawaii are joining with Western Livestock Journal in sponsoring the tour through the Cattlemen's Council of Hawaii and the Soil Conservation Districts of Hawaii. Many island ranchers have expressed a desire to exchange production ideas with mainland cattlemen.

John Cholis of Sacramento, Western Livestock Journal field editor will conduct the tour.

The 250 cattlemen will visit Hawaiian Village Hotel, Honolulu; Kualoa Ranch, Kualoa, Oahu; Pearl Harbor; Hawaii Meat Company; Crow Bar Ranch, Kauai; Princeville Ranch, Kauai; Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company; Cattle Ranch, Maui; Haleakala Ranch, Makawo, Maui; Ulupalakua Ranch, Maui; Hilo Meat Cooperative; Hawaiian Ranch Company; McCandless Ranch, Kona; Captain Cook Coffee Company; Dillingham Ranch feed yard, which feeds coffee by-products; Puuwaawaa Ranch; Kahua Ranch; and the world famed Parker Ranch.

Camels imported from Spanish West Africa carry many burdens, as well as people, in the Canary Islands.

SHARON McCOLLUM, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCollum, 820 Martin Street, is one of several OTI students who appear in a film recently produced at the campus.

Film Shows OTI Courses

A movie depicting career opportunity courses for women at Oregon Technical Institute was premiered by KOTI Television "Tech Talks" Saturday evening.

The film, the first of several planned, was produced by the OTI faculty. Mrs. Catherine Lake was production director. Mrs. Lake and James Boyle, supervisor of allied arts, narrated. Don Orrell handled photography and audio effects.

Women are registered in business, medical and X-ray, dental assistant, electronics and engineering technologies on the campus.

The film will be made available to interested groups upon query.

Prosecution Opens Drive To Tie Carole To Slay Plot.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A childhood playmate of pretty Carole Tregoff says he introduced her to a "shady character" and—

"She wanted to know his capabilities, from murder or any activity like that."

With this testimony by Donald S. Williams, 21, the prosecution opened its attempt Monday to tie Dr. R. Bernard Finch's red-haired mistress into an alleged plot to kill Finch's estranged wife.

Barbara Jean Finch, 36, was shot to death last July 18 outside their fashionable home in suburban West Covina. The rich surgeon, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, an ex-model and once his receptionist, are accused of murdering her to clear the way for their own marriage without having to give her a share of the Finch estate.

Miss Tregoff's attorneys lost a spirited fight to prevent testimony — given the county grand jury earlier — about an asserted deal to kill Mrs. Finch for $1,400 offered by Miss Tregoff.

In other developments:
Three apartment house managers said Finch and Miss Tregoff shared apartments—two in suburban Monterey Park and one in Las Vegas, Nev.

Actor Mark Stevens was quoted as saying he had offered Mrs. Finch a revolver shortly before her death.

He told the Mirror News: "I was so shocked at what she told me about her husband's attacks that I felt she should have some protection. When she refused to take the gun, I got a jackhandle out of the car and made her take it. I told her to wallop him with it."

Stevens was scheduled to testify Monday but for unexplained reasons did not appear.

Williams, a law student at the University of Nevada's southern branch, said Miss Tregoff came to stay at his grandparents' Las Vegas home last May and June. She was raised in his family's home.

Williams said Finch visited the house and she explained he was getting a divorce.

One day in June, Williams said: "She asked did I know of any criminal activities or people involved in criminal activities. The
