8 Truckers Given Awards For Safety

Eight local Consolidated Freightway drivers received safety awards during an annual safety and service award dinner for employees and their wives recently at Harold's Restaurant.

Ernie Fullen, who has driven nine years without an accident, was top man to receive one of the National Safety Council awards. Others were Gordon Grow, seven years; Francis Bennett, six; Jim Reis, three; Vern Ketter, two, and Phil Barry, Frank Wynn and Harold Crowell, one each.

Awards dinners are sponsored by the company annually in each city where Consolidated Freightways and its divisions maintain terminals.

Leonard Springer, leadman (assistant foreman), was featured speaker. His talk, "What Safety Means to Everyone," dramatized for drivers their personal stake in safety as well as the company's.

Peddle Run Driver Francis Bennett, who makes a daily run to Tulelake, Malin and Merrill, was dinner chairman. Guests from out-of-town were Dick Charters, director of safety for the company's western operations, and John Lozier, highway supervisor for the Oregon division. Both are of Portland.

Jim Knoles, terminal manager, made the presentations.

Chief Installed By NAACP

Mrs. William Barnett was installed as 1960 president of the local chapter of the NAACP at a meeting held in the lecture room of the Klamath County Library.

The new corps of officers was installed by the Rev. Dallas S. McNeil, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Others who will serve with Mrs. Barnett include: Kenneth Lambie, vice president; Mrs. William Simon, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Lambie, assistant secretary and Mrs. E. M. Colley, treasurer.

The NAACP will observe Race Relations Sunday, February 7, with a tea and program. Time and place will be announced.

Membership Drive Planned

Initial plans for conducting the annual membership campaign for the 1960-1961 Community Concert season were discussed at a meeting in the Willard Hotel at which time Mrs. Erma Davis, from the Los Angeles office of Community Concerts, Inc., was present.

The campaign will be conducted from February 29 through March 5. Headquarters will be in the offices of Ace Mimeo Service, 312 South Seventh Street.

Meeting with Mrs. Davis were Ross Ragland, president of the association; Ray Bigger, vice president; Jack Hopkins, treasurer; Eva Dickson, secretary; Mrs. Betty Kovich, membership chairman; Mrs. Letha Landis, co-membership chairman; Mrs. Betty Kellstrom, Mrs. Gladys Adams, Mrs. Eleanor Ehlers and Dr. Frank W. Johnson.

SMALL CITY

Vergennes, Vt., is one of the smallest cities in the world. Incorporated in 1788, its population of 1,705 persons lives on one square mile.

BASIN BRIEFS

Marie Bunnell, secretary, reminds members of the Women's Association of the Malin Presbyterian Church of the business meeting Thursday, January 21, at 2 p.m. in the church. Executive committee will present proposals for the coming year for acceptance. Members are asked to come and offer suggestions.

Coy L. Proffitt, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Proffitt of McCloud, recently was assigned as a rocket launcher crewman with an Army armored division at Fort Hood, Texas. He attended McCloud High School. He has private's rank.

Gordon L. Kandra, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Kandra of Merrill recently arrived in Germany, where he is an Army private and a member of an armored division. He was graduated from Malin High School and attended Oregon State College.
