Stocks
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained irregularly higher at the close today despite late profit taking. Final dealings were active.
Volume for the day was estimated at 2,600,000 shares compared with 2,720,000 Wednesday.
Among key stocks the gains ran from fractions to about a point generally while larger gains were made by more speculative issues.
Steels, motors, rails, coppers and aircrafts were on the upside as the market, battered by successive declines, tried to make good its third daily rise of 1960.
The Russian and American missile firings drew attention to rocket-fuel-missile-electronic issues.
Gains of more than a point were scored by Thiokol, Zenith, Motorola, Texas Instruments and Litton Industries. General Tire, which has a rocket subsidiary, and Ampex were up about 2 each.

Radio Net Pact Awarded
A mobile radio network for use of the county sheriff and road departments should be in operation about mid-April.
The county court yesterday awarded a $28,994 contract to Motorola for the transistorized system to include a base station, three control stations, five remote units, 19 mobile units, three portable units, plus installation and accessories.
Cost to the county will be $13,180; the state will pay $308, and half the cost, or $13,497, will be paid by the federal government on condition the network may be used for civil defense purposes.
The contract is subject to confirmation by Motorola and approval by federal civil defense authorities.
The court awarded its contract after bids by both Motorola and General Electric were examined in detail by Joe Searles, Klamath County Civil Defense director. General Electric had bid $23,829, or $3,000 under Motorola.
Searles' evaluation, the court said, found Motorola met bid specifications but General Electric omitted required items. General Electric did not meet specifications for transistorized portable equipment, crystal stability, power output, portable equipment modulation, or technical specifications for one band.
The Motorola mobile unit, the court said, will require no more power than an auto dome light.

Grand Jury To Ponder Six Cases

One first degree murder case and four assault charges come before the grand jury meeting here Thursday and Friday.
In addition, the district attorney's office said, one secret indictment will be presented to the jury.
The first degree murder charge against William Olen Gairson, a 40-year-old cattle feeder from Bonanza, was referred to the grand jury only yesterday. Gairson was bound to the jury by District Judge D. E. Van Vactor after a preliminary hearing in which Mrs. Ethel Myrtle Bursik described beating of her 11-month-old son, Gary Lee Bursik.
Gairson and Mrs. Bursik are serving six-month terms for lewd cohabitation. Additionally, Gairson goes on trial next Tuesday on charges of beating Gary Lee and his 3-year-old half-brother, Billie Joe Breeding.
Assault charges before the jury: Frank L. Lounsbury Jr., 21-year-old tire repairman charged with assault with intent to kill in the 22 caliber revolver shooting of a fellow employe, Paul Clay, 37, December 19, during a private drinking party.
Philip Duane Jackson, 23, Bonanza, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon for allegedly pointing a .22 revolver at his aged grandmother, Mrs. Anna May Copperfield, after an involved family dispute December 21. Jackson also faces charges of assault and battery and lewd cohabitation resulting from the dispute.
Leonard Thomas Powers, 25, charged with assault and robbery armed with a dangerous weapon on the complaint of William Jones of Medford, who said Powers stopped their car near the Merrill gravel pit December 28 and robbed him of about $100 at knife-point.
Lawrence Walter Mose, 21, Chiloquin, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon in an alleged knife attack on Marcella Allen early in January.
This is the first formal meeting for the December grand jury, whose members are foreman Henry R. Grimes of Klamath Falls, Fred G. Brown of Fort Klamath, and Maud Holsby, Howard G. Amidon, Jack M. Patten, Harry W. Ward, and Willard Noble.

Death apparently followed a heart seizure about 6 a.m. the same day. An autopsy was to be performed. Bill Miller, Tulelake, Siskiyou County deputy sheriff and deputy coroner, investigated.
Mr. Acree was born in Utah May 8, 1894, and had been retired for some time.
Survivors include two brothers, Edward F. Acree, San Pablo, and Clarence D. Acree, address unknown; two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Hammond, Fresno, and Mrs. Lotie Haukaas, Baudette, Minnesota; also several nephews and nieces.

Operators Hear C of C Hears Loan Program

By TOM STIMMEL
The Lord helps those who help themselves. So does Page Lamoreaux, a California businessman who has his own ideas about foreign aid, and acts accordingly.
An impressed chamber of commerce audience last night found much to favor Lamoreaux's methods over the government's foreign aid handouts.
PAGE LAMOREAUX sells cars in Napa, California, operates a ranch in Klamath County, and travels the world looking for alert young men he can start in business for themselves. He uses loans, not gifts.
"These people don't want big jobs of money," Lamoreaux told 169 persons at the chamber's annual meeting in the Willard Hotel. "They want a little bit of money, and know-how."
With little bits of money, $3,000 to $5,000 or sometimes $10,000, Lamoreaux and his associates have started or enlarged small businesses in the Communist-ruled half of the world. He and his friends have helped a goat-hair coat maker in Lebanon, a spring coil manufacturer in Turkey, a retail furniture seller in Greece, a steel chair fabricator in India, an ice cream bar maker in Thailand.
The relationship is strictly business—but business with a magnanimous heart. Lamoreaux's "little bits of money" create a 50-50 partnership with the foreign manufacturer. When the manufacturer is able to repay the loan, the business belongs to him. Lamoreaux International, as the organization is called, uses the money somewhere else.
WHY DOES HE and his associates do this?
Since World War II, he said, 23 new nations gained independence. Each of these nations chose some democratic form of government; none went Communist. But these nations have problems.
"People in one-third of the world are hungry. In one-fourth of the world, people earn less than $50 a year, and have a life expectancy of 36 years.
"This is the problem. It is not Quemo, not Matsu, not Berlin. The world is in a state of rising expectation," Lamoreaux said.
To help this expectation become fact, the U.S. has poured into foreign countries 70 billion dollars since 1946. "It's your money," said Lamoreaux, a fiftyish man who looks like a college football coach, as he leaned over the rostrum and pointed a finger at his intent listeners. "But I have news for you. We didn't buy very much with that. People out there don't like you very well."
We didn't buy much, he said, because we didn't send any instructions with our money and our aid. "People want technical help." A government shipment of wheat to India rotted in open storage places and sprouted "stuff we wouldn't feed to cattle." Women gleaned wheat spilled on the highways, took it home and cooked it. "It didn't taste very good."

ance is lodgepole pine, grazing, meadow, marsh or brushlands.
Size of the Modoc Point unit is listed as 56,389 acres. Of this amount, 47,506 acres consists of reserve sawtimber and 4,051 acres grazing land. The balance is lodgepole pine, meadow, brush or waste-lands.
There was no indication by Earle Wilcox, who returned here from Washington, D.C., for today's bid opening, when a decision might be made on the request for extension.
Wilcox indicated that such a decision could be made by the Area Director, Don C. Foster, in Portland, or might have to be made by the secretary of the interior.
The one unit which received no bids was the Sycan which is composed of 61,611 acres. 35,683 acres of this unit is listed as reserve sawtimber, 15,292 acres as lodgepole pine and 4,961 acres as virgin sawtimber. The balance is grazing, meadow, brush or water-lands.
Following the opening of bids, Wilcox announced that the next sale would be held on April 1 for seven additional units.
Four more units will be up for sale on August 1.
Provision of the recently enacted legislation stipulates that any of the reservation lands unsold to private interests will be purchased by the federal government in an amount not to exceed 90 million dollars.

Dance Studio Burglarized

Burglars entered the Thurston Dance Studio headquarters in the basement of the Winema Hotel Tuesday night. Nothing was disturbed or stolen, however.
The breakin was discovered Wednesday morning by Mrs. Arthur LeCour, who works there. She said she tried to get in, but found the door was locked from the inside. A hotel custodian removed the door hinges.
Investigation showed the culprits entered through a rear window. They apparently sifted through the room's contents, and finding nothing of value to them, left via the window.
Police also received a report Wednesday of the theft of seven boxes of vinyl floor tiles from Ross Gilkison of Medford, a contractor working on the new addition to Sacred Heart Academy. Gilkison said the tile was worth $8.50 per box.
Other cases handled by city police included an act of vandalism and an auto accident.
Mrs. J. W. Beard, 311 Lytton Street, said vandals poked three large holes in the fuel tank of her car while it was parked Tuesday evening in the driveway of her home.
A car registered to Louie Grischowski, 3317 Boardman Avenue, rolled from its parking place near the Moose Lodge on Pine Street Wednesday afternoon and struck a panel delivery truck owned by Daniel J. Hueber, 1111 Washburn Way, which also was parked. Little damage resulted.
Grischowski posted $5 bail on a charge of failure to park his car securely.

Judge Rules For Demurrer

District Judge D. E. Van Vactor ruled favorably Thursday on a demurrer filed on behalf of Leslie Edward Price, 42, Chemult, accused of stealing an air horn from a lumber truck owned by W. M. Raymond.
The demurrer argued by Attorney David R. Vandenberg Jr. maintained the state's complaint inadequately described the property allegedly stolen.
As a result a dismissal motion will be filed in the case. Price, freed on $250 bail, was to have entered his plea Thursday.

4 Appointed To Boards

The county court Wednesday named four appointments to boards and commissions.
Lester Offield of Klamath Falls was reappointed to the County Budget Board for a term expiring January 1, 1963.
Three replacements were named. M. G. Burke of Bonanza was named to the dog commission to serve until further order of the court, replacing Harry Wiard, resigned.
Jim O'Donahue, Klamath Falls, was appointed to the museum commission for term expiring January 1, 1963, replacing Oliver Spiker, who desired not to serve again.
Margaret Whitlatch of Bonanza was named to the library board for a term expiring January 1, 1963, replacing Mrs. Mildred Campbell, resigned.

3 From County To Be Paroled

Three penitentiary prisoners from Klamath County are to be paroled in February, the State Board of Parole and Probation has announced.
They are Jack Gordon, sentenced in April 1956 to 20 years for statutory rape; James Wallace Cash, sentenced in January 1951 to 15 years for forgery, and Edmund Mason Arterburn, sentenced last March to three years for forgery.

Star Witness Was Afraid

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An ex-convict hired to kill a surgeon's wife today testified he was afraid defendant Dr. R. Bernard Finch would try to kill him if he ever got the opportunity.
Star prosecution witness John (Slick Jack) Cody, under cross-examination by defense attorney Grant Cooper, detailed a conversation with the socialite doctor at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas.
Cody has testified he was hired by Finch, 42, and his pretty red-haired girl friend, Carole Tregoff, 23, to shoot Mrs. Barbara Finch and eliminate the third person in a love triangle.
The witness said he met Finch in the hotel after making one trip to Los Angeles and failing to carry out his death mission.
The doctor tried to persuade him to return and carry out the murder, Cody said, but he countered by offering "fatherly advice" that they abandon the plan.
Cody said he asked Finch if it was worth it to murder his wife if he really loved Carole. The admitted master liar said he counseled the surgeon to go away and start life anew with Carole without killing his wife.

Star Witness Was Afraid

Although this timber is geographically tributary to the Klamath Basin, it is readily accessible, also, to operators in other areas," McCracken pointed out in summarizing the information. "The Klamath Basin cannot possibly expect to get the entire volume listed for its own operation."
McCracken thanked the government officials for their attendance and detailed information. Local operators also expressed their appreciation at being able to get the complete picture of timber supply. Many expressed the wish that a meeting of this type might be held annually.
Before the meeting closed, the problem came up of timber hauling over the Diamond Lake Highway which is closed to commercial log-hauling. This road, built primarily for recreation access, presently does not have either the sub-surface or the surface construction necessary to allow commercial loads of logs to be transported over it.
This is a major problem to the Klamath Basin, it was pointed out, insofar as assuring the basin its proper share of the timber volumes being sold now and in the future within the Diamond Lake ranger district of the Umpqua National Forest.

Autoist Flees From Officer

TULELAKE—Driver of a 1958 Chevrolet, reported stolen in Sacramento in December 1959, is being sought by California and Oregon highway patrol officers.
Capt. James B. Booth, Yreka highway patrol officer, reported Thursday that the car was stopped on January 20 by a highway patrolman on U.S. Highway 97 near Grass Lake, California for a check on a traffic violation.
The driver, Thomas R. Scott, Honon, California, and two unidentified male passengers, were directed to Justice Court in Dorris, followed by the officer's car. En route, as the patrolman pursued to radio the Yreka highway officer for information on the car, Scott, driving at high speed escaped.
Investigation indicated he turned off on a side road, drove through sparsely settled country in the Bray - Tennant - Macdoel areas, stopped at two ranches for directions and drove into Oregon after reaching the California-Oregon line.
Six patrol cars had failed to locate Scott by nightfall.
