

Natural Gas To Be Reality In KF Area

Natural gas service for Klamath Falls should become a reality in another year and a half, perhaps sooner.

So says California-Pacific Utilities Company, a distributor of propane-air gas now serving the city.

California-Pacific, through vice president and general manager M. E. Sands of Medford, said it has a commitment for service from a Canada-to-California pipeline to be constructed by the Pacific Gas Transmission Company.

The 36-inch pipeline would pass through Klamath County en route south. California-Pacific would tap the line at its point nearest Klamath Falls — between Beatty and Dairy—and feed a smaller line to the Klamath Falls city limits. The distance would be an estimated 18 miles from the main line to the city.

California-Pacific's manager here, Ernest "Moon" Mullis, said the company plans to extend its service line through Klamath Falls into the Rogue River Valley to serve Ashland, Medford, and Grants Pass.

California-Pacific is now negotiating with El Paso for service to the valley. Service to Klamath Falls, agreed upon by El Paso, is subject to Federal Power Commission approval.

Mullis said a survey of estimated natural gas needs here and construction needs to reach Klamath Falls was made two years ago and submitted to Pacific Gas Transmission.

The Canada-to-California line would originate in Alberta's gas fields and terminate at Antioch in the San Francisco Bay Area to serve the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Mullis said. Its completion is scheduled for October 1961. California-Pacific may be able to use natural gas from the main line before the 36-inch line itself is completed farther south. This depends largely upon construction progress.

California-Pacific now provides propane-air gas shipped into the city daily by tank car. Consumption varies from one to two cars a day.

PHYSICAL FITNESS is an important part of the YMCA's program. Here, boy Y members 9-10-11 and 12 years of age take part in the program which sets up physical tests in various fields. "Joe" looks on as other youngsters try head stands.

Machine By Wire Service Will Reduce Human Error

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — An electronic device to reduce human error in transmitting news and in setting type by wire has been installed in the Pittsburgh bureau of United Press International.

The equipment, a Photon Clean-type Perforator, lights up like a pinball machine when operators make certain mechanical mistakes while sending the news. It is the first to be used by a press association anywhere in the world.

It informs the operator how to correct his errors and "refuses" to go on unless the mistakes are fixed.

An electronic "memory" helps to simplify and speed up the preparation of news copy for transmission to newspapers.

UPI recently inaugurated a transcontinental "expressway" for news, twin wires which permit instantaneous reception by newspapers across the country. UPI also transmits newspapers electronically. Lines of type must fit exactly the width of a newspaper column. News stories are transmitted in perforated tape which is run through linecasting machines in the newspaper office. The stories are cast into type automatically at a speed much greater than those operated manually.

Because of the human factor, too-long or too-short lines of type sometimes were transmitted. Newspapers then had to re-set the lines. The operator had to remember how many letters and spaces he had to fit into each line. When he caught a mistake, he had to rub out letters or words, still keeping track of the letter count. The Photon device simplifies the task, keeps track of the number of letters and spaces and makes it impossible to send lines that are either too short or too long for a column width. It produces a "clean" tape, one completely free of idling or erasures, speeding line-casting in newspaper plants.

It enables operators to catch and correct errors with virtually no loss in typing speed, provides the operator with a visible copy of how his transmission will appear even before it is transmitted, requires far less keyboard effort than conventional heavy-touch perforators and requires very little learning time for persons who can type. It also takes fewer keystrokes for equivalent copy than current machines.

Gerald J. Rock, eastern division manager of UPI, called the installation "another example of the constant emphasis UPI puts on faster and more accurate transmission of news."

Robert Meeker, eastern division relief chief operator, described it as "one of the greatest advances since development of the line-casting machine."

Assisting in the installation were Daniel F. Smith and Wilfred Colclough of Photon, Inc.

Youngsters Find Program Big Help

The necessity for physical fitness of our youngsters has had its impact on the YMCA's program.

Boys from 9 to 12 find that the local YMCA offers them a well-rounded program for this purpose.

With the expansion of the YMCA's boys work program and the addition to the Y's staff, it is now possible to enroll the local members in the YMCA's National Achievement program.

This program which sets up physical tests in 10 different fields for which a boy may train during the year, is based on the "Cozens Classification Exponent Plan," classifying boys and computing scores on a national basis.

The plan takes into account not only age, but height and weight as well. It provides a measurement for each boy to check his own progress or self-improvement, as well as being used on a group competitive basis. This plan also provides for the large or small YMCA to have an equal chance for recognition.

The 10 testing events are (1) basketball throw (2) pull-ups (3) potato race (4) standing broad jump (5) target throw (6) running broad jump (7) bar vault (8) rope climb (9) standing hop, step and jump and (10) push-ups.

A basic class for boys this age, using the new high bar, rope climb, tumbling mats and trampoline under the leadership of Wes Sine, Dr. Don Thorsness, and Bruce Galloway plus the present group of four assistant leaders in training is currently being conducted Tuesday evenings from 7:15 to 8:30.

Other Y activities for boys this age include participation in family nights, summer camping at Diamond Lake and family camp at Lake of the Woods.

Navy Develops Special Radar

NEW YORK (AP) — The Naval Research Laboratory has developed a radar that can see over the horizon and detect missiles as they are launched from submarines, the New York Times said today.

Within the Navy, it was reported, the system is being viewed as one answer to the increasing threat of missiles launched from a Soviet submarine fleet.

The Navy is hailing the development as one of the most significant breakthroughs in radar technology since radar was developed at the naval laboratory in the 1930s, a Washington dispatch to the Times added.

The new radar, the story said, has been given the code name of Project Madre—standing for Magnetic Drum Receiving Equipment, a key component in the system.

The Times said one outgrowth of the Madre approach has been Project Teepee, a system being worked on by the Navy for inter-continental detection of missile launchings or nuclear explosions in the atmosphere. The Defense Department disclosed the existence of Project Teepee last summer.

Here, in part, is the Times report on Project Madre: The new device can bend its beam over the horizon to pick up moving targets as far away as 2,600 miles.

Pair Crusade For Chessman

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Two men, one from Portland, now are crusading on bread and water in an effort to save Caryl Chessman from the death penalty he already has evaded for 11 years.

Chessman, author of a best-selling novel, has delayed his death through his own legal study and by using earnings from his novel to pay counsel.

Donald Cohen, 37, bearded, 250-pound bit actor, went on an 11-day bread and water diet and prayer campaign on behalf of Chessman.

Cohen opened his campaign Sunday night, two days after a similar one by Bruce Bloomfield, 24, of Portland. Bloomfield is a mathematics teaching assistant at the University of California.

Cohen also said he is writing three letters daily to Gov. Edmund Brown of California. Any one who wishes to join him or observe him at prayer must agree to write a letter to the California chief executive, he said.

Students initiated were James Griener, Elva Bratton, James Cogburn, Kathy Wallis, Judy Barry, Terry Linecum, Carole Tainter and Charla Waterhouse.

Mayor Of Dorris Declines To Run

DORRIS — Mayor Bob Edgar of Dorris has announced he will not be a candidate for the city council in April.

Edgar was first elected to the council in April of 1956 and served as water commissioner until a special meeting of the board September 4, 1958, when Herb Gordon, mayor, resigned. Edgar was unanimously elected by other members of the board to fill the vacancy created by Gordon's resignation.

Mayor Edgar gave as his reasons for leaving the council his plans to start building a new home this spring on property outside the Dorris city limits, west of town. He said that will make him ineligible to serve on the council.

Edgar is the owner and operator of the Butte Valley telephone system.

Mexico is made up of 20 states, two territories and a federal district — the equivalent of the District of Columbia in the U.S.
