Paraplegic Still Hunts And Farms

TUSTIN, Mich. (UPI)—William Oeverman Jr. is determined to keep up with the rigorous job of farming—and his favorite sport of hunting—despite a crippling setback.

The 36-year-old Oeverman has been a paraplegic for two years. His back was broken and he was permanently paralyzed from the waist down in a tractor accident.

But this fall, Oeverman made a giant stride back to normal activity when a new tractor arrived at his farm. The vehicle has hand controls, protective roll bars and a safety belt.

The tractor will permit Oeverman to work on a cooperative basis with his neighbors. They will do much of the hand work on his farm and in return he will use his tractor on their land.

Meanwhile, a special permit from the State Conservation Department allows Oeverman to go hunting right from his car. "I'm not really at a big disadvantage," he says. "I've got a radio, heater and roof over me while the other hunters have to be out in the cold."

Oeverman also has a saddle horse on the farm which can take him where his wheelchair won't. He can accomplish this by hooking himself to either side of the saddle with leather straps.

HAMBURGER IS RUSSIAN?
CHICAGO (UPI)—The Russians really did invent something—and it's more American than baseball, cowboys and chewing gum. It's the hamburger. William R. Sandberg, vice president of a drive-in firm (Henry's Drive-In, Inc., Chicago), said the hamburger got its name from the German city of Hamburg and that "the Hamburg traders brought it back from the Baltic provinces of Russia."

Railroad Merger Derails Pet Dog

VICTORIA, Va. (UPI)—Merging the Norfolk and Western and Virginian Railways has forced a pet dog to change a habit of 12 years.

The dog, a pet of Virginian workers, used to lie between the rails just ahead of the stopping point for locomotives pulling in here to change crews.

But somebody forgot to tell the pooch that trains wouldn't be stopping there any more. The day after the two lines combined, an angry worker called N&W General Superintendent W. S. Clement to tell him:

"You've got to do something about our dog. This morning one of your fast freights came through here at 50 miles an hour and nearly killed him."

The pet was tied up after that.

TOO HOT TO HANDLE
HOLYOKE, Mass. (UPI)—Firemen were called to the home of Donald DePampllis on a report that the kitchen was aflame. The family's spaghetti dinner had been placed on the stove in a plastic collander.

matter of FACT

Because the Indians sometimes used the red juice of the bloodroot plant for face paint or dye, it is also known as "Indian paint" or "red puccoon." It gets its commonest name from the fact that an orange-red fluid that looks somewhat like blood oozes from the root and stems when they are broken. The plant is a member of the poppy family, and is one of the earliest spring flowers in the woods of the eastern U.S. and Canada.
