Attack On Sen. Johnson Strengthens His Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fresh attack by Americans for Democratic Action appeared today to have strengthened the position of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) as a middle of the road presidential hopeful.

The ADA's action Monday in singling out Johnson as "a symbol of compromise and political opportunism" and therefore, it said, unfit for his party's presidential nomination, secretly delighted the friends of the Senate Democratic leader.

They reasoned that, by implication at least, the ADA had said all others of those prominently mentioned to head the ticket could be grouped as liberals. This would tend to separate Johnson from the general flock of major candidates, including Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo.).

Johnson's supporters think his three colleagues are likely to force each other into taking some extremely liberal positions on national issues before the nominating convention meets in Los Angeles next July. They count on middle of the road Democrats from the North and the West to react and to supplement the Southern strength Johnson will carry into the convention.

While his colleagues are out campaigning much of the time, Johnson will be busy supervising the writing of what he calls a responsible Democratic record in Congress. He says he will let the voters judge whether that record is progressive.

Singing Chief Slates Visit

Local Sweet Adelines announce the coming visit of Mrs. Nancy Bergman, international executive secretary of Sweet Adelines, Inc. Mrs. Bergman will stop over in Klamath Falls on Thursday, January 28, on her way to the Puget Sound Chapter Show in Seattle, from Sweet Adelines Headquarters in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

In addition to being executive secretary of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Mrs. Bergman has many other credits to her name in the world of barbershop singing. She was a member of "The Mississippi Misses," first place quartet in the 1954 International Sweet Adelines contest. She is an approved judge in the arrangement category, and is a composer and arranger. Besides composing and arranging "Harmonize The World," the Sweet Adelines' international song, she has made many approved quartet arrangements.

Mrs. Bergman has also won honors in the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. She was coach and arranger for the "Gaynotes," who were third place winners in 1957 and first place winners in 1958 at the society's international contest.

The local chapter of Sweet Adelines has arranged a banquet in her honor to be held at the Willard Hotel Thursday night, January 28, as well as a no host luncheon Thursday noon at Bing's Cafe.

Year's Probation Is Revoked

Probation was revoked in circuit court Monday for Richard Elsworth Davison, 23, 813 Pine Street, who had been given one year's probation June 30 on a bad check charge.

Judge David R. Vandenberg revoked probation because Davison had failed to make complete restitution in the allotted time, had failed to maintain steady employment, and was continuing to write bad checks.

If he can engineer it, this will include Senate passage of an aid to education bill which may be broadened beyond mere school construction provisions.

Johnson supported teacher salary aid in a bill the Senate passed in 1949. He apparently is prepared to do so again. His backing could help a group of 22 Democrats, most of whom class themselves as liberals, write an amendment of this nature into the bill which will be considered soon.

The Democratic leader has pledged passage of civil rights, minimum wage and housing measures. He probably will support any bill the House approves for expansion of social security coverage and benefits.

The ADA's assertion that "the Democratic party would be failing in its responsibility to the nation" if it gave the voters only a choice between Johnson and Vice President Richard M. Nixon brought a sharp report from Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The ADA said Nixon had earned the support of GOP "ultra conservatives" by his "record in high office as well as by the kind of tactics which he has used in every campaign with which he has been associated."

Dirksen said this was the kind of comment that could be expected from an organization that advocated legislative programs "which would bankrupt the nation and intrude government deeper and deeper into the affairs of the people."

Dibben took one look at his recently-hired employee — and proposed.

Then he took her out and bought her a pair of spectacles.
