

Divers Find Large Fish

LAUSALLE, Switzerland (UPI)—The divers who plunged to a depth of seven miles in the Pacific Ocean in a U. S. Navy experiment last week found fairly sizeable fish living at that depth, it was reported today.

Prof. Auguste Piccard, himself an authority on high altitudes and deep dives, said his son, Jacques, saw a 12-inch fish "merrily swimming along" at a depth of about 33,000 feet during the Navy-sponsored bathyscaphe dive.

Piccard said a fish of that size, swimming at that depth, would be subjected to a pressure of 300 tons—"the weight of two big railway engines."

"It had been generally assumed that no life could exist at great submarine depths because of the immense water pressure," Piccard said. "This assumption was erroneous."

India Fetes Independence, But Many Problems Loom

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India celebrated its 10 years of independence today with pomp but with problems looming at home and troubles lurking over the Himalayas.

It was exactly 30 years ago that Jawaharlal Nehru, then a 40-year-old insurgent, moved the resolution in the Congress party's annual convention declaring India's goal was complete freedom from Britain.

It was Nehru, on the same date 21 years later, who inaugurated a republican constitution. The British had left 31 months earlier, on Aug. 15, 1947.

Today President Rajendra Prasad takes the salute at a three-mile long procession which will end at the red sandstone fort which housed Mogul imperial headquarters.
