Carol Heiss Wins Fourth Straight Figure Skate Crown

SEATTLE (AP)—Carol Heiss, comely and competent, won her fourth consecutive national figure skating championship Friday night and learned she will lead the American women's skating team to the Winter Olympics.

Neither event was a surprise to the capacity crowd of 5,000, which also saw Nancy and Ronald Ludington of Nancy retain their national senior pairs title and Douglas Ramsay of Detroit win the junior men's championship.

The Olympic Skating Selection Committee announced the three leaders in the senior ladies event and the three leading pairs would form three-fourths of the U.S. team.

David Jenkins of Colorado Springs is favored to win his fourth national title.

Barbara Ann Roles of San Francisco placed second to Miss Heiss and Laurance Owen, 15-year-old Bostonian, was third, rounding out the women's team.

Second to the Ludingtons in senior pairs were Maribel Owen and Dudley Richards of Boston, the brother and sister, and Third place was taken by a Seattle-Ray Hadley Jr.
