

Malin C Of C Plans Feed

MALIN — The Malin Chamber of Commerce at its recent regular meeting made plans for the annual crab feed to be held Monday, February 22, at the Broadway Hall starting at 7 p.m. Yearly dues of $5 will admit one couple to the feed.

The nominating committee, William Rajnus, Hank O'Keefe and Ed Petrask, presented the names for the ballots to vote for the 1960 board of directors. Ballots have been mailed to all 1959 chamber members.

The following names appear on the ballots: Bob Victorin, Ralph Stearns, Dr. Craig Pearson, Paul McCulley, Merle Loosley, Gene Evans, Earl Wilson, William Alers, Wayne Rick and Bill Dalton Jr. Five will be elected directors for a two-year term.

Names of the 1960 officers for the chamber of commerce will be chosen at the next meeting and announced at the crab feed.

President Jim Conroy announced the sportsmanship trophy, previously donated by Wayne Fisk, will be donated by Malin merchants. The trophy is awarded each year at the crab feed.

Famous Clown Tops Program

RED BLUFF — Slim Pickens, famed rodeo clown and Tex Williams, western singer, will head the entertainment program at the 19th annual Red Bluff Bull Sale Feb. 4-6.

Pickens is also a movie and television actor currently appearing in a Walt Disney series. Williams became famous with his rendition of "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette."

The sale will be preceded on Wednesday, Feb. 3, at 10 a.m. when loose pen lots of Hereford and Shorthorn bulls will be judged. In the evening, consignors and commercial cattlemen will meet with other experts at the fairgrounds for a dinner and discussion.

The judging and grading of horned and polled Herefords will take place at 8 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 4. In the evening, the Red Bluff Chamber of Commerce will be host at a buffet dinner, refreshment hour, dance and entertainment at the Tremont Hotel.

Judging and grading of 90 Angus bulls is set for Friday at 8 a.m. At noon, Slim Pickens, assisted by Williams, will auction off a registered Angus bull donated by Mr. and Mrs. William T. Beaton of Napa.

Proceeds will go to the March of Dimes. The Bull Sale, in the past 18 years, has raised over $100,000 for this cause.

Sale of Angus and Shorthorn bulls starts at 1:30 p.m.

"Cattlemen of the Year" from California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington will be honored at a Friday night banquet along with Fred Dressler of Gardnerville, Nev. Dressler is first vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association and expected to be its new head.

Pickens and Williams will also be on this program along with Biggie Kanae, who made a hit at last year's sale. Kanae is bringing Billie's Beach Boys, the Four Comedines with Spanish and Mexican numbers and Paul Roberts, Hawaiian and Tahitian dancer.

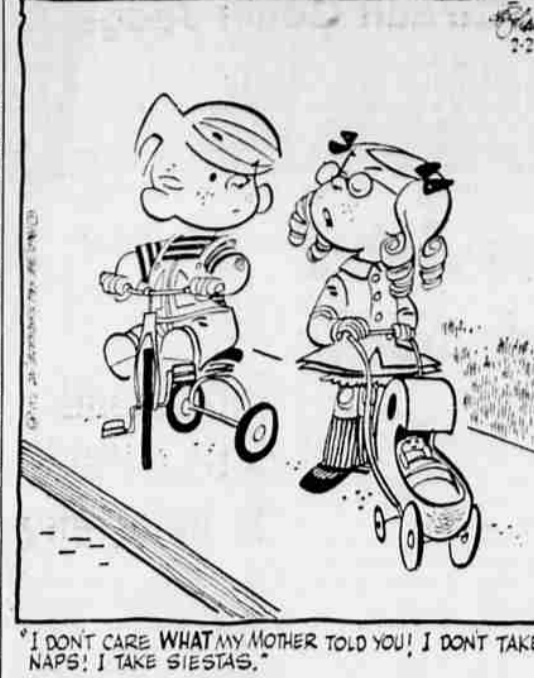

Horned and polled Herefords of service age will be sold as individuals at 9 a.m. Saturday along with pens of two, three and five and loose pens of range bulls.

Charley Adams of Los Angeles and Howard Brown of Woodland will be the auctioneers.

Cow Belles and visiting wives will be entertained at a coffee hour on the fairgrounds from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, and at a buffet luncheon at noon Saturday.

More than 60 per cent of Alabama's total acreage is covered by forests.

Hospital Gear Arrival Set

TULELAKE—Equipment for a 200-bed emergency hospital will arrive February 18 to be stored in readiness in the commercial exhibit building at the Tulelake-Butte Valley Fairgrounds. The equipment to be under direction of the Civil Defense Administration is one of three units in Siskiyou County.

William C. Whitaker, fair board manager, in announcing the plans said that perishables will be stored in refrigerators at the high school through courtesy of the school board and Leroy Coyner, principal.

Included also in the equipment, valued at $100,000, is complete operating room facilities and supplies, a pharmacy unit, dental unit, complete X-ray unit, electric generator, radiograph, fluoroscopic equipment and 10 tons of other emergency hospital necessities.

Whitaker made the arrangements for storage of the unit in this area.

Portland Police Baffled In Dynamiting Of Trucks

PORTLAND (AP) — There were no arrests and few leads, police said today, in the explosions that ripped through 10 trucks which hauled for Portland's two struck daily newspapers.

"This was the work of someone experienced in handling dynamite," said police Lt. Dean Blackwood, who defused a bomb that failed to explode.

The Sunday night blasts tore apart four trucks parked beside a warehouse here and six parked at a warehouse in nearby Oregon City. They were owned by firms which do contract hauling for The Oregonian and the Oregon Journal, struck since Nov. 10 by the Stereotypers Union.

State, city and county police met here to coordinate their investigations. Among their leads: The three-stick dynamite bomb that Blackwood defused, found in the cab of a truck here.

Two other bombs, the dynamite sticks taped together and used, found inside a fence on Portland's East Side, miles from the blast scenes.

A cigarette found at the Oregon City blast area. A state police arson squad investigator said it might have been used to touch off fuses.

The Portland Inter-Union Newspaper Strike Committee said it was shocked by the violence and quickly matched the City Council's $1,000 reward for the arrest of the dynamiters.

The explosions at the Oregon Film Service warehouse here followed by minutes those at the Wymore Trucking Co. in Oregon City.

City Commissioner Stanley East said it appeared that 12 men working in teams used a total of 30 sticks of dynamite to blow up the trucks.

The trucks, used to haul newspaper and newspapers, were empty. There were no injuries and other property suffered little damage.

The truck companies and their Teamsters Union drivers were back hauling for the newspapers yesterday in near-normal fashion after getting more trucks.

The newspapers have continued to publish since the strike began, putting out a joint edition at The Oregonian plant with non-union and supervisory workers.

The Stereotypers struck in a contract renewal dispute over manning jurisdiction, layoff procedures and foremen's union membership. All other newspaper unions observed their picket line and later the Pressmen and Mailers also struck.

Police could find no witnesses to the blasts. In Oregon City, merchant patrolman Alex Woody said he checked the Wymore warehouse area, saw no one, and had just gone a block when the explosions jolted the area.
