Travel Theme Of BPW Meet

DUNSMUIR — Travel was the theme of the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Peggy Walsh, the guest speaker, told anecdotes of her family travels in Europe and showed a small collection of slides.

The speaker was introduced by Marie Glover, program coordinator. Mrs. Glover also decorated the tables for the evening with the assistance of Emilie Gibson and Margaret Cottar. In the spirit of the evening's theme, bone china cups from England were used as centerpieces and imported objects of special interest were displayed at a special table.

David Leighton, cornet player, and Richard Bastiani, pianist, presented special musical selections. Ruth Walter, club president, announced February events as follows: business meeting, February 8; food sale, February 11; card party, February 26; regular dinner meeting, February 29.

Montague Girl Receives Honor

MONTAGUE—Julie Townley, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Townley, recently received recognition from the National Council of Teachers of English, who presented her with an "Achievement Award," after competing in a nationwide high school competitive test in English and literature. Julie, the only winner in California north of San Francisco, was one of 800 students participating in the competition. Her name has now been sent to directors of admission and heads of English departments in all the nation's colleges, with the recommendation that she be given serious consideration for an appropriate scholarship.

Julie, a senior at the Yreka High School, was chosen last year as the American Field Service exchange student and spent last summer in Hansund with a doctor and his family. She also gave the prizewinning speech in a contest last year, sponsored annually by the Lions Club.

BABY SHOWER
