Car Accident Kills Youth

HEPPNER, Ore. (AP)—A car overturned on a wet highway near her Saturday night, killing Bernard Phillip Doherty, 14, Echo, Ore.

Police said the boy was pinned beneath the car when the vehicle veered off the highway and overturned in a roadside ditch.

Police Find Slain Farmer

MADRAS (AP)—The beaten body of a farmer was found beside a road near here Sunday.

The body was that of Gibson Moody, about 42, Warm Springs, and state police said it appeared he was the victim of a murder. Moody was beaten over the head repeatedly, "with what we don't know," police said.

Two Injured

State police said a car with three passengers skidded out of control early Sunday at the Malin-Tulelake junction of Route 39, rolled over on its side, and rammed against a stump in a ditch.

The car was driven by Otis Noble Meader, 2302 Heather Street who told officers he had recently completed a 7,000-mile trip without incident.

This incident occurred shortly before 2 a.m. Sunday on slick pavement.

Two passengers, Mrs. Vernon Adler Meader, 40, and her daughter, Neola Jean Meader, were taken by a passing motorist to Klamath Valley Hospital where they were released. Meader sustained slight scratches, but did not go to the hospital, officers said.

Mothers of Rainbow Girls, Assembly No. 57, will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Scottish Rite Temple. Rainbow Girls, Assembly 57, will have their regular monthly meeting at the same time, same place. There will be initiation practice after the meeting. All girls are urged to attend.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Congress Asked To Begin Gigantic Forest Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has been asked to provide a $22,000,000 start on the biggest improvement program ever undertaken in national forests.

Forest Service spokesmen described the program, which would cost more than a billion dollars over the next 40 years, at a hearing before a House Appropriations subcommittee.

They requested $11,000,000 which, along with $11,000,000 already available, would be used to get the program under way in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The program was termed "Operation Multiple Use" by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Ervin L. Peterson in a statement read by Forest Service Chief Richard E. McArdle.

Stressing a need for conservation and development of the nation's vast timber resources, which are expected to pay for the program, Peterson said many other values would be produced.

They include, he said, "water, which the nation is using in ever-growing volume, grazing for domestic animals, wild game, sports, fishing, recreation and scenery."

"Management's purpose is to provide the maximum attainable values when and where they are wanted and needed and in the available combinations."

"The basic policy of multiple use is to provide the widest range of values from the forests for the greatest number of people... we are calling the program Operation Multiple Use because its purpose is to achieve full development of all the resources of the entire national forest system."

Peterson outlined an ambitious program for the next 10-15 years in the forests which cover 181 million acres of land, mostly in the west. The highlights:

Production of more and better water through intensive management and protection of forest watersheds. This will involve, among other things, stabilization of 10,000 miles of gulches and stream channels, construction of dams for control of erosion of more than a mil-

Hatfield Hits Park Charges

SALEM (AP)—A statement and activities of Gov. Mark Hatfield during a recent visit to the Bledsoe-Coos Bay area have been distorted by the chairman of the Lane County Taxpayers Assn., the governor said Saturday.

Hatfield commented after a news story from Florence, Ore., quoted association president John Hayes as saying the board was "completely stunned" by a Hatfield assertion the governor "could assure the people that his bill for the formation of an Oregon Dunes Park would be passed by Congress and signed by the President."

Hatfield quoted Hayes as having written him recently: "We have complete confidence in your intention of protecting the rights of individuals most affected and if, in your opinion, a park such as you have suggested would benefit the state, we are quite willing to bow to your opinion."

"The new Hayes statement," said Hatfield, "is apparently based upon his present belief that his recent personal statement in support of our position is not acceptable to members of his association and he has chosen to attack the governor and the Committee on Natural Resources in an effort to save face."

Trio Returns From Angling

FORT KLAMATH—February 4, three Fort Klamath residents, Elmore Nicholson, Harold Wimer and son, Don, returned from a steelhead salmon fishing trip to the Illinois River near Grants Pass. While the Klamath Basin was visited by high winds and a heavy snowstorm, they said it rained hard and steadily at their fishing destination. Despite the inclement weather, the two younger members of the trio-caught two fine steelhead salmon in the river where Wimer Sr. had speared many salmon years ago, a method of fishing strictly illegal these days.

Wimer, a pioneer resident of the Wood River Valley, went along on the trip primarily for the purpose of revisiting the scenes of his childhood. He is a native of Selma, four miles from the Illinois River, where the fish were caught, and had not returned to his birthplace for more than 50 years until the recent trip. His family managed a hotel at Selma before moving to Fort Klamath over half a century ago. Wimer has made his home here since that time.

After the passage of 50 years, he said, he found little remaining at Selma of his boyhood memories of the town and its residents, but expressed pleasure in the trip and visit to his home of early days. He has operated the Fort Klamath Garage since 1919. During his absence, his wife, Myrtle, who assists in its management was in charge.
