

ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS IN PICTURES

WELCOME BY CHIEF—Indian Premier Nehru presses palms together in traditional greeting as he passes Naga dancers in New Delhi for the Republic Day fetes.

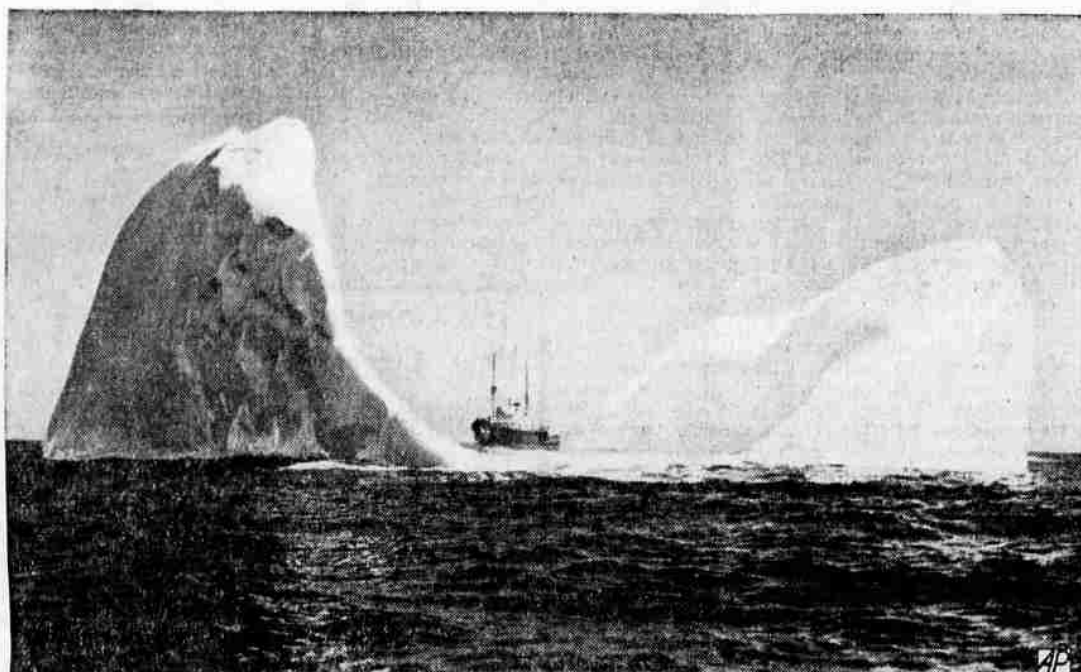

PACKIN' PATROL—A Marine team moves down the ski course on Papoose Peak during their task of compacting snow for Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley.

PRIVATE PREVIEW—Model Avril Humphries consults the mirror before displaying wide-brimmed black Breton hat at London show of spring and summer accessories.

SPRING TONE—John Thomas, world record holder for high jump, is watched by coach Ed Flanagan as he uses weights to exercise leg muscles at Boston gym.

PRETTY BUT DEADLY—The 213-foot seagoing tug Acushnet is dwarfed by iceberg as it makes surface observation. The U. S. Coast Guard has resumed operation of its sea and air ice patrol to protect North Atlantic shipping.

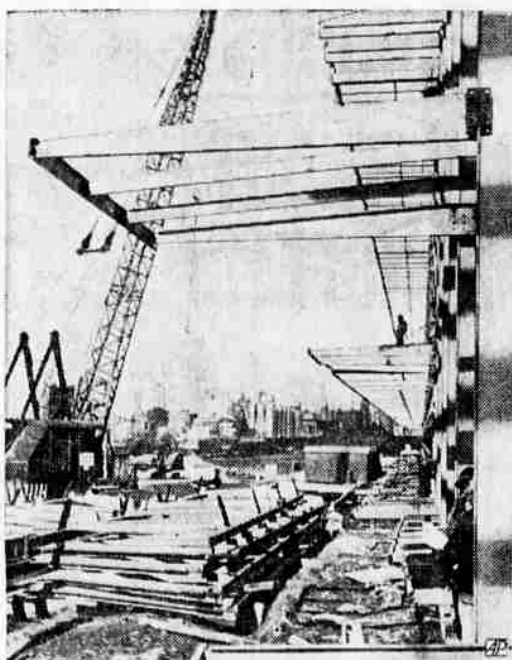

ART STUDY—This French poodle, a frequenter of art galleries, sits quietly as its mistress, Mrs. Anne Hanauer, contemplates a painting at New York showing.

FLORAL QUEEN—Ann Purves holds bouquets of tulips and carnations after she was chosen to rule over the forthcoming international flower show in New York.

WOOL ARMOR—Head covering worn by Glenn Howard Jr., nine, serves a double purpose. It protects him from Denver cold and snowballs of fellow students.

TAKING SHAPE—The steel skeleton of Chicago's new exposition hall rises on the shore of Lake Michigan. Structure is designed to house conventions.

TINY BELLE—Child actress Evelyn Rudie is all decked out in the finery of a dance hall beauty for her role in a forthcoming television episode of "Lawman."

DOUBLE USE—Glossed center stripe of new elevated highway in Dusseldorf, West Germany, provides light for parking below and acts as a divider on surface.

REVOLT AFTERMATH—Workmen smooth out torn up Algiers street prior to returning the paving stones used in insurgents' barricades to their original purpose. Cleanup took place after surrender of rebels protesting President De Gaulle's policies.

BACK AGAIN—Actor Pat Hingle is congratulated by wife, Alyce, on return to Broadway in "The Deadly Game," after his near-fatal accident a year ago.

GRADUATION DRILL—Arab girl parachutists wait for the big moment—their first jump from plane over desert near Cairo. Static cords, to open chutes upon departure, are overhead. Girls are completing an intensive training course in the U.A.R.