

KFAB Jets Swamp Eagles, 106-64

Air Force '5' Maps Plans For Tourney

The Kingsley Air Force Base Jets blasted the young College of Siskiyou's Eagles 106-64 in a basketball game played on the Kingsley gym Friday night. The Jets were led to their impressive total by playing-manager Clarence Peoples who collected 21 points. The entire Jet bench got into action against the inexperienced COS quint which is just completing its first season of competition.

All but two of the Kingsley lineup cracked the scoring column.

The next action comes for KFAB squad Wednesday on the field court when they host the Dunsmuir Demons, the Dunsmuir town team, in a warmup for the Dunsmuir Lions Club Invitational Tournament scheduled there February 27-28.

The Demos will serve as host team for the tourney. An eight team field is expected to enter the event. The tourney is the fourth annual Lions' presentation. All proceeds are earmarked for the March of Dimes.

Among the teams entered is US Plywood club from Redding, led by big Doug McClary, former UW great, and Mike Preseanu, of USF. Other squads include McCalls of Redding, last year's runner-up, the Jolly club of Yreka and Superior Troy, Klamath Falls City League champions.

Last year's tourney champion, Service Pharmacy of Chico, will also be on hand to defend its crown and the Burney Highway five is expected to return their completed entry blank early this week.

Using the test with the Eagles Friday as a good workout, the fast-moving Jet quint, a newcomer to the inter-base basketball scene, sped out to an easy 47-27 edge by the close of the first half of the game.

Spurred by the play-making of Peoples and tiny guard Billy Morton, second with 20 points, plus the backboard work of La-Vern Brown and Chauncey Scott, the Fliers had no trouble adding 56 tallies in the second stanza.

Coach George Mazzei's COS quint was paced by Mike Lowery who hit for 19 points and Jim Cunningham who added 14.

Peoples and Bill Baxter each collected nine field goals for the Jets, and Peoples added a perfect 3-3 at the foul line. Morton hit eight from the floor and registered 4-4 at the gift stripe.

The boxscore:

COS (64) — Lowery 19, Heinke, Cunningham 14, Gordon 10, China 10, Lill 10, L. Perez, Jordan 11, Ridgeway 4, Jets (106) — Gordon 4, Ramos, J. Brown 9, Scott 11, Chessnut 7, L. Brown 13, Paine, Baxter 18, Matsuo 3, Compton, Peoples 21, Morton 20.

CAGE TOURNAY PLANNERS — The Columbian Squires of Modoc Circle 226, Klamath Falls, are preparing for the coming State Squires Basketball Tournament to be held here on March 12 and 13. Boys from all over Oregon will compete in the tourney with trophies being awarded to the first and second place teams. The Klamath Falls team placed second last year. Sitting left to right are Bob Maloney, chief squire; Jerry DeNault, post marshal; Dan Folk, notary; John Novak, bursar; John Lynch, counselor, and Frank Jakobowski, chief counselor.

World Marks Finally Fall In AAU Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Irvin (Bob) Roberson smashed the world indoor broad jump record—the oldest on the books—with a leap of 25 feet, 9 1/2 inches Saturday night and Hal Connolly shattered the record in the 35-pound weight throw with a toss of 71 feet, 2 1/2 inches in the National AAU Track and Field Championships.

It was a quarter of a century ago that Jesse Owens set the indoor mark of 25-9 in this same meet.

Roberson, an ex-Cornell football player and now officer at Fort Lee, Va., still has a long way to go before he can challenge Owens' outdoor broad jump record of 26-3/4 which also was set in 1935.

The weight throw record by the 28-year old English teacher from Santa Monica, Calif., cracked another "impossible" barrier in track and field, just like the four-minute mile and the 60-foot shotput.

Thus, just 11 years after Army's Jim Sholtz became the world's first 60-footer, Connolly became the first weight-thrower to get over 70 feet.

The listed world record is 66-2 1/4, set in this meet last year by Bob Backus of the New York Athletic Club.

Backus, who had won the title the past six years, had 68-2 1/4.

That "Winter Madness," basketball, if you please, is still upon us . . . and it appears that it won't be over (I'm glad) until at least the midway part of March . . . but here comes baseball, and track.

All but one of the county cage squads have hung up their gear until next season . . . and that one, the Malin Mustangs, must pursue diligently, the State B basketball championship, more power to them.

The Pelicans appear to have an appointment in Eugene on March 15 . . .

But, I can't keep baseball from crowding in. Right now I have sixteen galaxies of copy begging to be used—all baseball. These are written, tongue-in-cheek style, by the sixteen American and National League managers who each go to great lengths to explain just how they will win their respective pennants next season.

An analysis of their works proves that all eight teams in each league will wind up in the top division (there's room for four) and of these, six will play in the 1960 World Series. . . . And I'll sell tickets.

Here in our own neighborhood . . . a pair of embryo major league stars will go into orbit next month. Dorris' Mike Branham (see story page 2b) will start his career at Pocatello in class C ball while Weed's Kim Bradshaw will pick up a glove and bat for the Modesto Reds of the NY Yankee farm system.

Bradshaw, according to Lucile Gaynor, our Weed correspondent, recently signed with NY for an undisclosed bonus sum. Kim and his wife Judi will stay in Corvallis until his graduation from OSC and then they will travel to the spring training camp.

A Beaver outfielder for three years, Bradshaw was the NCAA's top base-stealer across the nation last season. He also hit a cool .421. The Yank's northwest scout, Eddie Taylor, gets the credit for the acquisition of Bradshaw.

Oh, yes—Bradshaw was the leading sticker on the Drain Black Sox national championship nine last year.

Got a shock the other day . . . received a call from Harry Glesin, an avid sports fan and booster who operates Herman's Mens Wear as a sideline, who reported the Mills Little League Ball Park that so many of our good people spent a lot of hours on last summer, had been turned into a racetrack (as such).

It seems that at least two "would-be Barney Oldfields" figured out a way to get their automobiles inside the park and had a veritable ball squirreling around the base paths. It's a six-two and even bet that said race-drivers never made a trip around the bases as a result of smashing a liner over the shortstop's head when they were young, (or, younger). They, naturally, need a car. . . . And probably a haircut!

More letters:

This one co-signed by Larry Bunyard, co-captain of the 1959 Pelican football team and president of the "K" Club, and Marti MacBeth, a high school senior on the distaff side. . . .

They say . . . (in part) . . . "We are speaking of the 20 girls on the Pelicanette Drill Team who perform at halftime during varsity basketball games. These girls have not gained the recognition that we feel they deserve. If it were the boys participating in a sport no doubt they would have gained much publicity and recognition for the time and effort they put forth . . . an athletic performance that weekend gets his picture in the sports section, yet there has never been one reference made to these girls . . . and they put out just as much effort

JO Mentor Sets Clinic

All Klamath baseball coaches are invited to attend a special baseball clinic scheduled for Pelican Court at Klamath Union High School from 7 until 10 p.m. on both Wednesday and Thursday, February 24 and 25.

University of Oregon coach Don Kirsch will preside over the session assisted by Klamath Union High coaches Bob Williams and Bill Mansfield.

A $1 registration fee will be charged all attending. The registration charge, which will be used to defray the expenses involved in the clinic, will admit persons to both sessions.

Anyone interested in baseball, either from a coaching or official capacity is urged to attend.

Kirsch's visit is being sponsored by the Klamath Falls Park and Recreation Department, which especially urges Babe Ruth and Little League coaches to participate in the clinic.

Persons planning on attending the two-night affair are asked to register prior to Wednesday evening by either calling the Park and Recreation Office at TU 5-3863 or stopping into the office in the city hall.

Owl Matmen Stun Humboldt

The Oregon Tech matmen came through with an impressive victory over Humboldt State 23-5 in a rematch with the 'Jacks in the Owl gym Saturday morning. OTI's Wendell Winterbottom provided the biggest individual success when he decided previously undefeated Allen Hagerstrand in the 177-pound weight division.

Winterbottom's victory avenged an earlier 11-8 defeat by Hager-strand suffered three weeks ago at Arcata. Winterbottom spotted the California state champion 10 pounds by stepping out of his usual 167-pound division.

Winterbottom held the Oregon state prep championship at his weight in 1959 while Hagerstrand wore the same mantle for the state of California.

Tech grappler Dave Kubesh kept his undefeated string intact for the season when he pinned Lumberjack Ron Kunstat in 1:01 of the initial round. Kubesh, who wrestles in the 137-pound department, is the only Owl with an unblemished record.

John Weaver outpointed Jerry Davis of Humboldt in the 123 weight despite a severe eye injury suffered in the first round.

The Lumberjacks picked up their five points in the final event when heavyweight John Bodell pinned Owl Lyle Fowler in 6:27 although Fowler was ahead on points at the time, 11-10.

The results:

123: John Weaver (O) dec. Jerry Davis (H) 11-4

130: Dan Shamion (O) dec. Ron Davis (H) 7-1

137: Dave Kubesh (O) pinned Ron Kunstat (H) 1:01

147: Hal McCune (O) dec. Harold Crovinton (H) 4-0

157: Hank Williams (O) dec. Fred Whitmore (H) 4-0

167: Gary Spence (O) dec. Gene Van Horn (H) 16-5

177: Wendell Winterbottom (O) dec. Allen Hagerstrand (H) 3-1

Hey We: John Bobbell (H) pinned Lyle Fowler (O) 6:27

Final score: OTI 23, Humboldt State 5

Little Nellie Fox Highest Priced Sox

By JOE MOOSHLI
CHICAGO (AP) — Diminutive Nellie Fox, an inspiration to little guys, has agreed to play baseball with the Chicago White Sox this year for something like $50,000.

The American League's most valuable player, whose energetic determination helped win a pennant, now becomes the highest paid player in White Sox history.

Not only does the little second baseman have the laugh on the wags who claim that home run hitters eat steaks and single hitters eat cold cuts, but he also has earned the praise of his bosses.

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Oregon State College lost a game in the final seconds Friday night 68-62 to the University of Southern California.

The game was tied 11 times with 2 minutes and 50 seconds to go. Jerry Pimm of Southern Cal then hit on a jump shot and a pair of gift tosses to give his team the contest.

Then Ken Stanley, 6-foot-5 Southern Cal sophomore, added two more gift tosses and a layin that made it 68-60. Karl Anderson broke through with a layin for Oregon State, but only seconds were left.

Jay Carly of Oregon State staged a one-man show that had regained the lead early in the second half after Southern Cal took command at the intermission 37-34. He scored nine points that put Oregon State ahead 43-41 with 5 minutes gone in the second half.

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Oregon, defeated tenaciously and hand-cuffed Washington a 57-41 basketball defeat here Friday night.

Washington was able to get off only 42 shots from the field and sink only 14 of those for a .333 average. Oregon, ranked 10 nationally in defense, sank 19 of 57 for a .333 also.

After a close first half that ended with Oregon ahead 19-18, Washington turned cold and was unable to score from the field for two minutes of the second half. During that time senior Chuck Rask sank 6 of 10 points his team scored for a 29-19 margin. Washington never again caught up.

Rask led all scorers with 18 and spearheaded Oregon's defensive play. The victory made up for a 63-56 Washington victory last month in Seattle.

Buckeyes Clip MSC 84-83

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Ohio State, fourth ranked nationally, had to fight down to the last second Saturday night to edge Michigan State 84-83 and continue a headlong rush toward the Big Ten basketball title.

Defending conference champion Michigan State pressed and fought all the way, and trailed only by a point at the half, 46-45.

Ohio State had an 82-79 lead with 51 seconds left but Lance Olson stole the ball for MSU and cut the lead to 82-81 with 21 seconds left.

Michigan State's Horace Walker got in one final basket in the last seven seconds to account for the final score.

The game was a scoring duel all the way between Jerry Lucas, 6-foot-8 sophomore, and Walker, 6-foot-3 senior. Lucas outscored Walker, 28 to 23 points.

Connolly Sets Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Hal Connolly, the Olympic hammer throw champion competing for the Southern California Striders, got off a world record heave of 71 feet, 2 1/2 inches—the first time the 71-foot mark has been broken—today and won the National AAU 35-pound weight throw.

"FOUL WEATHER" WINNER — Ann Baxter, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Baxter of Klamath Falls, won the trophy she is holding in her first competition in women's division. Shooting free style, she took top spot in the 125 women's class at the "foul weather" Valentine invitational meet at Grants Pass, hosted by Siskiyou Bow Hunters, of that city. The Baxters are a good example of the possible enjoyment of archery as a sport for the entire family.

KF Bowmen Earn Trophies

Five archers out of the seven from Klamath Falls who attended last Sunday's foul weather archery meet at Grants Pass brought home trophies.

The Valentine's Day foul weather shoot attracted more than 40 archers from around the state.

Local winners were Murlie Hodges, who placed second in the 325 class, and his wife, Esther Hodges, who placed second in the 125 class, and three first place wins taken by the Baxter family. Dale Baxter won in the 250

'Cats, Frosh Both Gain Cage Splits

The Klamath Union Wildcat and Freshmen basketball crews split a pair of rigid cage games against Tulelake, Medford and Central Point over the weekend.

Coach Hank Smith's Wildcats weathered a second half Medford surge to earn a 50-42 victory on Pelican Court Saturday. The win avenged a 64-49 whipping by Tulelake in a game played Friday on the winners map. 'Cat Sherman Allen walked away with high honors in yesterday's contest with 13 tallies. Tulelake's Ron Long set the scoring pace in Friday's tussle by nabbing 21 counters.

Coach Bob Johnson's Frosh squad downed the Tulelake JV's Friday night, 47-33 behind the sparkling 22 point performance by Grover Dahn. The Frosh ran out of steam in yesterday's game with Central Point and found themselves on the short end of a 67-38 score. Crater's Mike Glines collected 20 points to lead all scorers in the game played on the Crater's court.
